Income Tax Bill Passes

. . . ON 26-23 VOTE

The Legislature Tuesday approved on a 26-23 vote a flat-rate state income tax bill, climaxing decades of struggle over the issue of a broadened tax base.

The measure, LB797, sponsored by Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln, received one vote more than the number needed to win legislative enactment.

Sens. Fred Carstens of Beatrice and Chet Paxton of Thedford, neither of whom would commit themselves until the final roll call count, cast the deciding votes.

Veto Threat

The bill ran into the immediate threat of a gubernatorial veto, but Gov. Frank Morrison indicated later in the day that it may be possible to meet his expressed objections

LB797 would enact an individual and corporate income tax to replace the state property tax as of Jan 1, 1967.

The rate would be applied against net income of corporations and the taxable income of individuals as provided in the federal income tax law. Individuals would receive $600 exemptions for each dependent, and could deduct expenses for medical care, taxes, charitable contributions and interest payments.

Carstens, Paxton Explain Ballots

SEE STORY PAGE 26.

The rate has been estimated between two and three percent. Bauer said a 2.2% levy would have been needed to meet expenses in the coming year.

Never Certain

Bauer said he was never certain he had sufficient votes to enact the bill until senators finally lighted the big legislative board with their votes at 9:35 a.m.

The measure faces a referendum petition effort if it ultimately clears the governor's desk. Opponents of the tax will need to colect 28,903 signatures in 38 counties within a 90-day period to place the issue on the 1966 general election ballot.

Carstens said he reached a final decision on the bill 10 minutes before the vote was taken. Paxton said he set his course of action "about the time we met this morning."

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who aimed four kill motions at the bill during its harried journey through the Unicameral, pledged to help lead the referendum movement.

Legislative reaction to the governor's announcement an hour later that he would veto the measure was swift and angry.

Thirty votes — more than the bill has ever received—would be required to override a veto.

Real Silly

"He has given a real silly reason to veto the bill," Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance said.

"He's playing piltis," Speaker Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud declared.

"This is the silliest reason to veto a bill I've ever heard of," Carpenter said.

Disappointed

"I am real disappointed," Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said, and "I cannot see his line of thinking."

"If the governor wants to play mugwump, with his mug on one side and his wump on the other, let him do it," Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln said.

Sen Sam Klaver of Omaha praised the governor's announcement for "showing a lot of courage."

Discuss Issue

Bauer and Sen. Arnold Runhke of Plymouth went immediately to the governor's office to discuss the issue with Morrison.

Ruhnke asked if the governor's objections related to the capital construction program were his sole objections, and Morrison responded: "Yes. All other mechanical difficulties can be overcome."

Bauer urged the governor to withhold any veto "until we can get this thing worked out."

Problem Outlined

Later, Morrison appeared before the Legislature to outline the problem as he sees it.

New York Post Quits Publication

New York (AP) — The New York Post suspended publication Tuesday after its union printers quit work in a dispute over automation in the composing room.

The afternoon tabloid directed its 1,400 employes "not to report for work until further notice."

The dispute involved the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union's New York Local 6.

The Post had a daily average circulation of 337,556 for the six months ending March 31. Its weekend edition, published on Saturday, had a 260,957 circulation.

In a statement, the newspaper said the suspension grew out of refusal of printers to perform certain composing room work. The Post said they acted on instructions from the ITU.

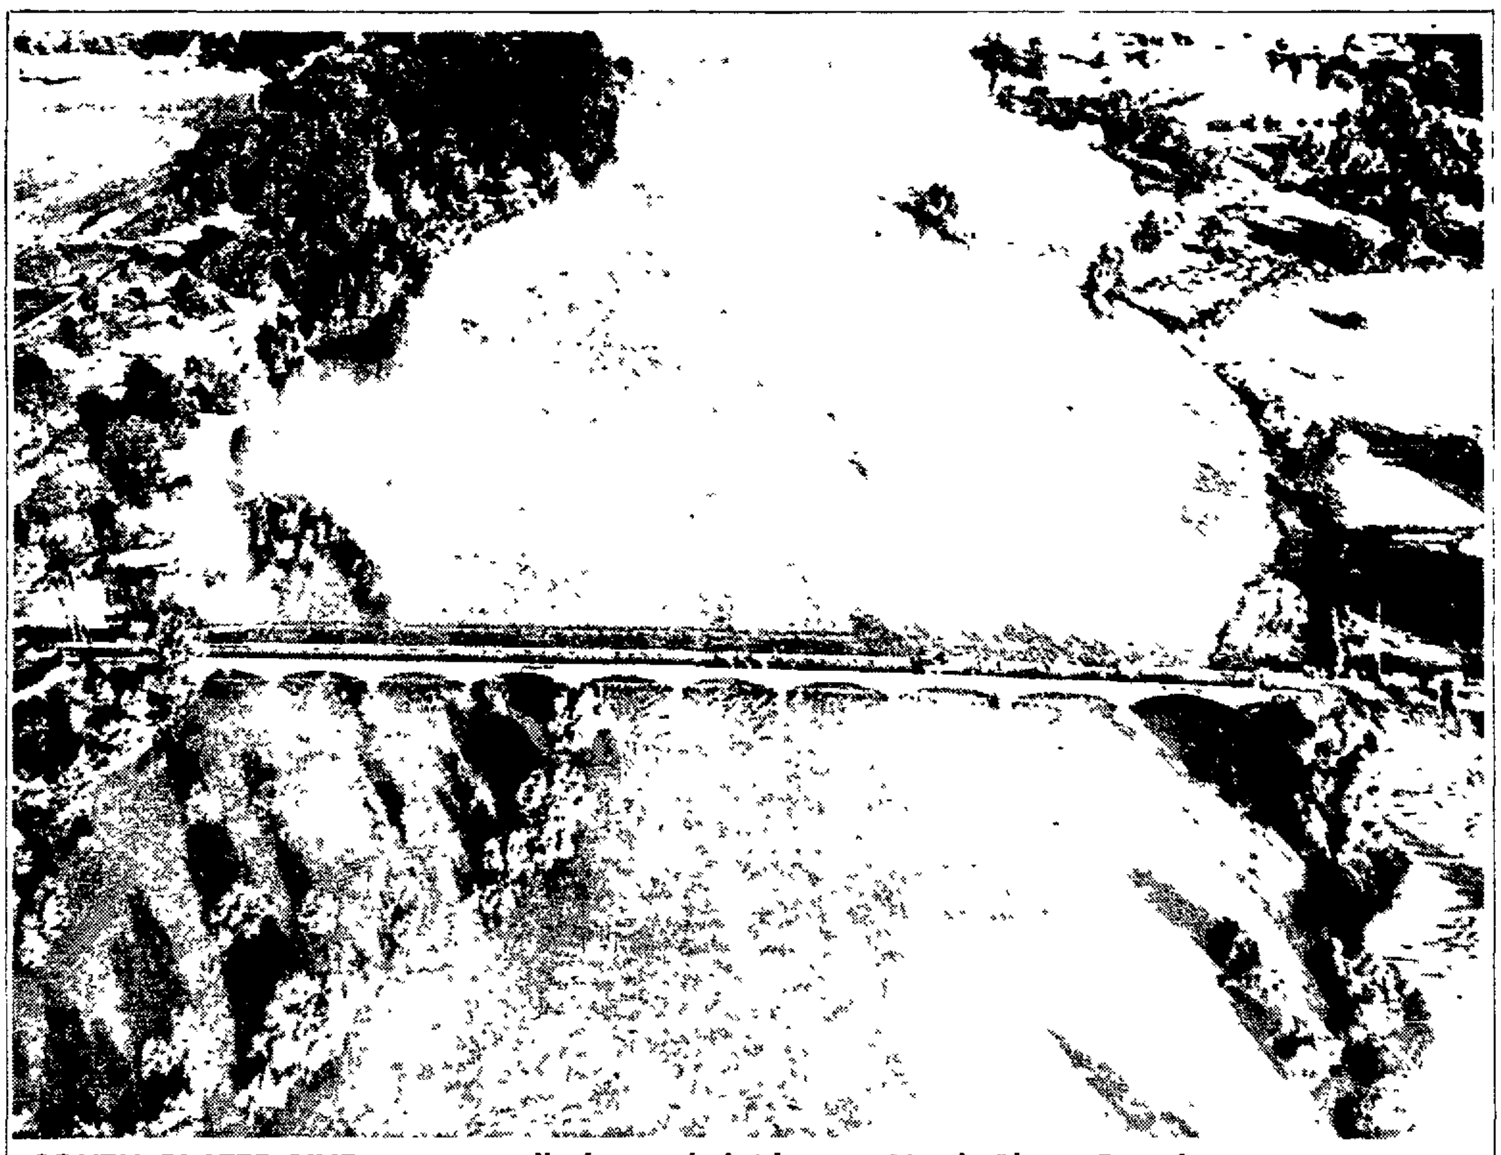
Cairo (AP) — An East German plane landed at Cairo airport on an inaugural flight of a new line between Cairo and East Berlin. Egypt and East Germany signed an aviation agreement June 20.



SOUTH PLATTE RIVER . . . swells beneath bridge at North Platte Tuesday as crest nears.

NORTH PLATTE'S DIKES HOLDING

North Platte's dikes along the swollen South Platte River were "holding well" late Tuesday, according to state Civil Defense authorities.

Only one spot along the five to six foot high earthen and sandbag embankment was giving trouble, and workers were plugging it.

There was no flooding in North Platte itself and none was expected.

A spokesman for the Civil Defense said the South Platte crest has "disappeared." Now the river rises gradually and holds steady for a time, he explained.

Fourteen miles upstream at Hershey an aerial survey showed water surrounding the school and flooding the football field. Some houses in southeastern Hershey were surrounded by water and there was water on the Union Pacific roadbed, though trains were going through.

Mayor Ken Huebner of North Platte viewed the water upstream Tuesday from a helicopter and reported he was encouraged

State Civil Defense officials praised all towns along the South Platte for the "wonderful effort they have done in protecting themselves. This has been a model Civil Defense operation."

In areas where dikes or other obstacles have not been erected, the flood waters will spread out to widths ranging from one-half to three-fourths of a mile in higher areas, to 1½ to two miles in lower lying areas, the Weather Bureau said.

The high water is expected to reach Brady Wednesday and Gothenburg Wednesday night or Thursday and Elm Creek Friday. The North and South Platte join just east of North Platte and there was hope that the overflow would not be as great in the combined channel.

Great Bend Dikes May Be Topped

Great Bend, Kan. (AP)—Flood water of the Arkansas River rolled relentlessly toward this middle Kansas community Tuesday where citizens prepared for the worst and hoped for the best.

Dikes have been raised two feet, but officials said that if the crest reaches the forecast 17-foot level it will flood two-thirds of this city of 18,000.

The river forecast center at Tulsa late Tuesday night predicted that the crest would reach no more than 13 to 14 feet in Great Bend, and city authorities were optimistic the levees could contain that.

Workers at Larned, where the river crested at daybreak, fought a day-long battle to plug breaks and seepage in a two-mile-long dike. Water seeped through in some places and slopped over the top at others, but workers believed they were holding the water in.

Thousands Fled

Thousands of Kansans have had to flee the flood's path since it swept in from Colorado last week. The high water traces to excessive rains which caused millions of dollars in damage to Colorado.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast a flood level at Great Bend of six to seven feet above bankful.

"If it gets that high it will be over the top of the dikes," said Mayor H. C. Davis.

Helicopter pilots flew ahed of the flood and used powerful loud speakers to warn residents in the path of the water.

CAP Patrols, Rescues

The Kansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol is flying flood patrol and rescue missions. Pilots keep up with the river's progress while scanning isolated farm buildings for persons stranded by high water.

The 2,000 evacuees at Great Bend went mostly to schools and churches on the north side of the city.

Business Eyes Buying Spurt

New York (AP) — Merchants looked Tuesday for a buying spurt to follow President Johnson's signing of the excise tax cut.

In some cases it started immediately, but generally it was expected to be a gradual rise, an Associated Press survey showed.

The new tax law eliminated or reduced 10% taxes on such tems as major appliances, furs, jewelry, automobiles and cosmetics.

Nuisance To Junk

These taxes have been called nuisance taxes ever since they were enacted in war days. And they were a nuisance to get rid of. Merchants had to change millions of price tags.

The biggtst savings will be on purchases of automobiles. General Motors Corp., Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. immediately began mailing applications for refunds to 830,000 purchasers of cars since May 15.

The tax legislation reduced the 10% federal excise tax on new cars to 7% with the cut retroactive to May 15.

Macy's, the big New York department store chain, reported "definite indication of increased buying activity and interest" since it removed the taxes on major appliances and other items last Friday.

$900,000 Diamond

Tiffany's, big New York jeweler, cut the price of its famed Tiffiny diamond from $1 million to $900,000.

Most merchants surveyed indicated they would heed President Johnson's plea to pass the tax cut along to consumers. There was some question about how much of the tax levied at the wholesalers' level would be passed on to retailers.

Stanley Marcus, president of Neiman-Marcus, Dallas department store, said, "Lots of transactions wrre held up as people recognized that the taxes were going to be removed. So we believe lots of business will be sonsumated that was in the process."

Ben Litshy of Zale Jewelry Co., Dallas-based chain, commented: "All we can go on is what happened when the excise tax was reduced from 20 to 10% in 1954. We had quite an improvement in sales."

Price Cut Bigger

Spokesmen for Sears, Roebuck and Gilchrist's department stores said their new prices on items affected are lower than the amount of the taxes.

In Portland, Maine, the Internal Revenue Service reported that it had been swamped with calls from retailers and consumers about tax cuts and methods of refunds.

A spokesman for Zayre department store said they were getting a large number of inquiries about prices of refrigerators and color television sets.

Upsurge Expected

Rhode Island retailers said they expect an upsurge in buying of items such as expensive kitchen and household appliances, luggage and jewelry.

Chicago retailers were unanimous in saying that tax cuts will be passed along to consumers and in predicting a spurt in business.

In San Francisco, Cyril Magnin, president of the 24-store Joseph Magnin chain, said. "I expect a big spurt in business, especially in furs. They've been off the last three weeks, waiting for the cut. We have a lot of merchandise put away."

Pope Being Returned To State After Indictment

. . . TRIAL SOUGHT IN LINCOLN

From Press Reports

Omaha — A federal grand jury Turesday indicted college football hero Duane Pope on charges of slaying three persons and shooting a fourth in a bank robbery at Big Springs

The rangy former Kansas farm youth waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner at Kansas City, Mo., and—handcuffed and trussed with a chain — he headed for Nebraska to face trial.

Pope was taken by deputy U.S. marshals to Lincoln, with an overnight stop at St. Joseph, Mo. The indictment requested that the trial be held in Federal District Court at Lincoln. Pope was expected to be held in the State Penitentiary.

He kept his eyes to the ground and his lips pressed tightly together as he walked to an automobile from the federal building in downtown Kansas City.

Like Any Other

U.S. Marshal Francis M. Wilson and a deputy marshal guarded him and Wilson said, "We're going to treat him just like any other prisoner." Pope is accused of killing the president and two employes of the Farmers State Bank June 4 as they lay spreadeagled on the floor. He ordered four persons in the bank to lie down and then clamly fired bullets into their backs and necks, it is charged.

He has made no statement since he surrendered in Kansas City June 9, and authorities who charged him with the crime have been able only to speculate as to possible motives.

Pope scarcely spoke during his brief appearance bbefore U.S. Commissioner Lee E. Cisel. He appeared calm and self-possessed.

A warrant was issued for Pope by U.S. District Court Judge John W. Delehant here immediately after the grand jury returned the indictments.

Indicted on 6 Counts

Pope was indicted on six counts under a federal law which provides that when there is a slaying during a bank holdup the penalty shall be death or not less than 10 years imprisonment, as determined by a trial jury.

Four of the counts named an individual victim, another charged Pope with taking more than $1,500 from the bank, and the sixth charged him with carrying the loot from the bank.

Nebraska's Deuel County has murder charges pending against Pope, but the federal charges apparently took precedence.

Killed in the Big Springs massacre were Andreas (Andy) Kjeldgaard, 77, president of the bank; cashier Glenn Hendrickson, 59; and bookkeeper Lois Ann Hothan, 35.

Kjeldgaaard's nephew, Franklin Kjeldgaard, 25, assistant cashier, was wounded. The younger Kjeldgaard, who is recovering in St. Luke's Hospital in Denver, Colo., identified Pope's picture as that of the killer.

Solution Seen To Tax Snag

CONSTRUCTION PLAN PROBLEMS CAN BE SOLVED—SEN. BAUER

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison indicated late Tuesday that he will not veto the state income tax bill "if the Legislature finds some way of adequately carrying out the provisions" of the six-year capital construction program approved earlier this week.

"At the present time, I know of no other mechanical problems that could not be solved administratively," the governor declared

Morrison

Morrison commented in his office following a public pledge by Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln to cooperate with the governor in meeting gubernatorial objections expressed earlier in the day.

Bauer, chief sponsor of the measure, LB797, which won historic 26-23 legislative approval Tuesday morning, acknowledged that "genuine and serious problems" do exist in respect to the capital construction program.

"I appreciate his cooperation in letting us know before he vetoed the bill," Bauer said.

Bauer

Bauer said he is certain the problem can be solved through amendments to LB-562, pending legislation which would remove the state from the property tax field.

The bill can be amended to provide that the capital construction program could be financed through income tax revenue, instead of a special property taxj mill levy, once the income tax takes effect on Jan. 1, 1967, Bauer noted.

'Impossible'

Morrison earlier told a press conference that he would veto LB797 because it would render "mechanically impossible" the implementation of the capital construction program, contained in LB890. (See story page 13.)

LB890 provides for a 3.2 mill levy for the next six years to finance a $68.5 million construction program.

Later, in response to a legislative request, Morrison appeared before the Legislature to outline his objections.

Schedule

In addition to the financing problem, Morrison noted that LB890 provides that the governor shall develop a schedule for the construction projects.

" . . . those responsibilities cannot and could not be discharged by me in the event LB797 is allowed to become law," the governor pointed out.

"It is my purpose to announce to you in advance that I would have no alternative but to veto LB797 in its present form, because it would make mechanically impossible the implementation of LB890," Morrison said.

Triggers Pledge

The governor's brief message triggered Bauer's pledge of cooperation, publicly directed to Morrison while he was still in the legislative chamber.

Bauer said he will confer with the attorney general and the state tax commissioner to settle the issue.

The Legislature, on a 25-21 vote, called LB890 back to final reading for reconsideration so that it may meet the governor's objections.

Enacted Monday

The bill, which had been enacted only Monday on a 39-9 vote, was returned upon the motion of Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth.

Proponents of the income tax bill hope to correct any problems which may exist before LB797 is physically delivered to the governor for his action, noting that a gubernatorial veto could not be applied until the bill is actually in his hands.

Two motions to hold LB797 in the Legislature's custody for a matter of days were offered, but later withdrawn. Actually, the bill probably will not reach the governor's office for a few days even in the normal course of action.

Swift Action

Meanwhile, in response to the governor's earlier declaration that he would veto the bill, the Legislature's Revenue Committee swiftly sent to the floor another pending income tax measure and bills seeking voter approval of pari-mutuel dog racing and a state lottery.

The income tax bill, LB141, received 5-2 committee approval. In its present form, it would levy a 4% state tax on the total dollars now paid in federal income tax.

LB630, the dog racing bill, was advanced on a 5-2 vote and the lottery measure, LB 671, won 6-1 endorsement. Both bills propose a vote of the people on constitutional amendments authorizing such activities as revenue measures.

School Merger Beaten

Voters in Lancaster, Cass and Otoe Counties defeated a proposal for school reorganization in School Districts 104, 151, 157 and OR-1 in a special election Tuesday, 671-539. Had the proposal carried, it would have resulted in a merging of the four districts.

Results of the vote tabulation in each of the districts: 151 (Bennet), 175 for, 36 against; OR-1 (Palmyra), 103 for, 253 against; 157 (Walton), 114 for, 85 against, and 104 (Alvo-Eagle), 147 for, 297 against.

School districts 151, OR-1, and 157 comprise Class 2 schools (enrollment under 1,000) and although the vote was in favor of the plan for reorganization in these districts, the vote of District 104 (Eagle), which is a Class 3 district (enrollment over (1,000), defeated the proposal. Under Nebraska school organization law all classes of schools affected by such an election must agree on the proposal.

The reorganization plan called for a merger of the four districts which would have resulted in a district with an assessed valuation of $12.2 million. The student population would have been 907, including 370 attending high schools. Eagle and Palmyra would have been the designated attendance centers, under the plan, for grades seven through twelve.

CONSTRUCTION PLAN PROBLEMS CAN BE SOLVED—SEN. BAUER

Morrison

Morrison commented in his office following a public pledge by Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln to cooperate with the governor in meeting gubernatorial objections expressed earlier in the day.

Bauer, chief sponsor of the measure, LB797, which won historic 26-23 legislative approval Tuesday morning, acknowledged that "genuine and serious problems" do exist in respect to the capital construction program.

"I appreciate his cooperation in letting us know before he vetoed the bill," Bauer said.

Bauer

Bauer said he is certain the problem can be solved through amendments to LB-562, pending legislation which would remove the state from the property tax field.

The bill can be amended to provide that the capital construction program could be financed through income tax revenue, instead of a special property taxj mill levy, once the income tax takes effect on Jan. 1, 1967, Bauer noted.

'Impossible'

Morrison earlier told a press conference that he would veto LB797 because it would render "mechanically impossible" the implementation of the capital construction program, contained in LB890. (See story page 13.)

LB890 provides for a 3.2 mill levy for the next six years to finance a $68.5 million construction program.

Later, in response to a legislative request, Morrison appeared before the Legislature to outline his objections.

Schedule

In addition to the financing problem, Morrison noted that LB890 provides that the governor shall develop a schedule for the construction projects.

". . . those responsibilities cannot and could not be discharged by me in the event LB797 is allowed to become law," the governor pointed out.

"It is my purpose to announce to you in advance that I would have no alternative but to veto LB797 in its present form, because it would make mechanically impossible the implementation of LB890," Morrison said.

Triggers Pledge

The governor's brief message triggered Bauer's pledge of cooperation, publicly directed to Morrison while he was still in the legislative chamber.

Bauer said he will confer with the attorney general and the state tax commissioner to settle the issue.

The Legislature, on a 25-21 vote, called LB890 back to final reading for reconsideration so that it may meet the governor's objections.

Enacted Monday

The bill, which had been enacted only Monday on a 39-9 vote, was returned upon the motion of Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth.

Proponents of the income tax bill hope to correct any problems which may exist before LB797 is physically delivered to the governor for his action, noting that a gubernatorial veto could not be applied until the bill is actually in his hands.

Two motions to hold LB797 in the Legislature's custody for a matter of days were offered, but later withdrawn. Actually, the bill probably will not reach the governor's office for a few days even in the normal course of action.

Swift Action

Meanwhile, in response to the governor's earlier declaration that he would veto the bill, the Legislature's Revenue Committee swiftly sent to the floor another pending income tax measure and bills seeking voter approval of parimutuel dog racing and a state lottery.

The income tax bill, LB141, received 5-2 committee approval. In its present form, it would levy a 4% state tax on the total dollars now paid in federal income tax.

LB630, the dog racing bill, was advanced on a 5-2 vote and the lottery measure, LB 671, won 6-1 endorsement. Both bills propose a vote of the people on constitutional amendments authorizing such activities as revenue measures.

School Merger Beaten

Voters in Lancaster, Cass and Otoe Counties defeated a proposal for school reorganization in School Districts 104, 151, 157 and OR-1 in a special election Tuesday, 671-539. Had the proposal carried, it would have resulted in a merging of the four districts.

Results of the vote tabulation in each of the districts: 151 (Bennet), 175 for, 36 against; OR-1 (Palmyra), 103 for, 253 against; 157 (Walton), 114 for, 85 against, and 104 (Alvo-Eagle), 147 for, 297 against.

School districts 151, OR-1, and 157 comprise Class 2 schools (enrollment under 1,000) and although the vote was in favor of the plan for reorganization in these districts, the vote of District 104 (Eagle), which is a Class 3 district (enrollment over (1,000), defeated the proposal. Under Nebraska school organization law all classes of schools affected by such an election must agree on the proposal.

The reorganization plan called for a merger of the four districts which would have resulted in a district with an assessed valuation of $12.2 million. The student population would have been 907, including 370 attending high schools. Eagle and Palmyra would have been the designated attendance centers, under the plan, for grades seven through twelve.

Thunderchiefs Bomb Within 80 Miles Of Red China

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force Thunderchiefs Tuesday attacked the Son La army barracks, 110 miles west-northwest of Hanoi, for the second time in four days. The target marks their deepest penetration of North Viet Nam.

Also attacked was the Van Nuoc Chieu ammunition depot, 70 miles west-northwest of Ho Chi Minh's communist capital.

Son La was first raided June 18, but a communique located the target as west-southwest of Hanoi. The Pentagon said this was a clerical error.

A U.S. military spokesman announced these details

Eight F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers with a 20-plane escort made the strike across the 21st Parallel at the Son La barracks, situated within 80 miles of Red China's frontier.

The eight dropped 17 tons of 750-pound bombs. They destroyed nine buildings and damaged 20 in a 30-minute attack. Antiaircraft fire was light to moderate. No enemy planes were sighted.

Another group of eight Thunderchiefs, with the same 20 escort craft, struck the Van Nuoc Chieu depot. Opposition was again confined to antiaircraft fire. The depot was moderately damaged. There was no report of secondary explosions, such as might be expected from a direct hit on stored munitions.

Son La, capital of a province of the same name, is 55 miles east of Dien Bien Phu, where France lost the Indochina War in 1954.

Radio Hanoi reported June 15 that Thunderchiefs based in Thailand raided the Moc Chau area of Son La province the previous day and that one was shot down and its pilot captured. There has been no U.S. or other confirmation of this report.

The most northerly approaches announced here concerning the aerial campaign launched Feb. 7 were strikes May 30 and 31 at the Hoi An ammunition depot, 45 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Accompanying these and other strikes north of the border were air attacks on the Viet Cong and their installations in the south.

Saigon was the center of a series of events related to the war:

—A Vietnamese firing squad executed Tran Van Dang, a Viet Cong terrorist, for an attempt three months ago to blow up a U.S. billet in suburban Gia Dinh. Dang, 25, died defiantly, shouting, "Down with the Americans!"

Pilots Decorated

—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky decorated four U.S. Navy pilots of propeller-driven Skyraiders who shot down a Communist MIG17 over North Viet Nam Sunday. They were Lt. Cmdr. Edwin Greathouse of Austin, Tex.; Lt. Clinton Johnson of Royal Oak, Mich.; Lt. Jimmy Lynne of New Hampshire, Ohio, and Lt. Charles Hartman of Springfield, Ill. Presenting the fliers the Vietnamese Air Gallantry Medal with Gold Wings, Ky said they had showed "outstanding skill and fighting ability."

—It was International Aid Day and South Viet Nam formally thanked friendly nations for their help. Ky shook hands with U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor and other members of the diplomatic corps.

—Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of Vietnamese troops in the 1st Corps area, said in an interview that 20 Viet Cong battalions—perhaps as many as 8,000 men—are now operating in South Viet Nam's five northernmost provinces. Thi refused to estimate how many North Vietnamese were involved, but said 28 men from the north were among his prisoners. He urged a massive U.S. arms buildup.

Korea-Japan Treaty Signed

Tokyo (UPI) — The foreign ministers of South Korea and Japan Tuesday climaxed 14 years of complicated and delicate negotiations by signing a treaty for the establishment of normal relations between the once-bitter enemy nations

While the two governments were formally burying the hatchet, violent protest riots erupted in Tokyo, Seoul and other cities. Scores of Japanese and Korean demonstrators and security forces were injured in street clashes in both countries.

Many South Koreans are still bitter over the years of Japanese colonial domination which was ended by world War II.

Want Overthrow

The Communist North Korea radio canceled its regular programs to denounce the treaty and broadcast repeated calls for the overthrow of the South Korean government.

The protests here were spearheaded by the fanatical leftist Zengakuren student organization which once brought about the downfall of a Japanese government by blocking a visit by then-President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

More than 10,000 Zengakuren students clashed with riot police in Tokyo.

U.S. Encouragement

The United States, allied to both countries, had been pressing hard behind-the-scenes to encourage an accord.

In addition to the basic treaty which outlines procedures for the establishment of diplomatic relations, four other agreements signed Tuesday will settle issues ranging from delineation of disputed fishing waters to the legal status of Korean residents in Japan and the return of Korean cultural treasures seized during the Japanese occupation of Korea.

The roots of Korean bitterness against Japan go back to the end of the last century when the Japanese sent troops to occupy Seoul during the Sino-Japanese war.

Queen Assassinated

In 1895 the queen of Korea, who opposed Japanese domination, was assassinated and the Japanese were blamed by the Koreans.

In 1905, at the end of the Russo-Japanese war, anti-Japan sentiment reached a new peak when thousands of Japanese swarmed into Korea.

Korea was forcibly annexed by Japan in 1910 and much of the property of the Korean people was taken from them.

Korean Students Protest Treaty With Seoul Riots

Seoul, Korea (UPI)—Thousands of students battled police and troops in the streets of Seoul Tuesday in protest against the signing in Tokyo of a treaty to establish normal relations between Korea and Japan. Protest demonstrations also were held in the major cities of Inchon and Usan.

Police used clubs and tear gas against the mobs hurling stones, bottles and other missiles. Scores of students were reported injured.

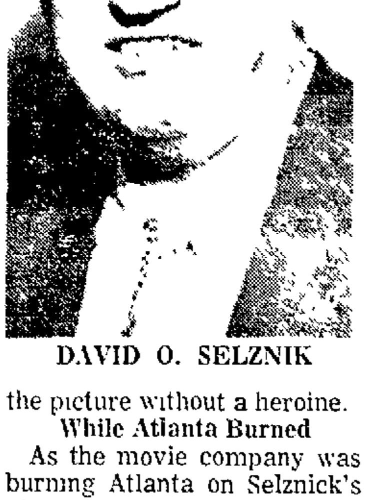
Selznick, Producer Of 'Gone With Wind,' Dies

Hollywood (AP) — David O. Selznick, producer of the movies' all-time box-office champion "Gone with the Wind," died Tuesday of a heart attack. He was 63.

A spokesman for Mt. Sinai Hospital said the famed producer, one of the movie industry greats, died one hour and 22 minutes after being admitted.

Selznick, inactive in recent years, married actress Jennifer Jones in Portofino, Italy, July 13, 1949. Previously he was divorced by Irene Mayer Selznick, daughter of the late Louis B. Mayer, longtime boss of MGM.



DAVID O. SELZNIK

Made Classics

Selznick made some of the screen's classic movies—"Intermezzo," "Rebecca," "David Copperfield," "Little Women," "Tom Sawyer," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "A Tale of Two Cities," "Anna Karenina," "Viva Villa," "Dinner at Eight," "Manhattan Melodrama," "A Star Is Born," "Duel in the Sun," "Farewell to Arms" and his greatest "Gone with the Wind."

His trademark was quality: top stars, the finest writers, no expense spared on production.

Among stars he introduced were Ingrid Bergman in "Intermezzo," Vivien Leigh in "Gone With the Wind" and Joan Fontaine in "Rebecca."

And it was he who first brought Katharine Hepburn to the screen to costar with John Barrymore in "Bill of Divorcement."

Film Pioneer's Son

The son of movie pioneer Lewis J. Selznick, David was born in Pittsburgh, Pa He studied at Columbia University while working for his father's movie company in New York.

His first movie job was in publicity and, forever after, all Selznick movies were launched in oceans of publicity. The campaign for "Gone with the Wind" is considered a classic publicity job in Hollywood history.

His search for the actress to play Scarlett O'Hara gained international play for years. Selznick even started the picture without a heroine.

While Atlanta Burned

As the movie company was burning Atlanta on Selznick's 40 acres in Culver City, Myron Selznick, his agent-brother, showed up with Laurence Olivier and an unknown British actress, Miss Leigh.

Myron, who didn't represent Miss Leigh, told his brother: "Here's your Scarlett"

The producer took a look at her green eyes reflecting the fire and agreed.

It was Selznick who insisted that only Clark Gable could play Rhett Butler — and it cost him millions for the decision.

David went to his father-in-law at MGM and was told that he could have Gable on one condition—that reissue rights on the movie would go to MGM, not Selznick.

The movie, now in its 10th reissue, usually grosses $4 to $5 millions every time it's reissued. Total gross to date is estimated at nearly $60 million

Clashed With Directors

His preoccupation with quality, his perfectionism, led to many fights with directors.

"Farewell to Arms" saw a classic feud with another temperament — John Huston. Said Huston, after he had been replaced in Italy by Charles Vidor: "It was a case of one Alp and two Hannibals."

War Critics, Proponents Snared In Same Dilemma

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington (AP) — The Johnson administration and some of its severest academic critics Tuesday found themselves trapped in the same dilemma of Vietnamese war policy. Both want peace in Southeast Asia. Neither knows how to get it.

A spokesman for the government and a battery of professors stated their positions in a nationwide television debate.

And at times it sounded as if presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy, upholding existing policy, and Chicago University Professor Hans Morgenthau, leading the professors' assault, were talking to the wrong people.

Reds Hold Key

For the Communists hold the key to peace or continued conflict in Viet Nam, and both Bundy and Morgenthau see negotiation with them as the ultimate way out of the war.

The debate raged for an hour and at the end appeared to leave the administration spokesman and his chief antagonist fairly close together on the point of what action the United States should now take. This coincidence of views contrasted sharply with statements about policy.

Bundy defended the administration in these words:

"I believe with all my heart that the policy which the administration is now following is the best policy in a difficult and dangerous situation and the one which best serves our interests and the interests of the world, the interest of peace."

Morgenthau declared he opposes the administration's Vietnamese policy, "on moral, military, political and general intellectual grounds." He predicted it would create problems more serious than those the U.S. is already dealing with.

"The deterioration of the military situation (in Viet Nam) is infinitely graver than we have been made to believe on the basis of official and nonofficial reports," he added.

Morgenthau, one of the most outspoken and widely heard critics of Johnson's Vietnamese policy, declared that among choices for future action in Viet Nam—ranging from abrupt withdrawal to the development of a great war — the one which most appeals to him is that suggested recently by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Morgenthau said Fulbright advocated that the U.S. try to hold a few strong points on the coast of Viet Nam, proving to the Viet Cong that they cannot win a military victory and on that basis try to negotiate with them in the fall.

Most Acceptable

"My personal position which must come as a surprise to some listeners here," he continued, "is that Mr. Fulbright's position is by far the most acceptable . . .

"I think our aim must be to get out of Viet Nam, but to get out of it with honor."

Bundy said the administration's position is supported by a strong majority of Congress and the people generally and comes down to this:

"That we should stay there (in South Viet Nam), that we should do our part as may become necessary . . . Bear in mind that the center of the contest is in South Viet Nam though there is more aggression from the north—and seek constantly as we have for months and months to find a way to get this dangerous and difficult business to the conference room."

Ike For U.S. Giving Birth Control Data

Washington (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower threw his public support Tuesday behind government action to limit population growth by dissemination of birth control information at home and abroad.

This was a switch from his stand as president that spreading of information about birth control is not a function of the federal government.

Eisenhower's views were in a written statement to the Senate subcommittee on foreign expenditures which began hearings on a bill by its chairman, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, to create new assistant secretaries of state and welfare. They would formulate programs of population control including education and research on birth control techniques.

Eisenhower strongly endorsed the bill.

He was joined in his support by Sens Frank Moss, D-Utah, Joseph Clark, D-Pa., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Reps. Morris K Udall, D-Ariz., and D. R. Matthews, D-Fla.

Eisenhower also suggested that something should be done to prevent "the repetitive production of children by unwed mothers, apparently lured by the resulting increase in income from welfare funds."

Eisenhower said 10 years ago he did not believe the federal government should spread information about birth control.

"I expressed this view publicly but soon abandoned it," he said Tuesday.

4-Year Extension Of Feed Grain Program Okayed

Washington (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee Tuesday approved a four-year extension of the Johnson administration's feed grain price support program.

The committee bill would continue through 1969 the program under which growers who voluntarily accept federal acreage controls qualify for government price supports and other cash benefits.

The committee acted by voice vote after turning back —also on a nonrecord, voice vote—a proposal by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., for a major change in the support system.

Quie suggested abandoning the traditional price support loan system for feed grains, wheat and cotton. His plan would rely, instead, on direct payments to farmers to maintain farm income.

Ike For U.S. Giving Birth Control Data

Washington (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower threw his public support Tuesday behind government action to limit population growth by dissemination of birth control information at home and abroad.

This was a switch from his stand as president that spreading of information about birth control is not a function of the federal government.

Eisenhower's views were in a written statement to the Senate subcommittee on foreign expenditures which began hearings on a bill by its chairman, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, to create new assistant secretaries of state and welfare. They would formulate programs of population control including education and research on birth control techniques.

Eisenhower strongly endorsed the bill.

He was joined in his support by Sens. Frank Moss, D-Utah, Joseph Clark, D-Pa., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Reps. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., and D. R. Matthews, D-Fla.

Eisenhower also suggested that something should be done to prevent "the repetitive production of children by unwed mothers, apparently lured by the resulting increase in income from welfare funds."

Eisenhower said 10 years ago he did not believe the federal government should spread information about birth control.

"I expressed this view publicly but soon abandoned it," he said Tuesday.

4-Year Extension Of Feed Grain Program Okayed

Washington (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee Tuesday approved a four-year extension of the Johnson administration's feed grain price support program.

The committee bill would continue through 1969 the program under which growers who voluntarily accept federal acreage controls qualify for government price supports and other cash benefits.

The committee acted by voice vote after turning back—also on a nonrecord, voice vote—a proposal by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., for a major change in the support system.

Quie suggested abandoning the traditional price support loan system for feed grains, wheat and cotton. His plan would rely, instead, on direct payments to farmers to maintain farm income.

Schmit Hopes To Discourage GOP Petition Drive

David City (AP) — In a speech to the Butler County Republican Central Committee Tuesday night, Loran Schmit, David City farmer and Butler County Republican chairman, said he hopes Republicans would not divert their energies to a petition drive to repeal LB797, should it become law, at the expense of working to strengthen the Republican Party.

Schmit said, "We should remember that only two years ago loyal Republicans spent long hours on an unsuccessful attempt to place the issue of a partisan legislature on the ballot. At the same time we helped re-elect Gov. Morrison and lost the lieutenant governorship, a congressional seat and the state treasurer's office."

"We are in a poor position to further divide our efforts," Schmit said, "if Republicans are unhappy about the way their senator voted then by all means work to replace him. But it should not be the duty of the Republican Party to take a position on the proposed referendum."

LB797 is the income tax bill which has been passed by the legislature, and which is threatened by a Gov. Frank Morrison veto.

Summary Of Conditions

A cool front extends from east to west across the entire country. It begins near Labrador and arches southwestward through Pennsylvania, then westward to a low in northeast Nebraska, into the Nebraska panhandle, and westward through northern California and into the Pacific. Another frontal system is located off the Washington-Oregon coast. Cool Pacific air, represented by a high pressure ridge, is pushing eastward over Montana and the Dakotas and has penetrted into northwestern Nebraska. Elsewhere high pressure continues to dominate the eastern third of the country.

House Okays Public Works By Voice Vote

Washington (AP) — The House passed by a voice vote Tuesday a bill to appropriate $4.2 billion for government public works programs during the fiscal year starting July 1.

There was no controversy over the scores of projects in the measure which now goes to the Senate.

Nebraska construction projects and the amounts earmarked for them include Gering Valley, $1,800,000; Little Papillion Creek, $700,000; Norfolk $1,300,000; Salt Creek and its tributaries $2,000,000.

Nebraska surveys provided for are Big Blue River, in Nebraska and Kansas, $25,000; Elkhorn River, $50,000; Niobrara River (Gavins Point reservoir) $50,000; Papillion Creek $50,000; Platte River, $26,000; Salt Creek and tributaries $5,000.

The bill also provides $2,500,000 for Missouri River agricultural levees in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri; $2,900,000 for Missouri River channel stabilization from Sioux city to Omaha and $4,200,000 for similar work between Omaha and Kansas City.

Schmit Hopes To Discourage GOP Petition Drive

David City (AP) — In a speech to the Butler County Republican Central Committee Tuesday night, Loran Schmit, David City farmer and Butler County Republican chairman, said he hopes Republicans would not divert their energies to a petition drive to repeal LB797, should it become law, at the expense of working to strengthen the Republican Party.

Schmit said, "We should remember that only two years ago loyal Republicans spent long hours on an unsuccessful attempt to place the issue of a partisan legislature on the ballot. At the same time we helped re-elect Gov. Morrison and lost the lieutenant governorship, a congressional seat and the state treasurer's office."

"We are in a poor position to further divide our efforts," Schmit said, "if Republicans are unhappy about the way their senator voted then by all means work to replace him. But it should not be the duty of the Republican Party to take a position on the proposed referendum."

LB797 is the income tax bill which has been passed by the legislature, and which is threatened by a Gov. Frank Morrison veto.

FHA Loans Are Available To 9 More Counties

The Farmers Home Administration is making emergency loans available to nine more Nebraska counties, Gov. Frank Morrison announced Tuesday.

The counties eligible for the federal loans which have suffered crop damage from drought are: Cheyenne, Dawson, Deuel, Garden, Gosper, Kimball, Lincoln, Logan, and McPherson.

Heasty Reesman, state director for the Farmers Home Administration, said emergency loans are available to farmers and ranchers unable to obtain credit from local sources.

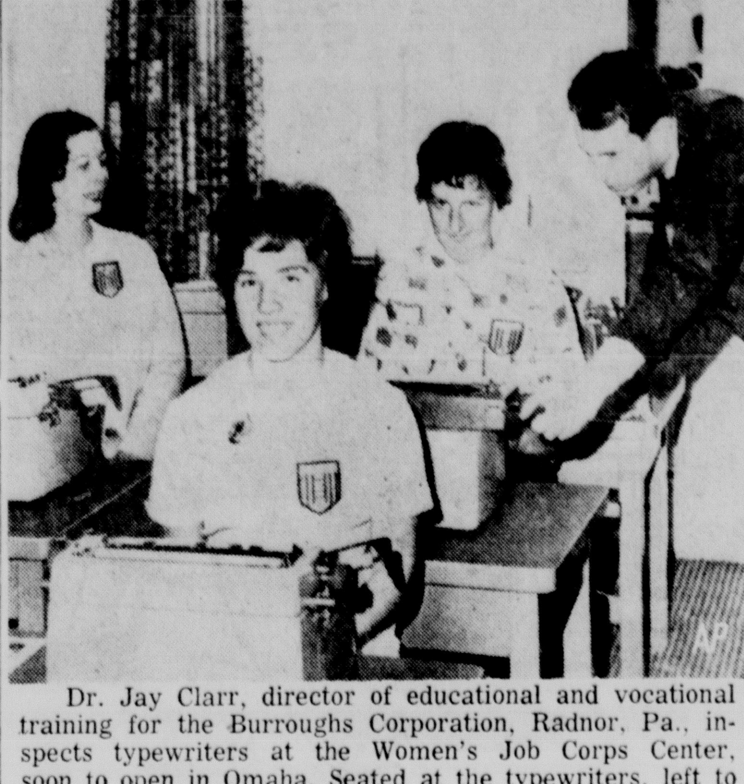
Lincoln To Host Poultry Disease Diagnosticians

North Central States Poultry Disease Diagnosticians have accepted an invitation from the University of Nebraska to hold their annual conference here next year. The invitation was extended at the group's annual meeting in St. Paul, Minn., by Dr. M. J. Twiehaus, chairman of the NU Department of Veterinary Science.

The 1966 conference will be held in June at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education. It will mark the first time the group has come to Nebraska for its meeting.



Dr. Jay Clarr, director of educational and vocational training for the Burroughs Corporation, Radnor, Pa., inspects typewriters at the Women's Job Corps Center, soon to open in Omaha. Omaha Quarters Readied For Women's Job Corps Center

Omaha (AP) — Officials of the Burroughs Corporation conducted a tour Tuesday through the Women's Job Corps center where more than 300 young women will receive training in various occupations.

Working under a two-year-contract for $4,250,000, the Burroughs Corporation will operate the center by agreement with the Office of Economic Opportunity as part of the war on poverty. Its goal is to break the chain of poverty by taking the girl out of the environment which contributed to the problems the training program seeks to overcome.

Enrollees will live on the third through the tenth floors of the Regis Hotel, about 40 on each floor, with four counselors per floor.

Training will be done in remodeled areas of the adjoining Central Market building. Facilities will include laboratories for typing, stenography, sewing, bookkeeping, homemaking, nursing, child care, graphic arts, retail and display, curtains and drapes and driver training. Enrollees will receive home and family instruction, health basic and remedial education before beginning to learn an occupational skill.

A lounge will be set up for the enrollees in the old White Horse Inn and there will be a game, music and craft rooms, library and snack bar.

Early estimates fix the annual cost of training each enrollee at $5,000 to $6,000.

Specific salaries for teachers and counselors were not disclosed but Burroughs spokesmen said they will be "about the same level of pay as comparable jobs in the immediate Omaha area."

North Central Water Project Given Approval

Washington (AP)—The Interior Department approved Tuesday a feasibility report on a $72,503,000 proposed water conservation project in north central Nebraska.

Copies of the report are being sent to the states of the Missouri River basin and to interested federal agencies for review and comments.

The report is on the O'Neill Unit adjacent to the Niobrara River in Cherry, Brown, Keya Paha, Rock and Holt counties. It said the project would furnish a dependable water supply for 77,000 acres and also would provide flood control, fish and wildlife and recreation benefits.

The key feature of the unit would be Norden Dam, a rolled earthfill structure 155 feet high and 3,700 feet long, forming a reservoir with 411,000 acre-feet.

Proposed Indian Legislation Good—Cline

Washington (AP) — A delegation of Omaha Indian tribal members from Nebraska is here to support bills before Congress relating to constitutional rights of American Indians.

Edward Cline, Macy, Neb., said at a weekly Nebraska congressional delegation breakfast Tuesday that the proposed legislation is good. He added the Indian delegation favors an amendment which would return jurisdiction over certain crimes on Indian reservations from the states to the federal government.

The delegation met here with Indians from other states to talk over proposals pending before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

With Cline were Valentine Parker Sr., and Victor Robinson of the tribe.

Ray Stack of the Nebraska Wheat Grower's Association, Lincoln, said a group of wheat growers will be here this week to tell big city congressmen about the importance of farm areas to the nation.

Also at the breakfast were Donald L. Knapp, Hastings, Neb., president of the Nebraska Letter Carriers Association; Arthur Beckheim, Lincoln, and Mark Brennan of Omaha, here with representatives of letter carriers from other states to discuss matters relating to salaries, retirement and other carrier affairs.

Moment Of Greatness

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

In rapid-fire action Tuesday, the state experienced a moment of glory but quickly was plunged to a new low. The new low was provided by Gov. Frank Morrison with a promised veto of the state income tax bill that, only moments before, had been passed by a 23-to-26 vote of the Legislature. Morrison's action is all but unbelievable and is so lacking in validity as to leave him mired in nothing but the mud of politics.

Later the same day, the governor indicated he might change his veto plans if the Legislature removes what he sees as conflicts with the income tax measure. In continually attacking the income tax on one basis and another, he has sought the defeat of the measure while trying to avoid the political complications thereof. Unless he does give consideration to changes the senators might now make in areas of possible conflict, his action will stand forever as one of the lowest political tricks in the history of Nebraska. Morrison in his initial and unconditional promise of a veto lacked the courage to plainly take a stand against the income tax and stick with it. Had he opposed the bill, so stated and then vetoed it, there would have been disagreement with him but it would have been honest disagreement.

Smacking Of Politics

Instead, the governor has hidden behind a technicality that is little more than a cover for his real position, whatever that might be. Perhaps he is philosophically opposed to an income tax or maybe he has made a political deal that pits him against the measure.

His promised veto, however, would come as a result of other action by the Legislature. He maintains that the income tax would jeopardize the six-year capital expenditures program passed Monday by the senators. This program sets a levy of 3.2 mills for six years to provide various state agencies with $68.5 million for building purposes.

In a mark of simplicity unfit for even a two-year-old, Governor Morrison says that since the building program is tied to the property tax, elimination of the property tax would eliminate the building program. That is a ridiculous position for a number of reasons. To begin with, the property tax is replaced by the income tax. This means that the programs adopted by the Legislature continue under an income tax, not that they are all abandoned. Secondly, the income tax does not become effective until Jan. 1 1967, the year in which the first leg the first biennium of the building program expires. Actually, the building program is not a six-year program, at all.

The building program is a two-year plan with legislative intent of another four years. The fact is that this Legislature cannot bind a future legislature, and senators in 1967 will have to appropriate funds for the building program another two years on their own initiative. If they want it continued then, they could finance it with an income tax just as easily and simply as they could a property tax. The governor was asked about other special levies for such purposes as agricultural research, for instance. He replied that there was no problem there because they were only biennial, two-year, programs. Actually, the same thing is true of the building program but the governor chose to ignore this.

Also, the Legislature could and may yet amend the building program law to specifically permit its financing through an income tax. This may or may not be necessary but it would absolutely and without doubt remove the governor's trumped-up objections to the income tax bill.

But what did the governor say to that? Initially, he dodged the question by saying he would cross that bridge when and if he gets to it. Again later, he said corrective action might influence his position. Also, the governor could have accomplished his ends by vetoing the building program and sending it back to the Legislature for amendments, to bring it into conformity with the income tax.

Veto Difficult To Override

But he didn't do this because he doesn't want the income tax, even though he lacks the courage to stand up and flatly say so and act accordingly. Rather than taking a stand on the income tax, he is hiding behind a false claim of protection of the building program. Even the opponents of the income tax bill will recognize the governor's position as one of unprecedented weaseling. The fate of the income tax bill is now most uncertain. To override the governor's promised veto, assuming he sticks to that promise, would call for 30 votes and the measure could never muster that many.

Other avenues of approach are open but they all are directed at creation of conditions which would allow no room for a veto based on technical grounds. Should the governor fail to recognize and live with such conditions, he could not escape charges of political trickery and deceit.

Worth Fighting For

Americans are naturally ill at ease with their sons, fathers, husbands or friends dying in the jungles and rice paddies of South Viet Nam. Partly, they wonder what it is really all about, whether the fighting there is really worth the price of American lives.

In a sense, it is not worth it because there is little that is of more value than human life. If there is something of greater value than life, it is freedom and that is what we are fighting for in Viet Nam.

Most of us can easily recall the years from 1950 to 1953 when American soldiers were fighting and dying in another part of Asia—Korea. Was that battle worth it? Without a battle, Korea would today be communistic, an enemy of the United States.

Of Korea today, however, Editorial Research Reports, an arm of Congressional Quarterly, notes: "The word from Korea today is largely good . . . The October balloting was the freest and most peaceable in the 15 years in which South Korea has been a republic. The harvests of 1964 were liberal, the best in generations. The industrial production index in the past three years has risen . . .

"Gross national product grew 3.5 per cent in 1962, 6.8 per cent in 1963, 6.9 per cent last year . . . An impressive second five-year plan, to begin in 1967, aims at eventual balance of Korea's international payments. Complete self-sufficiency is the 1971 target."

Korea is a land we fought for. It is not yet completely over the hill of full independence but it is a long way toward that objective. We have no guarantees that the same thing will happen in Viet Nam but we can understand a little better why we are fighting in Asia today when we look again at Korea.

Recreation Looms Big

A rather large responsibility will soon be resting upon the shoulders of park and recreation officials throughout the state of Nebraska, from the state level down through the various communities. It will be a responsibility stemming from a situation with which these officials have not had much familiarity in the past—a relative abundance of money.

The situation comes about as the product of a federal matching program that will pump an estimated $1,250,000 into Nebraska in the fiscal year beginning July 1 for statewide recreational developments. Half the money will go directly to the state and half to local communities, to be used on a 50-50 matching basis.

This will mean a doubling of funds for many recreation programs. Obviously, the program will be a great boon to plans throughout this state for an advancement of leisure-time activities for all citizens. It will mean a realization of improvement far in advance of the time that was originally set for them.

But the end results could also be disappointing. They would be disappointing if the funds are dissipated with any carelessness and if they are spread too thinly to do an effective job in any single instance.

The state and local communities would be well advised to concentrate on excellence, to seek a state of perfection in what they do rather than spreading themselves over a great many projects of mediocrity. Also, the state would be well advised to strike a balance between those things aimed more at tourists and those things directed more toward the people of Nebraska themselves. Availability of funds is one part of any program and proper administration is the essential other part.

Inventors Have Good Future

It is getting too easy to say that in this age of scientists, research teams and laboratories, the individual inventor is a vanished breed.

The fact of it is that there are far more merchantable things to invent and a great many of them are still being produced by inventive individuals. And there are fine fortunes being made that way. Just don't give up hope.

Chester Carlson of Pittsfield, New York, is a fine example. He worked out a successful system of xerography.

Xerography is electro-photography and has a great deal to do with modern duplicating machines. You write a letter and want any number of copies quickly You put the original in one of the machines, turn on the switch and fine copies come out of the delivery shoot every fraction of a minute, dry and ready to use.

Mr. Carlson is a fertile inventor. He has just received his 37th patent although the one on xerography was enough in itself to keep him happy, wealthy and wise for any number of generations.

He has been named national inventor of the year, and that makes him feel good, too

Mr. Carlson started out life intending to be a physicist. But he became a patent attorney and that's where he got the idea of inventing. His electro-photographic printing process started as a vague idea. But he was persistent. He worked nights for quite a number of years in his apartment workshop before results showed he was really on the right track to something big. Now is it big.

The key to success in invention, it seems, is in shopping correctly for the right thing to invent. Work in a field that could stand improvement and has a market that will pay well for the improvement. Don't waste your time inventing things no one needs or wants.

Drug Companies Seeking Patents

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, absorbed with the Viet Nam crisis, has missed what some of his key executives are doing to turn several billion dollars in medical research, paid for by the taxpayers, over to the big drug companies.

The Johnson administration could be vulnerable on this, since Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor was formerly president of Merck, one of the companies which would benefit from the patent giveaway.

Secretary Connor has refrained from getting into the backstage wire-pulling. However, two of his assistants have not. They are Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Science and Technology J. Herbert Hollomon and his deputy, Dr. William W. Eaton. Hollomon is a former employe of General Electric, a company which already has 15,000 patents with which to protect itself from competition and which paid about one million dollars in fines and saw three of its executives sent to jail in one of the worst anti-monopoly cases in the country.

Incidentally, Hollomon and Eaton have been more active in favoring patent giveaways to industry since Secretary Connor took office.

Also active is an expert who operates from the White House itself — Dr. David Z. Beckler, an ex-patent attorney, now on the President's staff as assistant to Dr. Donald Hornig, the President's science adviser. Dr. Hornig, a former Princeton professor, is complacent about patent giveaways, but his assistant is not.

Research giveaways are too technical for the public to follow, but the matter comes up for a vote in the Senate this week in connection with the medicare bill. The issue briefly is this:

Shall the medical discoveries developed by the taxpayers' money be open to all the public, or shall they become the property of the big drug companies?

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., who has waged a consistent crusade against patent giveaways, has introduced an amendment to the medicare bill requiring that all medicines discovered through government-financed research remain with the public.

This has brought the drug company lobbyists swarming over the capital.

What the public doesn't realize is that $15 billion is spent by the government annually for research — in space, medicine, defense. And, on June 2, the Senate, by an amazing roll call switched its previous position and voted to give these government-financed space patents to the big defense contractors.

California Elections Becoming Involved

LOS ANGELES — Recent events suggest to California politicians that Barry Goldwater will try to add their state to Arizona as a Western conservative power base in the elections next year.

Goldwater said he would run for the Senate from Arizona whether or not the venerable incumbent, Democrat Carl Hayden, ran again. The new conservative crusade he also announced, the Free Society Association, is clearly calculated to expand his influence elsewhere and California is an obvious target.

It still has in being the well financed right wing forces which propelled Goldwater into the 1964 presidential nomination by winning the state Republican primary for him. These forces have a personable candidate for governor in actor Ronald Reagan who is being repackaged by a clever political management team, Spencer-Roberts & Associates, in the hope of cloaking his right wing history.

This is much the same goal as Goldwater's Free Society. It proposes to channel conservative voters and political action into a more moderate and acceptable group than the John Birch Society. It will bar the Ku Klux Klan but individual Birchers can join.

The prospect of another flaming schism like that faced by the state party last year will increase moderate Republican pressures on Senator Thomas Kuchel to run for governor. They are confident Kuchel would defeat Reagan and Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown but they do not discount the money problems that would certainly arise.

Goldwater's remarkable ability to attract cash from Republican pockets is what led National Chairman Ray Bliss to blast the Free Society on take-off. Bliss knows it will make his job harder.

Even without ideological and party-splitting overtones, the California elections will be complex and painful for a reason neither party nor any candidate can control or do much about. The reason is reapportionment.

It pits Northern California against the populous and ever-growing southern counties in the most direct and embittered way because a power shift between these old antagonists is inevitable. This tangle, shot through with personal clashes, persisted until the concluding hours of the session just ended.

Many comfortable and long-lasting arrangements between legislators and lobbyists for all manner of interests will be upset. Sacramento observers foresee along period of readjustment after the matter is finally resolved and much stress in between.

Gov. Brown is serene and cheerful despite the troubled session which denied him taxes to balance his budget. Recently he dined major supporters at the executive mansion and they came away convinced he is entirely confident of winning a third term. He has no primary problems.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Mr. Baruch, Unique Personality

BERNARD BARUCH

WASHINGTON — The career of Bernard Mannes Baruch was, above all, the triumph of a personality. Behind the imposing facade that he presented to Senate committees and on the steps of the White House was the skill of an actor who if he had chosen to go on the stage, as one of his brothers did, would have been the greatest of his time.

In relaxed moments he enjoyed doing imitations of men he had known in public life. A classic, as he acted it out, was of a senator of huge girth irately trying to get into an upper berth. Baruch would do the voices, the senator, the Pullman porter, the conductor — with the gestures.

His height and his imposing presence contributed greatly to the impression he made on everyone he met. Even after he had become almost totally deaf — a deafness which his hearing aid modified but little — he was a formidable witness in the many hearings at which he appeared over the years. There were those who felt his deafness was a positive help, since he could never hear a question he did not want to be bothered with.

Professional economists would rail at his convention views on balancing the budget and holding down inflation. But while they could compete with him in terms of professional opinion, they could never touch him in putting across a viewpoint.

His influence in Washington over the years was very great. One reason was his generosity with campaign contributions where they counted most. A close associate who had himself served a long period in Congress once said that he thought without much trouble he could compile a list of a hundred sitting senators and representatives to whom Baruch had contributed. He had a habit of phoning a favorite toward the end of a tough fight and saying:

"I've been following you and I just wanted to know if you needed any money."

Since there was never a politician who in the thick of a bitterly fought contest didn't need money, grateful sounds would come from the other end of the line and a check from Baruch for $5,000 would go into the mail that day. One of the remarkable aspects of his power and his personality was the wide range of his friendships. He was for many years close to Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, a notable conservative, and throughout most of her life he was a warm friend to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who was anathema to all right-thinking conservatives. He once, while still living in his five-story New York town house just off Fifth Avenue, told the following anecdote.

"Mrs. Roosevelt came to see me. There was a family crisis. For the first time I saw her cry. I went to my desk and wrote what was I should think the largest personal check I ever wrote."

He had a legion of friends in the press who found him a fascinating repository of events past and present. Whatever the crisis he always presented a front of serene confidence — confidence in his prescription if only the man in power would turn to him to find a way out of the trouble and confidence in the country. He liked to tell witty stories about his experience in Paris with Woodrow Wilson during the Versailles conference.

His personality played a large part in the highly favorable press he almost always got. His critics, who were fond of calling him privately an old fraud, found this baffling and infuriating.

At one point, Baruch had on his payroll a long-time associate as a public relations adviser. His friends remarked that this service was about as superfluous as anything could be, since he needed no advice in this field. His occasional salty cynicism came out when he once remarked of this associate: "I'm afraid he's living beyond my means."

Nowhere did the man and the environment meet so perfectly as on his 50,000-acre South Carolina estate, Hobcaw Barony. It was a rare privilege to be invited to Hobcaw where Baruch presided with the ante-bellum courtesy and kindness of the pre-Civil War past he treasured. This reporter has a vivid memory of sitting with him as he talked in a small garden enclosure at Hobcaw with several venerable Negroes from the nearby town. In this warmhearted exchange, time stood still with the benevolent master of the plantation counselling his admiring dependents.

Evenings at Hobcaw often meant small-stake roulette. Baruch was the croupier, doing a perfect imitation of a Monte Carlo croupier calling in French for the end of the play as the wheel started to spin. In his day there was no one quite like him. And, given the extraordinary discipline he applied to a personality with a wide range, it is unlikely there will be again in our narrower and more conformist age.

Since about only 10% or one-tenth of our total tax bill is levied and collected by the state, it would seem that this percentage for state expenses is a rather minor portion of our tax problems.

Obviously, the immediate beneficiaries of any new tax systems would be the large number of technical experts, inspectors and administrative assistants necessary to interpret and enforce the many provisions contained in such new systems.

Of course, our major tax burden would still remain and continue at the local or school district level. It is the amount of the local levy which is fixed by the school district boards that takes most of our tax dollars—and not the sums that are paid to the state on its mill levy.

Agree Or Not

Lincoln, Neb.

This week the pacifists are "hard to live with." Last week it was the artists and the week before, the "teach-in" professors. It is difficult to understand people when they take moral commitments seriously. When principles are in conflict, most of us are paralyzed. Academicians and artists are seldom activists.

However, last week some artists, believing our position in Viet Nam to be morally wrong, sacrificed or jeopardized something else in which they believed, in order to use the most potent protest opportunity they may ever have in their lives. Many of them have worked hard for the kind of national recognition and encouragement for the arts which the White House Festival represented. They even have a vested interest in it. Surely we can believe they did not lightly use it for political protest.

Now the pacifists are willing to spend time, money and effort to take a moral stand which is in conflict with their patriotism. So few who believe that war is a truly evil way to settle men's disputes do anything about it. Our editor calls these protests a "denial of the principles of democracy by which our people live." Some of us are sick of the kind of dedemocracy which receives wordy tributes at home and helps to support Uncle Sam type and other forceful dictatorships abroad.

Please, Mr. Editor, we are already a namby-pamby people. Don't ask those who have the courage to demonstrate moral alternatives to desist. They enrich us all, whether we agree with their choices or not. You were marvelous a few days ago on the income tax and the leaders who would sell Nebraska "cheap." We admire your courage and forcefulness there. Perhaps you should not waste yourself on national and international issues.

Moment Of Greatness

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

In rapid-fire action Tuesday, the state experienced a moment of glory but quickly was plunged to a new low. The new low was provided by Gov. Frank Morrison with a promised veto of the state income tax bill that, only moments before, had been passed by a 23-to-26 vote of the Legislature. Morrison's action is all but unbelievable and is so lacking in validity as to leave him mired in nothing but the mud of politics.

Later the same day, the governor indicated he might change his veto plans if the Legislature removes what he sees as conflicts with the income tax measure. In continually attacking the income tax on one basis and another, he has sought the defeat of the measure while trying to avoid the political complications thereof. Unless he does give consideration to changes the senators might now make in areas of possible conflict, his action will stand forever as one of the lowest political tricks in the history of Nebraska. Morrison in his initial and unconditional promise of a veto lacked the courage to plainly take a stand against the income tax and stick with it. Had he opposed the bill, so stated and then vetoed it, there would have been disagreement with him but it would have been honest disagreement.

Smacking Of Politics

Instead, the governor has hidden behind a technicality that is little more than a cover for his real position, whatever that might be. Perhaps he is philosophically opposed to an income tax or maybe he has made a political deal that pits him against the measure.

His promised veto, however, would come as a result of other action by the Legislature. He maintains that the income tax would jeopardize the six-year capital expenditures program passed Monday by the senators. This program sets a levy of 3.2 mills for six years to provide various state agencies with $68.5 million for building purposes.

In a mark of simplicity unfit for even a two-year-old, Governor Morrison says that since the building program is tied to the property tax, elimination of the property tax would eliminate the building program. That is a ridiculous position for a number of reasons. To begin with, the property tax is replaced by the income tax. This means that the programs adopted by the Legislature continue under an income tax, not that they are all abandoned. Secondly, the income tax does not become effective until Jan. 1, 1967, the year in which the first leg, the first biennium, of the building program expires. Actually, the building program is not a six-year program, at all.

The building program is a two-year plan with legislative intent of another four years. The fact is that this Legislature cannot bind a future legislature, and senators in 1967 will have to appropriate funds for the building program another two years on their own initiative. If they want it continued then, they could finance it with an income tax just as easily and simply as they could a property tax. The governor was asked about other special levies for such purposes as agricultural research, for instance. He replied that there was no problem there because they were only biennial, two-year, programs. Actually, the same thing is true of the building program but the governor chose to ignore this.

Also, the Legislature could and may yet amend the building program law to specifically permit its financing through an income tax. This may or may not be necessary but it would absolutely and without doubt remove the governor's trumped-up objections to the income tax bill.

But what did the governor say to that? Initially, he dodged the question by saying he would cross that bridge when and if he gets to it. Again later, he said corrective action might influence his position. Also, the governor could have accomplished his ends by vetoing the building program and sending it back to the Legislature for amendments, to bring it into conformity with the income tax.

Veto Difficult To Override

But he didn't do this because he doesn't want the income tax, even though he lacks the courage to stand up and flatly say so and act accordingly. Rather than taking a stand on the income tax, he is hiding behind a false claim of protection of the building program. Even the opponents of the income tax bill will recognize the governor's position as one of unprecedented weaseling. The fate of the income tax bill is now most uncertain. To override the governor's promised veto, assuming he sticks to that promise, would call for 30 votes and the measure could never muster that many.

Other avenues of approach are open but they all are directed at creation of conditions which would allow no room for a veto based on technical grounds. Should the governor fail to recognize and live with such conditions, he could not escape charges of political trickery and deceit.

Worth Fighting For

Americans are naturally ill at ease with their sons, fathers, husbands or friends dying in the jungles and rice paddies of South Viet Nam. Partly, they wonder what it is really all about, whether the fighting there is really worth the price of American lives.

In a sense, it is not worth it because there is little that is of more value than human life. If there is something of greater value than life, it is freedom and that is what we are fighting for in Viet Nam.

Most of us can easily recall the years from 1950 to 1953 when American soldiers were fighting and dying in another part of Asia—Korea. Was that battle worth it? Without a battle, Korea would today be communistic, an enemy of the United States.

Of Korea today, however, Editorial Research Reports, an arm of Congressional Quarterly, notes: "The word from Korea today is largely good . . . The October balloting was the freest and most peaceable in the 15 years in which South Korea has been a republic. The harvests of 1964 were liberal, the best in generations. The industrial production index in the past three years has risen . . .

"Gross national product grew 3.5 per cent in 1962, 6.8 per cent in 1963, 6.9 per cent last year . . . An impressive second five-year plan, to begin in 1967, aims at eventual balance of Korea's international payments. Complete self-sufficiency is the 1971 target."

Korea is a land we fought for. It is not yet completely over the hill of full independence but it is a long way toward that objective. We have no guarantees that the same thing will happen in Viet Nam but we can understand a little better why we are fighting in Asia today when we look again at Korea.

Recreation Looms Big

A rather large responsibility will soon be resting upon the shoulders of park and recreation officials throughout the state of Nebraska, from the state level down through the various communities. It will be a responsibility stemming from a situation with which these officials have not had much familiarity in the past—a relative abundance of money.

The situation comes about as the product of a federal matching program that will pump an estimated $1,250,000 into Nebraska in the fiscal year beginning July 1 for statewide recreational developments. Half the money will go directly to the state and half to local communities, to be used on a 50-50 matching basis.

This will mean a doubling of funds for many recreation programs. Obviously, the program will be a great boon to plans throughout this state for an advancement of leisure-time activities for all citizens. It will mean a realization of improvement far in advance of the time that was originally set for them.

But the end results could also be disappointing. They would be disappointing if the funds are dissipated with any carelessness and if they are spread too thinly to do an effective job in any single instance.

The state and local communities would be well advised to concentrate on excellence, to seek a state of perfection in what they do rather than spreading themselves over a great many projects of mediocrity. Also, the state would be well advised to strike a balance between those things aimed more at tourists and those things directed more toward the people of Nebraska themselves. Availability of funds is one part of any program and proper administration is the essential other part.

Inventors Have Good Future

It is getting too easy to say that in this age of scientists, research teams and laboratories, the individual inventor is a vanished breed.

The fact of it is that there are far more merchantable things to invent and a great many of them are still being produced by inventive individuals. And there are fine fortunes being made that way. Just don't give up hope.

Chester Carlson of Pittsfield, New York, is a fine example. He worked out a successful system of xerography.

Xerography is electro-photography and has a great deal to do with modern duplicating machines. You write a letter and want any number of copies quickly. You put the original in one of the machines, turn on the switch and fine copies come out of the delivery shoot every fraction of a minute, dry and ready to use.

Mr. Carlson is a fertile inventor. He has just received his 37th patent although the one on xerography was enough in itself to keep him happy, wealthy and wise for any number of generations.

He has been named national inventor of the year, and that makes him feel good, too.

Mr. Carlson started out life intending to be a physicist. But he became a patent attorney and that's where he got the idea of inventing. His electro-photographic printing process started as a vague idea. But he was persistent. He worked nights for quite a number of years in his apartment workshop before results showed he was really on the right track to something big. Now is it big.

The key to success in invention, it seems, is in shopping correctly for the right thing to invent. Work in a field that could stand improvement and has a market that will pay well for the improvement. Don't waste your time inventing things no one needs or wants.

Drug Companies Seeking Patents

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, absorbed with the Viet Nam crisis, has missed what some of his key executives are doing to turn several billion dollars in medical research, paid for by the taxpayers, over to the big drug companies.

The Johnson administration could be vulnerable on this, since Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor was formerly president of Merck, one of the companies which would benefit from the patent giveaway.

Secretary Connor has refrained from getting into the backstage wire-pulling. However, two of his assistants have not. They are Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Science and Technology J. Herbert Hollomon and his deputy, Dr. William W. Eaton. Hollomon is a former employe of General Electric, a company which already has 15,000 patents with which to protect itself from competition and which paid about one million dollars in fines and saw three of its executives sent to jail in one of the worst anti-monopoly cases in the country.

Incidentally, Hollomon and Eaton have been more active in favoring patent giveaways to industry since Secretary Connor took office.

Also active is an expert who operates from the White House itself — Dr. David Z. Beckler, an ex-patent attorney, now on the President's staff as assistant to Dr. Donald Hornig, the President's science adviser. Dr. Hornig, a former Princeton professor, is complacent about patent giveaways, but his assistant is not.

Research giveaways are too technical for the public to follow, but the matter comes up for a vote in the Senate this week in connection with the medicare bill. The issue briefly is this:

Shall the medical discoveries developed by the taxpayers' money be open to all the public, or shall they become the property of the big drug companies?

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., who has waged a consistent crusade against patent giveaways, has introduced an amendment to the medicare bill requiring that all medicines discovered through government-financed research remain with the public.

This has brought the drug company lobbyists swarming over the capital.

What the public doesn't realize is that $15 billion is spent by the government annually for research — in space, medicine, defense. And, on June 2, the Senate, by an amazing roll call switched its previous position and voted to give these government-financed space patents to the big defense contractors.

California Elections Becoming Involved

LOS ANGELES — Recent events suggest to California politicians that Barry Goldwater will try to add their state to Arizona as a Western conservative power base in the elections next year.

Goldwater said he would run for the Senate from Arizona whether or not the venerable incumbent, Democrat Carl Hayden, ran again. The new conservative crusade he also announced, the Free Society Association, is clearly calculated to expand his influence elsewhere and California is an obvious target.

It still has in being the well financed right wing forces which propelled Goldwater into the 1964 presidential nomination by winning the state Republican primary for him. These forces have a personable candidate for governor in actor Ronald Reagan who is being repackaged by a clever political management team, Spencer-Roberts & Associates, in the hope of cloaking his right wing history.

This is much the same goal as Goldwater's Free Society. It proposes to channel conservative voters and political action into a more moderate and acceptable group than the John Birch Society. It will bar the Ku Klux Klan but individual Birchers can join.

The prospect of another flaming schism like that faced by the state party last year will increase moderate Republican pressures on Senator Thomas Kuchel to run for governor. They are confident Kuchel would defeat Reagan and Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown but they do not discount the money problems that would certainly arise.

Goldwater's remarkable ability to attract cash from Republican pockets is what led National Chairman Ray Bliss to blast the Free Society on take-off. Bliss knows it will make his job harder.

Even without ideological and party-splitting overtones, the California elections will be complex and painful for a reason neither party nor any candidate can control or do much about. The reason is reapportionment.

It pits Northern California against the populous and ever-growing southern counties in the most direct and embittered way because a power shift between these old antagonists is inevitable. This tangle, shot through with personal clashes, persisted until the concluding hours of the session just ended.

Many comfortable and long-lasting arrangements between legislators and lobbyists for all manner of interests will be upset. Sacramento observers foresee along period of readjustment after the matter is finally resolved and much stress in between.

Gov. Brown is serene and cheerful despite the troubled session which denied him taxes to balance his budget. Recently he dined major supporters at the executive mansion and they came away convinced he is entirely confident of winning a third term. He has no primary problems.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Mr. Baruch, Unique Personality

WASHINGTON — The career of Bernard Mannes Baruch was, above all, the triumph of a personality. Behind the imposing facade that he presented to Senate committees and on the steps of the White House was the skill of an actor who if he had chosen to go on the stage, as one of his brothers did, would have been the greatest of his time.

BERNARD BARUCH

In relaxed moments he enjoyed doing imitations of men he had known in public life. A classic, as he acted it out, was of a senator of huge girth irately trying to get into an upper berth. Baruch would do the voices, the senator, the Pullman porter, the conductor — with the gestures.

His height and his imposing presence contributed greatly to the impression he made on everyone he met. Even after he had become almost totally deaf — a deafness which his hearing aid modified but little — he was a formidable witness in the many hearings at which he appeared over the years. There were those who felt his deafness was a positive help, since he could never hear a question he did not want to be bothered with.

Professional economists would rail at his convention views on balancing the budget and holding down inflation. But while they could compete with him in terms of professional opinion, they could never touch him in putting across a viewpoint.

His influence in Washington over the years was very great. One reason was his generosity with campaign contributions where they counted most. A close associate who had himself served a long period in Congress once said that he thought without much trouble he could compile a list of a hundred sitting senators and representatives to whom Baruch had contributed. He had a habit of phoning a favorite toward the end of a tough fight and saying:

"I've been following you and I just wanted to know if you needed any money."

Since there was never a politician who in the thick of a bitterly fought contest didn't need money, grateful sounds would come from the other end of the line and a check from Baruch for $5,000 would go into the mail that day. One of the remarkable aspects of his power and his personality was the wide range of his friendships. He was for many years close to Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, a notable conservative, and throughout most of her life he was a warm friend to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who was anathema to all right-thinking conservatives. He once, while still living in his five-story New York town house just off Fifth Avenue, told the following anecdote.

"Mrs. Roosevelt came to see me. There was a family crisis. For the first time I saw her cry. I went to my desk and wrote what was I should think the largest personal check I ever wrote."

☆ ☆ ☆

He had a legion of friends in the press who found him a fascinating repository of events past and present. Uniform Building Code Again Studied

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The Uniform Building Code, already recommended for adoption by the City of Lincoln, again came under consideration by the City Building Code Study Committee Tuesday evening

The committee heard a report submitted by the International Conference of Building Officials, parent body of the Uniform Code, pointing out areas in which the uniform code and Lincoln's present code are in obvious conflict or general agreement.

Charles Seale, city superintendent of building inspection and chairman of the committee, said that subcommittees will examine these areas and recommend possible changes at the next meeting.

Additional Meetings

He said that a more detailed analysis of the report will require additinnal subcommittee meetings before a report is made.

Duane Vicary of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, which has been critical of Lincoln's existing building code, attended the meeting.

The Chamber has contended that the present code has restricted the city's ability to attract industry.

Vicary told the group that the Chamber agrees with any effort to adopt a model building code.

Seale said that adopting a model code will have the effect of "lessening some standards" in favor of industrial development.

The committee also heard Bob Woest, chairman of the plumbing code subcommittee, advocate the adoption of the National Plumbing Code, with some revisions

Restrictive

Woest said that his subcommittee felt that the city has been somewhat restrictive in this area, but also that the city's present code does not cover certain points that should be strengthened.

The code study committee plans extensive review of the uniform code and the city's present code before a final recommendation is made to the City Council.

Also planned is a study of the electrical code and the fire prevention code.

Lana Turner Is Married To Sixth Husband, Eaton

Arlington, Va. (AP)—Actress Lana Turner married husband No. 6 Tuesday night — businessman Robert Eaton, in a double ring ceremony which Miss Turner described as "simple, but so beautiful."

The wedding, Eaton's first, took place at the small white brick home of the bridegroom's father, W. A. Eaton, a retired Navy captain.

Miss Turner, 44, was dressed in what she called a "peach Italian lace over coral and China silk" street-length dress.

A tier of pale peach carnations decorated her blonde hair.

"We plan to do some sightseeing in Virginia—this is my first visit in the Arlington area," she said. "But we have to go back to California Saturday."

A local magistrate performed the ceremony and Miss Turner said, "I was so nervous but he put me completely at ease. It was simple and so beautiful."

The previous five husbands of the actress were bandleader Artie Shaw, restaurant owner Stephen Crane, Bob Topping, actor Lex Barker and sportsman Fred May.

New Season Of Plays Off To Good Start

By WAYNE KREUSCHER
Star Staff Writer

The villain wears black, the hero wears white and the heroine is pure. The room is smoke-filled and the audience cheers the good guy and hisses the bad guy.

In other words, Theater, Inc. of Lincoln's third season of "Mellerdrammers" got off to a fine start Tuesday night with address rehearsal performance of "The Drunkard."

Moved from the Lincoln Hotel to a bar in a converted garage at 322 So. 9th, the "mellerdramers'" new season opened with the story of the hero, Edward (Noel Thomas), who marries the heroine, Mary (Sharon Fischer), against the efforts of the evil lawyer, Cribbs (Sam Van Pelt).

Edward, under the influence of Cribbs, becomes a drunkard and his family and home almost fall into the hands of the wicked lawyer.

At the end, of course, the hero with the assistance of Sweet William (Pat Healey) and others is dramatically saved from demon rum and the villain is (curses) foiled again.

"The Drunkard" is directed by Roland Reed, who also directs the Lincoln Community Playhouse, and will be performed for three weeks at 8:30 p.m. from Wednesday through Saturday each week.

Other "mellerdrammers" this season will be the group's first musical, "No, No a Million Times No," July 14-31, and "He Done Her Wrong," Aug. 4-28, with alternating casts.

Contract Awarded

Washington (UPI)—The Air Force announced through the office of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., it has awarded a $1,077,651 contract to Collins Radio Co. Dallas, for production of transportable communications systems.

Hoppe Heights Sewer Issue Discussed

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

About 30 residents of the Hoppe Heights subdivision in the vacinity of 40th and Gertie Ave., met Tuesday night with two city officials in an effort to resolve communication difficulties over reported sewage back-up in homes in the area.

David Higgins, 4104 Gertie Ave., apparent spokesman for the group, called be meeting with Lee Blocker, acting city director of public utilities, and Dick Erickson, city engineer.

At issue was a statement made by Blocker in a City Council meeting two weeks ago when he said that it was his opinion that the "city held no liability for any damage suffered by residents of the subdivision caused by sewage backup."

Nothing It Could Do

The City Council decided at that meeting that there was nothing it would do about the situation, and deferred the matter for further study.

Blocker, when asked to expand his statement, told the neighborhood meeting that he reaffirmed his statement of non-liability because his department, in its studies, found that the sewage system was functioning adequately in that area.

He attributed basement waters to heavy rains which had run into basements through windows.

Several residents responded claiming that Blocker's information had to be incorrect. One resident claimed that all the water in his basement came directly from the sewer, and "not a drop from rain water coming in through windows."

'In Good Faith'

Hal L. Schroeder, general manager of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District, attempted to clear the controversy by explaining that when the subdivision was developed, all parties — the City Council, which approved the subdivision; Salt-Wahoo, which determined it could be made free from flooding with proper precautions; loan companies, which approve areas —had agreed in good faith," that the area was satisfactoy to build in.

Schroeder said further that all must share the responsibility for coffecting any problems which exist today. He said that part of the problem might be placed on Beale Slough a tributary of Salt Creek, but that other factors had to enter into the problem.

One housewife attending the meeting commented that "maybe it will take a few cases of typhoid to make the city realize that it has a problem."

Not Written Off

Blocker told the group that the city had not completely written off the area's problem, and urged all parties concerned to work toward a solution.

John Hoppe, subdivision developer, when asked by one housewife for his opinion on the problem, said that he is "always misquoted in the newspapers," and refused comment while the press was present.

Higgins said that another meetng would be held later in the week to determine action. He said that the residents probably would send representatives or an attorney to the City Council and Salt-Wahoo Watershed District to present their side of the issue.

"No one out here wants to abandon his home," Higgins said. "We can't let it drop here."

Hearing On Hours For Beer Sales In Walton Slated

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday agreed to t a public hearing on an appli cation by Peter and Dorothy Keim for extension of hours for the sale of off-sale beer on Sundays.

The Keims, who operate the Walton Market in Walton, told the commissioners the numerous requests and a demand for the sale of off-sale beer in the vicinity on Sunday prompted their request.

Hoover Home Is National Landmark

Washington (AP) — The two-room cottage where former President Herbert Hoover was born in West Branch, Iowa, was designated Tuesday night as a national historic landmark.

Also marked for landmark status were the Amana villages in Iowa County. It was one of several "experiments in communal living" so designated.

The Hoover birthplace and the Amana villages were among 33 sites given "registered national historical landmark" recognition by the Interior Departent.

The new list brings to 608 the total number of sites approved for inclusion in the landmark registry.

A "registered national historical landmark" is a site or building considered as possessing exceptional value in commemorating or illustrating the history of the United States. Some are federally owned, but most are in state, community or private ownership.

Legislation has been introduced in Congress to make Hoover's birthplace a national historic site in federal ownership.

Inmates' Banners Feature Warden

Boston (UPI) — Massachusetts officials recalled a batch of flags made by inmates of the Framingham Women's Reformatory.

Whitney Smith Jr., director of the Flag Research Center, told a legislative committee that the prisoners made an error.

Insecticide Shampoo Kills 2 Small Children

Catanzaro, Italy (AP)— Two small sisters, aged 3 and 1, died after an insecticide shampoo. Their three elder sisters, 6, 8 and 9, were in critical condition.

Police said the mother of the girls washed their hair with a mixture of water and insecticide at their home in Filadelphia, south of this city near the tip of the Italian boot.

Burton's Former Wife Finds New Marriage Super

New York (AP)—Married life is simply "super," Sybil Burton Christopher, said Tuesday.

"I'm wonderfully happy," she told newsmen at Kennedy Airport before taking off to rejoin her husband, Jordan Christopher, leader of the entertainment group, "The Wild Ones."

The former wife of actor Richard Burton was married to Christopher June 13. Three days later, he flew to Cape Coral, Fla., to fulfil a motion picture commitment.

Mrs. Christopher said she will spend about two weeks with him.

The summery evenings of June now being upon us, we are back to the barbecue.

Barbecue is getting fancier and fancier. I went out and bought a very fancy barbecue. It has hoods, Rotary turners. And, in fact, this barbecue is so much like the stove that all you have to do is buy a long cord. Plug it in and run the line out of the porch.

After I got this all set up, I discovered you had to burn two expensive sacks of charcoal to get the heat up—it was that big.

So I went to Macy's and got a splendid hibachi barbecue with legs on it for $5.99. And it works just fine.

I note that many famous people barbecue these days. We are in good company.

President Eisenhower went to Palm Springs. Lit up the old fire and cooked 23 steaks. Thus becoming the cook-out President of our charcoal times.

"He cooked sausages and steaks and burned only one small piece of meat," reported the alert barbecue editor of the Daily Mail.

I don't know what the ground rules are in England. But that is certainly a giveaway—"burned only one small piece of meat"

The whole idea of barbecuing is to burn the meat.

Well, we are simple, loveable home folks here at suburban Shady Acres. We don't have as much shade as we used to. Some of the shade trees were in the line of a new four-lane freeway the state is building — for our own good, mind you.

So they cut them down. It was progress. Which you don't stand in the way of. Unless you want to get run over by a couple of injunctions and a Caterpillar tractor.

All simple, loveable home folks do simple loveable homey things.

The simplest is barbecuing. And, all around us, on the June night rises the smoke of our camp fires. And the simple, loveable voices of the barbecuers:

"Blast! And this and that! Where are the blasted tongs?"

Barbecue is serious business with us outdoors types. We would sooner run a fork into a child than fork a sirloin. It lets the juices out.

Do you know what we are doing with the juices? We are sealing them in! That's what.

We put the old grill on the fire. And the charcoal must be just right. No red. But gray with just a tinge of rosy glow showing through.

Now at the right minute—not before—you drop the steak on the grill.

Immediately, the steak will begin to drip fat. The fat is in the fire. The fat burns into a four-alarm—a great gush of flame that singes your eyebrows.

This does not alarm us old firemen.

You know what we do? We shoot it with a water pistol. All barbecuers carry water pistols. I am the fastest gun in Shady Acres.

☆ ☆ ☆

At this point, your guest—(there's always one of these creeps)—says:

"Don't you think that'll steam them up too much? What I do is lay lettuce leaves on the blaze."

He says: "I think that fire got away from you a little. It looks just a shade too gray."

He says: "Do you want me to make the next batch of martinis? These got pretty watery while you were putting the steaks on."

☆ ☆ ☆

He says: "Hey, quit clowning and pointing that water pistol at me. I might get wet. Are you crazy?"

You say: "If you think this is the water pistol, you're crazy."

FORMER
coed is June bride

The wedding of Miss Jeanette Kay Botts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ward Botts of Oklahoma City, and Duane Charles McNeill, son of Mr.and Mrs. Loyal C. McNeill, took place Wednesday, June 2, at the Central Christian Church in Enid, Okla. The candlelight service was solemnized by the Rev. James Christensen, assisted by the Rev. John Young of Tyler, Tex.

Frocked in pale yellow delustered satin were Miss Jacike Wheeler of Deming, N.M., the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Carole Dalton, Colorado Springs, and Miss Janice Grammont, Enid.

David Fischer, Hutchinson, Kan., served as best man, and the corps of ushers included John Clark, Salina, Kan.; Richard Svoboda and Sid Keelan, Lincoln; and Ronnie Decker, Enid.

The bride appeared in a gown of traditional white satin. The decollete bodice was covered by a long-sleeved jacket of Chantilly lace, and the skirt of unpressed pleats was completed by a detachable train of the satin and lace. She carried a white Bible showered with white orchids and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill will live in Enid, where the bridegroom, a former student at the University of Nebraska, is studying for the ministry at Phillips University. The bride is a graduate of Phillips University.

LIFE
is very gay in the suburban areas

It is another Wednesday and another busy day in Suburbia, socially speaking that is.

The social set of Cotner Terrace, Kimberly Heights, and Sunnyside acres report a variety of activity. But first to Cotner Terrace where we hear things are flying high.

COTNER TERRACE

When we mentioned flying high we didn't mean just socially. It seems that a very daring James Schliegelmilch has gone airborne for the summer. He is taking flying lessons, to be more exact, and plans to get his license at the end of summer. Mrs. Schliegelmilch hopes to be her husband's first passenger but is somewhat dubious as to her ability as a flying partner. But, until that day arrives Mr. and Mrs. Schliegelmilch are going to keep themselves occupied with ground activities.

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Schliegelmilch attended a block picnic. 'the residents along North 67th Street blocked off one street for their picnic activities. A pot luck supper was enjoyed by the participants after which the time was spent informally. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Schliegelmilch had Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Karr and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Becker over to their home for refreshments. All in all it added up to a well-spent and fun-packed Saturday night.

Mrs. Charles Leddy was busy last week with the necessary preparations that it took to entertain her Pinochle Club. Mrs. Leddy decided that Thursday would be the day to host a meeting of the club and that a dessert luncheon would be the perfect way to start off the afternoon. All eight members were present to surround the two card tables following the luncheon.

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

There are more travels and vacations to mention in the Kimberly Heights region but first we would like to tell you about a Sunday night cook-out.

Mrs. Howard Frey and daughter, Donna Jean, were hostesses in their backyard on Sunday when they entertained a guest six-some. The barbecue delights prepared by the hostesses were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kollars and daughter Cynthia, and by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pearson and their son Gary.

Arriving home on Sunday after a week's vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Kerwyn Overy. The couple began the seven day jaunt by attending a wedding in Colorado Springs, Colo. From there they drove to Fergus Falls, Minn., for a few days of fishing at Pickering Lake. We have reliable word that the fishing venture was quite successful as they reaped in a carload of Northern trout and Walleyed Pike.

SUNNYSIDE ACRES

There are welcome mats out in the Sunnyside Acres area also.

The new suburban dwellers are Mr. and Mrs. Art Nicolai and children Nancy and Jimmy. The four Nicolais moved to the city from Hebron, June 7, and already have decided they like their new home surroundings. Nancy, who is seven, and Jimmy who is five, are anticipating the coming school year at Pershing as they are meeting new school chums this summer. Mr. Nicolai is studying educational administration at the University of Nebraska and upon completion of his studies he hopes to practice in Lincoln.

Marriage

Lighted white candles and arrangements of lavender gladioli decorated the chancel of the Christian Church at Pawnee City on Friday afternoon, June 18, for the wedding of Miss Sharon Peacock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith W. Peacock of Pawnee City, and Gerald E. Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish of Elk Creek. The 5 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. B. F. Parnell of Harrison, Ark.

Bell-skirted frocks of lavender silk organza and lace were worn by the attendants who were Mrs. Paul J. Redwine, Jr., Lincoln, the matron of honor; Miss Carla Jacobson, Otoe, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert L. Caldwell, Kearney; Mrs. Ted G. Leefers, Avoca; and Miss Carolyn Gates, Lincoln.

Robert Koehler of Ft. Carson, Colo., served as best man, and seating the guests were Keith Parrish and Charles Parrish, Jr., brothers of the bridegroom, William Burns and Harlan Plager, all of Elk Creek; Roger Peacock, Pawnee City, brother of the bride; Henry Kirchoff, Jr., Syracuse; Steven Bates and Gary Bates, Lincoln.

The bride's gown in traditional white was fashioned with a long-sleeved basque of Chantilly lace and a bouffant organza skirt, caught up at the hemline to reveal an underskirt of lace. A Watteau train of oganza and lace completed her gown, and a jeweled crown held her vail of illusion. She carried white roses centered with an orchid.

Mr. Parrish and his bride, a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University and a graduate of Peru State College, will live in Lincoln, at 3143 No. 56th.

PLANS
late August wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Velvick this morning are making announcement of the betrothal of their daughter, Beverly, to Roger Zuerlein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Zuerlein.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 20, and the ceremony will be solemnized at Trinity Methodist Church.

Both Miss Velvick and her fiance are former students at Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. Zuerlein is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Wedding

For the wedding of Miss Nancy Kay Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morton of Doniphan, and Rex H. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex A. Howard of Gering, which took place Sunday afternoon, June 20, bouquets of summer blossoms in white and pink appointed the chancel of the Doniphan Methodist Church. The Rev. Duane Sinn read the lines of the service at 4 o'clock.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Marvin Schoonover of Casper, Wyo., appeared in a long-skirted frock of pink peau de soie. Costumed identically were Mrs. Henry Hinrichs of Lincoln, the bridesmatron; and the bridesmaids, Miss Linda Howard of Gering, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Susan Cropper of Omaha.

Rowen Zetterman of Schickley, served as best man, and the ushers were Bob Morton of Doniphan, brother of the bride; James Putman, Ogallala; Tom Parfet, Denver; John Torgerson, Aurora; Bruce Barnes and Bill Conant, Lincoln.

Imported lace embroidered with seed pearls trimmed the bride's gown of white peau de soie. The long-sleeved basque was accented by a lace-scalloped neckline, and the slim skirt was draped into back fullness and extended into a chapel train.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard will reside in Albuquerque, N.M. Both are May graduates of Nebraska Wesleyan University where the bride is a member of Willard sorority. Mr. Howard's fraternity is Phi Kappa Tau.

LIFE

is very gay in the suburban areas

It is another Wednesday and another busy day in Suburbia, socially speaking that is.

The social set of Cotner Terrace, Kimberly Heights, and Sunnyside acres report a variety of activity. But first to Cotner Terrace where we hear things are flying high.

COTNER TERRACE

When we mentioned flying high we didn't mean just socially. It seems that a very daring James Schliegelmilch has gone airborne for the summer. He is taking flying lessons, to be more exact, and plans to get his license at the end of summer. Mrs. Schliegelmilch hopes to be her husband's first passenger but is somewhat dubious as to her ability as a flying partner. But, until that day arrives Mr. and Mrs. Schliegelmilch are going to keep themselves occupied with ground activities

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Schliegelmilch attended a block picnic. 'the residents along North 67th Street blocked off one street for their picnic activities. A pot luck supper was enjoyed by the participants after which the time was spent informally. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Schliegelmilch had Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Karr and Mr and Mrs. Clifford Becker over to their home for refreshments. All in all it added up to a well-spent and fun-packed Saturday night.

Mrs. Charles Leddy was busy last week with the necessary preparations that it took to entertain her Pinochle Club. Mrs. Leddy decided that Thursday would be the day to host a meeting of the club and that a dessert luncheon would be the perfect way to start off the afternoon. All eight members were present to surround the two card tables following the luncheon.

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

There are more travels and vacations to mention in the Kimberly Heights region but first we would like to tell you about a Sunday night cook-out.

Mrs. Howard Frey and daughter, Donna Jean, were hostesses in their backyard on Sunday when they entertained a guest sixsome. The barbecue delights prepared by the hostesses were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kollars and daughter Cynthia, and by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pearson and their son Gary.

Arriving home on Sunday after a week's vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Kerwyn Overy. The couple began the seven day jaunt by attending a wedding in Colorado Springs, Colo. From there they drove to Fergus Falls, Minn., for a few days of fishing at Pickering Lake. We have reliable word that the fishing venture was quite successful as they reaped in a carload of Northern trout and Walleyed Pike.

SUNNYSIDE ACRES

There are welcome mats out in the Sunnyside Acres area also.

The new suburban dwellers are Mr. and Mrs. Art Nicolai and children Nancy and Jimmy. The four Nicolais moved to the city from Hebron, June 7, and already have decided they like their new home surroundings. Nancy, who is seven, and Jimmy who is five, are anticipating the coming school year at Pershing as they are meeting new school chums this summer. Mr. Nicolai is studying educational administration at the University of Nebraska and upon completion of his studies he hopes to practice in Lincoln.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for four months and pregnant for two. I am delighted and so is my husband. But here's the problem: From the moment I got my engagement ring I started to get it from all sides. My mother, his mother, my grandmother, his aunts, everyone said, "Now don't go and have a baby the first year you're married!" Then I heard lengthy lectures on the high cost of living and the importance of "getting to know your husband first." I've heard this so often I feel like a complete dimwit for wanting a baby so soon. Now I'm actually afraid to tell anyone. I'm 22 and it's not like I didn't know any better. We both wanted a baby right away. How should I tell people? And what do I say when they make smart remarks? I'm sure no one will believe we planned it.

GOT A SECRET

DEAR GOT: Tell people when you are good and ready. And don't be sheepish. You owe no one any explanations or apologies. A planned child is a gift and a privilege. Enjoy it!

DEAR ABBY: Can't "UP IN ARMS" see that the teacher was staying on her own time in order to teach discipline to that group of youngsters? She wasn't getting time and a half overtime! I am not a teacher, but I can remember that 30 years ago that method worked. The teacher didn't know the guilty party, but WE did. No one told the teacher, but the culpirt was told by the rest of the class, and it never happened again.

Why, oh, why do parents think they are doing their children a kindness by letting them "express themselves?" We must have discipline and consideration for the next person if we are to live healthy, happy, peaceful lives. Proverbs we lived by are unknown to young people. Even the Golden Rule has changed to "Do it to them before they do it to you." No one takes the time to teach our young people moral lessons. Everyone is hurrying to his grave.

Sincerely,

GRANDMA

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3 ♦	3 ♠	Pass	3 NT
Pass	4 ♥	Dble	Pass
Pass	4 ♠	Dble

Opening lead — ace of diamonds.

Peggy Rotzell, of Philadelphia, who wins far more than her fair share of tournaments, found herself playing four spades doubled in the accompanying hand.

East, taking advantage of the vulnerability, had opened the bidding with three diamonds. When Miss Rotzell overcalled with three spades, West managed to restrain himself and pass, but when South then bid four hearts over three notrump, West could contain himself no longer and doubled—pianissimo.

Realizing that there was a serious danger of playing the hand with a four card trump suit, Miss Rotzell ran to four spades, which West doubled accrescendo, appassionato, and fortissimo—and pretty loud at that.

West led the ace of diamonds, which South ruffed. A low club to the ace, catching the king, was followed by another diamond ruff.

Miss Rotzell now decided, from both the vigor of the double and West's obvious shortage in the minor suits, that West had all five trumps, Having arrived at this conclusion, she put into action a plan to combat West's five trump winners.

She cashed the A-K-Q of hearts, and, when East failed to ruff, Miss Rotzell's suspicions were conirmed. She then trumped the jack of hearts and ruffed still another of dummy's diamonds.

By this time, eight rricks had been played and Miss Rotzell had won them all. West by now had only the A-Q-10-9-6 of spades, while South had the K-J-8 of trumps and the J-6 of clubs.

A club lead forced West to ruff and return a spade to the jack, after which another club lead forced West to present declarer with her tenth trick in the form of the king of spades.

West made only three tricks — the A-10-6 of trumps.

East had very little to say about the result. He had only one criticism. He thought that West should have doubled all right, but—diminuendo.

Outdoor Beauty

That lovely fair complexion of yours was never meant to stand up to the harsh summer weather. Be kind to it, see that it is well protected when you're golfing, lazing on the beach, or anywhere in the great outdoors. Wear a wide, shady hat and sunglasses—this will keep you from squinting your eyes. Before you venture out smooth on your oil of Olay before making-up, and don't forget your neck. Your skin will maintain a milky look despite the drying effect of the summer.

Algiers Youth Riots Support Deposed Leader Ben Bella

Algiers (AP) — Hundreds of youths surged into downtown Algiers Tuesday night in the third day of rioting in support of deposed President Ahmed Ben Bella.

The new outbreak came as Col. Houari Boumedienne's strongman regime deployed security forces in the capital and other key points in this nation of 12 million in an effort to avert further violence that might interfere with the upcoming African-Asian conference.

Boumedienne's regime officially admitted for the first time that Ben Bella and five of his chief lieutenants were under arrest.

New Rioting

The new rioting began when hundreds of the deposed president's supporters tried to march on the center of Algiers, shouting "Ya ya Ben Bella" (Long live Ben Bella).

The army wheeled out water trucks and dispersed the youths with streams of water. The crowds tried to gather again near the main post office, but they were scattered with a fresh dousing.

Generally the regime seemed to be trying to avert a major show of force against the youths, prefering instead to cool their passions in the sweltering city with the water hoses.

Some youths roamed the city in cars, honking horns in two long and three short blasts to imitate the cadence of the Arabic chant, "Ya ya Ben Bella." They borrowed this tactic from French settlers who used three short and two long honks to simulate their battle cry, "Algerie Francaise," during Algeria's war for independence.

Later in the evening calm returned to the city.

The first official word of Ben Bella's fate came in an announcement in the Algerian government newspaper Alger Ce Soir. In addition to Ben Bella, it said Hadj Ben Allah, former president of the national assembly and a close associate of the deposed strongman, was among those arrested. Ben Allah earlier had been reported killed in a scuffle resisting arrest.

Western diplomats said Boumedienne, 40, was an ardent Arab nationalist opposed to the clique of leftist extremists that gathered around Ben Bella.

These diplomats saw the army coup as a pan-Arab, anti-Communist movement. One Western ambassador said his relations with Algerian authorities was better than they had been for months. In general, the diplomats saw the regime as neutralist on the Egyptian pattern.

Went Ahead

Officials went ahead with arrangements for the foreign ministers' conference, scheduled to begin Thursday in the Algerian National Assembly Building overlooking the waterfront in downtown Algiers. The ministers are supposed to lay the groundwork for the African-Asian summit conference.

Several factors may eventually induce Boumedienne to accept a postponement of the summit session:

—The constant threat of a new upsurge of rioting on behalf of Ben Bella until Boumedienne finally consolidates his position.

Government Mystery

—The lack of a full Algerian government. Aside from Abdelaziz Bouteflika in the foreign affairs post and the appointment of Ahmed Medeghri as interior minister and acting finance minister, the composition of the nation's new revolutionary council is still a mystery.
ary council is still a mystery.

—The proposal of the Commonwealth countries that the summit be postponed—a position already taken by Japan and perhaps other nations as well.

Pools, Youth Centers Shut; Civil Rights Probe Started

Griffin, Ga. (AP)— City officials closed public swimming pools and youth centers to prevent integration Tuesday and the Justice Department immediately began an investigation under the civil rights act.

Shotly after the city's two pools and two youth centers —maintained separately for Negroes and whites — were closed, the FBI said in Atlanta its agents were investigating.

The FBI said results of the investigation would be turned over to the Justice Department.

Keep Peace

An announcement from the office of City Manager Jack Langford said the facilities were closed at the direction of the city commission to keep peace in the community of about 23,000 persons.

Seven Negroes were arrested late Tuesday while picketing city hall. Authorities said they were charged with blocking the sidewalk. Bond was set a $37.50 each.

Twenty-two Negroes were arrested Monday and 17 remained in jail Tuesday in lieu of $37.50 bond each. They are charged with blocking a sidewalk in front of the white youth center. The others were juveniles who were released to the custody of their parents.

Picketing Pool

Picketing of the white swimming pool and the white youth center has been in progress for about three weeks, but no violence has been reported.

The statement said the city commission had been in constant contact with Negro leaders for about three years, and had accomplished desegregation in major fields except for the pools and youth centers.

The officials said picketing which began June 7 had increased until the arrests were made.

YUL BRYNNER

Yul Brynner Gives Up U.S. Citizenship

Washington (AP)— The State Department said Tuesday that actor Yul Brynner renounced his American citizenship last month.

The department's statement came after the 45-year-old actor said in Jerusalem that he had turned in his American passport to prevent his family from being separated in case of international crisis, but did not confirm he had renounced his citizenship.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said Brynner took an oath of renunciation of American citizenship at the U.S. embassy in Berne, Switzerland, May 28.

Brynner, born a Swiss, held dual citizenship, having been naturalized in 1947. His wife and daughter are Swiss citizens.

An Internal Revenue service spokesman said there apparently would be no change in the tax status of a person who surrenders his passport while retaining U.S. citizenship.

He noted that the treasury proposed a bill last March which would raise the tax on U.S. earnings of persons who renounce their citizenship.

LBJ Approves Shipment, Ends Egypt Food Ban

Washington (AP) — President Johnson has approved the shipment of $37 million worth of surplus food to Egypt, ending a six-month-old suspension of food aid which resulted from a series of U.S-Egyptian disputes.

A State Department spokesman, questioned about the President's decision, said Tuesday night:

"There has been a definite improvement in our relations with the United Arab Republic (Egypt) since aid was suspended six months ago."

Rebel Aid Stopped

Officials said that in mid-April the UAR stopped giving assistance to Communist-backed rebels in the Congo. The delivery of aid to the rebels was one of the reasons for U.S.-UAR friction at the end of last year.

Officials said they had also noted recent statements and actions by the Egyptian government which seemed designed to avoid adding to tensions in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

A speech by UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser on May 31 was read here as warning the Arab world against rash and provocative actions against Israel.

In addition U.S. officials said they were pleased that the UAR government has promised compensation for a U.S. Information Service library burned last November and meanwhile has provided temporary facilities rent-free.

Before Expiration

The 1962 agreement for U.S. surplus food assistance to the UAR totaled $431.8 million over a three-year period, ending this June 30. Johnson made his decision to carry out the unfulfilled portion of the agreement, therefore, just nine days before the expiration date. Officials said that he actually made the decision Monday.

Under legal requirements imposed by Congress early this year during the period of tense Washington-Cairo relations the President had to make a finding that the delivery of the surplus food would be in the interests of the United States.

Earlier there had been a movement in the House to block aid shipments to Egypt entirely. This movement arose after the burning of the library, public disclosure that Egypt was aiding the Congo rebels, and an angry speech by Nasser in which he told the United States in effect to go to hell with its aid.

AMA 'Legislative Interest' Spending Of $951,570 Told

Washington (AP)—The American Medical Association, which has opposed the administration's program for health care for older persons, reported spending $951,570 on "legislative interests" during the first three months of this year.

A spokesman said, however, that more than $900,000 of the total was spent on radio, television and newspaper advertising.

He said it was listed in the quarterly report to the clerk of the House because the advertising suggested writing letters to congressmen.

Morrison Would Base Veto On 'Mechanical Impossibility'

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Tuesday morning his intent to veto the state income tax bill when it reaches his desk.

Morrison said his veto would be based on the "mechanical impossibility" of LB797 in relation to the "historic" six-year building levy program for the University of Nebraska and state institutions enacted Tuesday by the Legislature on a 39-9 vote.

The governor's announcement came at a morning news conference called on the heels of Legislative passage of the income tax bill on a 26-23 vote.

Morrison said it is his opinion, and "that of the attorney general," that LB797 would be fatal to LB890 providing "for the proceeds of a 3.2-mill levy on property beginning in 1965 and continuing until 1971" for an estimated $68.5 million building program.

15 Years Overdue

"This building program was 15 years overdue," Morrison said. "Now I am surprised to find, notwithstanding that historic action for a building program yesterday, the Legislature has passed this morning an income tax bill which under the state constitution would mak it mechanically to collect the six-year levy for the building program."

Morrison, although a longtime foe of the broadened tax base for Nebraska, said he wouldn't veto the bill for philosophical reasons after the Legislature determined public policy and taxation.

"But, if I allowed this income tax bill to become law, there would be no administrative way to resolve the inconsistency with the six-year building levy.

"The attorney general told me this morning it would be mechanically impossible to collect the six-year levy for the building program if the income tax bill became law. I have no alternative but to veto the bill on this ground."

Administratively Handled

Morrison said while LB797 could cause some mechanical conflicts with special biennial building or program levies, "these could be administratively handled — but not the six-year levy for the building program."

The governor declined what action he might take on the income tax bill if the Legislature removed his objection involving the mechanical conflict between the two bills.

"The Legislature can take what ever action it wants to take — on either bill — and I will cross that bridge when I come to it."

In answer to a question, Morrison said he is "in favor of (Sen. Terry) Carpenter's referendum move."

Opportunity

"The people should have the opportunity to express themselves," the governor said. He declined comment on a further question whether this meant he philosophically felt people should vote directly on all taxation matters, or leave it in the hands of their elected Legislature.

Morrison said during the press conference he would immediately send the income tax bill back to the Legislature with a veto message when it reaches his desk.

Poland, Iran Trade

STUDY OF BILL URGED

. . . By Sorensen

Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen Tuesday urged Nebraskans "to take the opportunity to inform themselves on the contents" of the state income tax bill if it is enacted and submitted to a vote of the people.

"Many legislatures in the past have considered an income tax bill and other measures dealing with our tax situation.

"Interim study committees have thoroughly researched the issue.

"This Legislature has considered and reconsidered the matter and has today determined to adopt this bill. It appears likely that it would be submitted to a referendum vote, and it is my hope that all citizens of Nebraska will take the opportunity to inform themselves on the contents of the bill and its impact on Nebraska."

Gary Morey Will Study In Spain

Gary Morey, 21, of Omaha University, will leave Wednesday for Spain to study Spanish at the University of Valencia.

Formerly of Lincoln, Morey is one of 150 students chosen from the U.S. for this program, and the only one from Nebraska.

The students, sponsored by the University of San Francisco, were selected on the basis of scholarship and interest in Spanish.

Morey, who attended Lincoln Southeast, will live with a Spanish family. He plans to tour Europe after the course.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morey.

Sales-Income Tax Urged If Veto Used

The chairman of the Legislature's Revenue Committee Tuesday urged lawmakers to enact a combination sales-income tax system if the income tax bill passed Tuesday falls victim to a gubernatorial veto.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said he will actively support such a plan if Gov. Frank Morrison vetoes Lincoln Sen. Hal Bauer's LB797.

"We need an income tax to broaden our tax base, and there seems to be quite a lot of support for a sales tax," Sen. Burbach said.

The Revenue Committee Tuesday advanced to the floor a bill, LB141, which would enact a graduated state income tax pegged to the federal income tax, and Sen. Burbach said he will urge its passage along with a sales tax bill, LB563, if the Bauer income tax bill is vetoed.

"I can't buy a sales tax with LB797 because it would throw two taxes on low-income families," said the veteran Crofton lawmaker. "But I would support a combination tax tied to LB141, which is more progressive."

LB797 calls for a flat-rate tax on personal and corporate income.

Burbach also said that if the Legislature goes to a combination income-sales tax system as an alternative if LB797 is vetoed, he will suggest the new system go into effect Jan. 1, 1966. LB797 would go into effect Jan. 1, 1967.

"We've got to relieve some of the burden on property taxes as soon as possible," Sen. Burbach said.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, chief sponsor of the sales tax measure, said regardless of the fate of LB797, he will push hard for passage of his bill. He voiced support for Burbach's plan as an alternative, but said he considers LB797 the better of the two income tax bills.

Withdrew Name

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter, who originally introduced LB141 but subsequently withdrew his name from the bill, said he is undecided whether to support the measure when it comes up for first round floor debate.

Carpenter was one of the leading opponents of LB797.

"I'll have to take a hard look at the situation," he said.

Asked whether he supported Burbach's combination tax proposal, Carpenter said he would vote for a sales tax bill only if it included no exemptions.

Omaha Annexing Bill Advances

A controversial bill affecting the annexation power of the City of Omaha passed its first floor test in the Legislature Tuesday after surviving a kill attempt.

The bill, LB436, was advanced from general file on a 24-13 vote after narrowly escaping the kill attempt of Omaha Sen. George Syas on a 23-20 ballot.

The bill provides that when Omaha annexes an area which is in an adjoining county, the annexation must be approved by a majority of voters in the area being annexed.

"LB436 is a must for Sarpy County to remain an entity of government," said Papillion Sen. Dale Payne, chief sponsor of the measure.

He claimed Omaha city officials made a "gentlemen's agreement" not to annex into Sarpy County, but violated that agreement with an annexation ordinance passed last year. Determination of the legality of the annexation, which would bring a 22-square block area in Sarpy County within the corporate limits of Omaha, is now pending in court.

Payne said the 1964 annexation ordinance was passed despite an attorney general's opinion that present statutes do not give Omaha authority to annex across county lines.

He claimed the proposed annexation would entitle Omaha to 75% of Sarpy County's gas tax allocation and would result in conflicts over jurisdiction between political subdivisions and between judicial agencies.

Syas claimed LB436 would slow Omaha's growth. "If you strangle the growth of Omaha, you'll strangle the growth of Nebraska," he said.

"We're not asking for anything special," said Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver. "We just want to be left alone."

Morrison Would Base Veto On 'Mechanical Impossibility'

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Tuesday morning his intent to veto the state income tax bill when it reaches his desk.

Morrison said his veto would be based on the "mechanical impossibility" of LB797 in relation to the "historic" six-year building levy program for the University of Nebraska and state institutions enacted Tuesday by the Legislature on a 39-9 vote.

The governor's announcement came at a morning news conference called on the heels of Legislative passage of the income tax bill on a 26-23 vote.

Morrison said it is his opinion, and "that of the attorney general," that LB797 would be fatal to LB890 providing "for the proceeds of a 3.2-mill levy on property beginning in 1965 and continuing until 1971" for an estimated $68.5 million building program.

15 Years Overdue

"This building program was 15 years overdue," Morrison said. "Now I am surprised to find, notwithstanding that historic action for a building program yesterday, the Legislature has passed this morning an income tax bill which under the state constitution would mak it mechanically to collect the six-year levy for the building program."

Morrison, although a long-time foe of the broadened tax base for Nebraska, said he wouldn't veto the bill for philosophical reasons after the Legislature determined public policy and taxation.

"But, if I allowed this income tax bill to become law, there would be no administrative way to resolve the inconsistency with the six-year building levy.

"The attorney general told me this morning it would be mechanically impossible to collect the six-year levy for the building program if the income tax bill became law. I have no alternative but to veto the bill on this ground."

Administratively Handled

Morrison said while LB797 could cause some mechanical conflicts with special biennial building or program levies, "these could be administratively handled — but not the six-year levy for the building program."

The governor declined what action he might take on the income tax bill if the Legislature removed his objection involving the mechanical conflict between the two bills.

"The Legislature can take what ever action it wants to take — on either bill — and I will cross that bridge when I come to it."

In answer to a question, Morrison said he is "in favor of (Sen. Terry) Carpenter's referendum move."

Opportunity

"The people should have the opportunity to express themselves," the governor said. He declined comment on a further question whether this meant he philosophically felt people should vote directly on all taxation matters, or leave it in the hands of their elected Legislature.

Morrison said during the press conference he would immediately send the income tax bill back to the Legislature with a veto message when it reaches his desk.

STUDY OF BILL URGED

. . . By Sorensen

Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen Tuesday urged Nebraskans "to take the opportunity to inform themselves on the contents" of the state income tax bill if it is enacted and submitted to a vote of the people.

"Many legislatures in the past have considered an income tax bill and other measures dealing with our tax situation.

"Interim study committees have thoroughly researched the issue.

"This Legislature has considered and reconsidered the matter and has today determined to adopt this bill. It appears likely that it would be submitted to a referendum vote, and it is my hope that all citizens of Nebraska will take the opportunity to inform themselves on the contents of the bill and its impact on Nebraska."

Gary Morey Will Study In Spain

Gary Morey, 21, of Omaha University, will leave Wednesday for Spain to study Spanish at the University of Valencia.

Formerly of Lincoln, Morey is one of 150 students chosen from the U.S. for this program, and the only one from Nebraska.

The students, sponsored by the University of San Francisco, were selected on the basis of scholarship and interest in Spanish.

Morey, who attended Lincoln Southeast, will live with a Spanish family. He plans to tour Europe after the course.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morey.

Sales-Income Tax Urged If Veto Used

The chairman of the Legislature's Revenue Committee Tuesday urged lawmakers to enact a combination sales-income tax system if the income tax bill passed Tuesday falls victim to a gubernatorial veto.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said he will actively support such a plan if Gov. Frank Morrison vetoes Lincoln Sen. Hal Bauer's LB797.

"We need an income tax to broaden our tax base, and there seems to be quite a lot of support for a sales tax," Sen. Burbach said.

The Revenue Committee Tuesday advanced to the floor a bill, LB141, which would enact a graduated state income tax pegged to the federal income tax, and Sen Burbach said he will urge its passage along with a sales tax bill, LB563, if the Bauer income tax bill is vetoed.

"I can't buy a sales tax with LB797 because it would throw two taxes on low-income families," said the veteran Crofton lawmaker. "But I would support a combination tax tied to LB141, which is more progressive."

LB797 calls for a flat-rate tax on personal and corporate income.

Burbach also said that if the Legislature goes to a combination income-sales tax system as an alternative if B797 is vetoed, he will suggest the new system go into effect Jan. 1, 1966. LB797 would go into effect Jan. 1, 1967.

We've got to relieve some of the burden on property taxes as soon as possible," Sen. Burbach said.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, chief sponsor of the sales tax measure, said regardless of the fate of LB797, he will push hard for passage of his bill. He voiced support for Burbach's plan as an alternative but said he considers LB797 the better of the two income tax bills

Withdrew Name

Scottsbluff Sen Terry Carpenter who originally introduced LB141 but subsequently withdrew his name from the bill, said he is undecided whether to support the measure when it comes up for first round floor debate.

Carpenter was one of the leading opponents of LB797. "I'll have to take a hard look at the situation," he said.

Asked whether he supported Burbach's combination tax proposal, Carpenter said he would vote for a sales tax bill only if it included no exemptions.

Omaha Annexing Bill Advances

A controversial bill affecting the annexation power of the City of Omaha passed its first floor test in the Legislature Tuesday after surviving a kill attempt.

The bill, LB436, was advanced from general file on a 24-13 vote after narrowly escaping the kill attempt of Omaha Sen. George Syas on a 23-20 ballot.

The bill provides that when Omaha annexes an area which is in an adjoining county, the annexation must be approved by a majority of voters in the area being annexed.

"LB436 is a must for Sarpy County to remain an entity of government," said Papillion Sen. Dale Payne, chief sponsor of the measure.

He claimed Omaha city officials made a "gentlemen's agreement" not to annex into Sarpy County, but violated that agreement with an annexation ordinance passed last year. Determination of the legality of the annexation, which would bring a 22-square block area in Sarpy County within the corporate limits of Omaha, is now pending in court.

Payne said the 1964 annexation ordinance was passed despite an attorney general's opinion that present statutes do not give Omaha authority to annex across county lines.

He claimed the proposed annexation would entitle Omaha to 75% of Sarpy County's gas tax allocation and would result in conflicts over jurisdiction between political subdivisions and between judicial agencies.

Syas claimed LB436 would slow Omaha's growth. "If you strangle the growth of Omaha, you'll strangle the growth of Nebraska," he said.

"We're not asking for anything special," said Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver. "We just want to be left alone."

Lawmakers also advanced from general file LB914, authorizing the Educationl television Commission to use eminent domain power to acquire land near Angora as a site for a transmission tower.

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. How About 85 Shooters?

Much was written about how Gary Player won the U.S. Open and even Tony DeMane got considerable ink because of his 93, the highest score for one round.

But how about the 85 shooters who struggled with water hazards and other obstacles?

Roy Pace of Longview, Tex., and Bob Panasiuk, a Canadian, had their troubles with water. Pace's tee shot on the 580-yard eighth hole landed in a lagoon—just short of a bridge—about 240 yards from the tee.

Electing to play his shot out of the water, Pace managed to reach the heavy weeds at the edge of the lagoon. His third shot struck the bridge and bounced back into the water.

Pace finally reached the fairway with his seventh shot, the green with his eighth and holed out with two putts.

But Panasiuk's story is even sadder. The 24-year-old Canadian hit his tee shot onto the No. 6 green, a 198-yard par-3 hole. But his putt sailed down the slope and into the water.

Panasiuk dropped on the opposite bank and was shooting four. He tapped the ball into the water again, and then shooting six, he hit it into a bunker.

He reached the putting surface again in seven and two putted for a nine.

At Least They Remember

Tommy Bolt, who has been called Terrible-Tempered Tommy and ThunderBolt among other things because of his temper outbursts in past years on the golf course, says he doesn't mind being remembered for these flareups.

"People are quick to forget that I won the U.S. Open in 1958," he pointed out during a visit to Omaha this week. "But they'll remember me as the guy who throws his clubs.

"I don't care how they remember me as long as they remember. When people stop talking about you, then you're in trouble in this business. It's a little like Hollywood.

"Any publicity is okay whether it's good or bad. Just as long as it keeps your name before the public."

No More Club Throwing

When word got around through the trees at the Omaha Country Club that Tommy Bolt was going to invade the course for a nine-hole exhibition, you could almost see the trees begin to quiver for fear that a well-aimed club would find its way into one of their trunks.

The greens began to look for someplace to hide, lest their face be cut with a slash of a putter, and the fairways even tried to crawl a little further into the rough to get away from the ThunderBolt.

They needn't have worried. During the nine-hole exhibition with Omaha Country Club pro Bob Popp, Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson and Omaha Miracle Hills pro Lew Sheary, Bolt didn't give slightest indication that the endangered any area of the course with a club.

"I don't throw clubs any more," he says. "But I'm not ashamed of the reputation that I have gotten."

White Sox In Rut, But Lopez Hopeful

. . . IN TIGHT RACE

AL LOPEZ

Chicago (AP) — In the last month the Chicago White Sox have been in a sluggish rut, but, nonetheless, Manager Al Lopez is encouraged.

On May 18, the Sox had won nine straight games and were winging 4½ games in front in the American League.

The Sox seem to have fallen short in every department in a slump in which they won 14 and lost 16 since their victory streak.

Except for the sparkling relief pitching of Eddie Fisher, the mound corps has been below the team's usual standards. And hitting has been inadequate.

"The biggest disappointments have been the hitting of Floyd Robinson and John Romano and the pitching of Juan Pizarro and Gary Peters," said Lopez. "If these four were delivering anywhere close to their potential, we would still be in front with a pretty good lead.

"Romano has been hampered by injuries and Pizarro has had a sore arm — so neither has contributed much so far. Robby and Peters just haven't got in stride."

Robinson, who has a lifetime batting average of .301, is struggling at .245. Romano has been in only 35 games and is batting .218. Pizarro has yet to go more than five official innings in six starts and is 1-1. Peters, a 20-game winner last year, is 5-5 and finished only once in 14 starts. His ERA has zoomed to 4.00.

"But I am encouraged," said Lopez. "Despite these sub-par performances, we still are only a game out. When these four get back on the track we'll start rolling again."

Gil Hodges, skipper of the Senators, said he would stick with his pennant prediction made in spring training.

"I said then if any team dethrones the Yankees, it would be the White Sox," he said. "I haven't changed my mind.

"But now it looks like the race is really up for grabs and I don't look for some team to break it wide open. It seems a case of teams getting hot, and I think the White Sox are about due again."

LOU JOHNSON HELPS DODGERS TRIUMPH, 4-2

Los Angeles (AP)—Pinch hitter Lou Johnson, batting for the first time since he fractured his right thumb 10 days ago, drove in the tie-breaking run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning Tuesday night and the Los Angeles Dodgers went on to defeat the New York Mets 4-2.

Dennis, Brunzell Top List

Two members of the Sunday Journal and Star's All-City golf team will head the field of junior golfers bidding Thursday and Friday at Holmes Park for spots in the State Jaycees Tournament at Omaha's Chapel Hills July 12-14.

Bart Dennis and Scott Brunzell won al-city honors as teammates at Lincoln Southest and both are entered in the Lincoln Jaycees Tournament.

They, along with University High's Tim Bateman, winner of the Lincoln Junior Boys City Tournament a year ago, rate the favored roles in the 36-hole competition.

The top four finishers from a year ago are missing, having all passed the maximum age. They are Tim Nelson, who won with a 146, Galen Ullstrom, George Snider and Paul Moeller.

Moeller had to win a playoff from Bateman to earn the fourth berth in the state tournament a year ago after they had tied with 156s.

Dennis was sixth last year at 158.

State winners at Chapel Hills will qualify for the national Jaycees tournament to be held at Houston, Tex., Aug. 8-13.

A clinic for the entries will be conducted by Holmes Park pro John Young at 8 a.m. with the first golfers teeing off at 8:30 a.m.

Broyles Ponders Problems

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Broyles of Arkansas, head coach for the West in the fifth All-America football game Saturday night, had two big problems Tuesday.

Who will he start at quarterback? Who will stop the world's fastest human?

Like East Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, Broyles is loaded with top-flight quarterbacks. Tuesday, as he did Monday, Broyles alternated his signal callers—California's Craig Morton, Tulsa's Jerry Rhome and Oregon's Bob Berry.

"I have no idea right now how I will use them in the game," Broyles said.

He wondered, too, how to play Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, the Olympic sprint champion, who led one pro scout to comment:

"He'll drive them crazy." Hayes is headed for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Actually, Hayes will be covered by speedster Clancy Williams of Washington State, who said he ran the 100-yard dash in :09.6 or :09.5 when he was a sophomore. Hayes has covered the 100 in :09.1.

Williams, who said he was "going to look a little slow" covering Hayes, added: "It may be a little rough on Williams but the way I figure it, Hayes has got to slow down some time. He's got to catch the ball."

Last season, Williams stole the ball from pass-receivers three times. He carried one for a touchdown to beat Stanford.

The All-Ameica game, won twice by the East and twice by the West, will be played in War Memorial Stadium.

It will be telecast nationally by ABC starting at 8:30 p.m., EST.

Grid Hall Of Fame To Induct Luckman

Canton, Ohio (AP) — Sid Luckman, former Columbia University quarterback and Chicago Bear star, will be inducted into the Professional Football Hall of Fame here Sept. 11-12.

Lou Little, Luckman's former coach, said Tuesday he will take part in the ceremonies. Little, who retired in 1956, coached at Columbia for 27 years.

—STILL STANDS TO COLLECT $500,000—

Player Will Donate Purse To Charity

St. Louis (AP)—Gary Player made $26,000, gave away $27,000 and stands to gain a half million.

Or a million.

Or maybe a shade more.

"It should be worth about a half million dollars this year," the chipper little South African said Tuesday following his playoff victory over Australian Kel Nagle in the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"By next year, it may reach a million.

"At least it had better. I'm counting on it."

Then, in a playful mood, he reeled off a string of his favorite stories about how tight-fisted he is.

"I've got deep pockets and short arms.

"Some golfers want to be the leading money winner. I'm the leading money saver.

"I had to borrow a coin to mark my ball on the first hole. I can't remember whether I gave it back."

Those stories came on top of his announcement Monday that he was donating $20,000 to the U.S. Golf Association, $5,000 to cancer research and giving another $2,000 to his caddy. His purse was $26,000.

Later, however, the black-clad little man with the deft, sure touch, said the fringe benefits would make him financially independent.

It will cost more to get him on television. It will cost more for his endorsements. It will cost more for his exhibition appearances.

"It will enable me to spend more time with my family," Player said. "I love golf, but I love my children more. Now I can be with them and not always be rushing off to Australia, rushing off to Spain, rushing off to Mexico.

"I can pace myself more. I can pick my tournaments as Ben Hogan used to do."

He said he plans to concentrate on the major ones, and named the British and Canadian Opens, the Thunderbird, Carling, Whitemarsh, PGA and World Series of Golf.

Player's three-stroke victory made him the first foreigner to win the U.S. championship in 45 years and put him in a select group with Hogan and Gene Sarazen as the only three to make a career sweep of golf's four major trophies—the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and PGA.

He had amazingly steady rounds of 70, 70, 71, 71 over the frustrating 7,191 yards of the par 70 Bellerive Country Club course. It accomplish several things.

It restored him to full membership in golf's Big Three—a spot he was in danger of losing in the head-to-head battles between Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

It scotched the myth of Nicklaus' invincibility and impending dominance of the game and cast grave doubts on Palmer's ability to break a year-long slump. Nicklaus finished 17 strokes back and Palmer failed to make the cut.

And it proved there's a place for precision hitters among golf's power men. Player is not a long hitter. But he's a terribly careful one.

"In the United States when a boy is first learning to play golf, he learns to hit it a mile," Player said. in South Africa he learns to hit it straight.

"In the United States, on these courses, it doesn't matter. The courses favor the long hitter."

Then a pixie smile crossed his face.

CLEVELAND STREAK TO 10

Indians Move Closer To Top

. . . TWINS FALL, 5-4

Cleveland (AP)— Chuck Hinton led off the 10th inning with a home run, giving Cleveland a 5-4 victory over American League-leading Minnesota Tuesday night for its 10th straight triumph.

The victory lifted the Indians into a tie for second place with Chicago, just one-half game behind the Twins.

The Indians pulled into a tie in the eighth when rookie Duke Sims, pinch hitter for relief pitcher Sam McDowell, hit his first major league homer.

The Twins had moved ahead 4-3 in the seventh when Bernie Allen triggered a two-run rally with a leadoff double. Sandy Valdespinso's sacrifice fly and a single by Tony Oliva brought the runs across.

The Indians scored first, pushing across a run in the first on singles by Max Alvis and Hintonn around a walk to Rocky Colavito. The Twins pulled ahead 2-1 in the fifth on a double by Earl Battey, singles by Allen and pitcher Jim Kaat, a sacrifice by Zoilo Versalles and a sacrifice fly by Valdespino.

Brown Pleads Innocent

Cleveland (AP)—Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns pleaded innocent Tuesday to an assault and battery charge brought by an 18-year-old girl.

Brown asked for a jury trial, and Municipal Court Judge Hugh Brennan scheduled the case for Monday, Sept. 20, the day after the Browns open their National Football League season in Washington.

The 29-year-old fullback was in the crowded courtroom less than a minute. Neither he nor his attorney, Jerry Milano, had any comment on the charges brought by Brenda Ayres that Brown slapped her in a motel room early Sunday.

Both Brown and Miss Ayres are Negroes.

After the charge was filed Monday, Brown made his only comment:

"I am not that small that I have to beat a girl."

Miss Ayres, accompanied by her mother, was in the police prosecutor's office nearby but did not appear in the courtroom Tuesday. She said she met Brown six weeks ago and had dates with him several times.

Married since 1958, Brown is the father of 5-year-old twins, Kim and Kevin, and a son, Jim Jr., born in 1961.

Ziegler's Hitting Powers Optimists To 6-4 CLL Triumph Over Columbus

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Mickey Ziegler powered the Lincoln Optinists to a 6-4 Cornhusker Legion League victory over Columbus at Sherman Field Tuesday night, stroking a pair of triples and a single. Ziegler scored three runs himself and drove in another in four trips to the plate.

The Optimists scored single runs in each of the first three innings before a walk, followed by a wild pitch by Lincoln hurler Tom Ochsner, and two sacrifices put Columbus on the scoreboard for the first time in the fourth.

After five innings the Optimists had a 4-1 advantage over the visitors, but at that point the Columbus bats showed signs of awakening.

Optimist third sacker Paul Topliff threw wildly to first on Columbus leadoff batter Jack Baldwin's single, Baldwin took second and on the next pitch raced for third. Bryce Doebele, Optimist catcher pegged wide to Topliff and the ball sailed into left field, allowing Baldwin to score.

Ochsner gave up walks to Harry Blahak and Jerry Bock after the incident, and Columbus hurler Bob Hegi then singled Blahak home for the second run of the inning, tightening the contest at 4-3.

The Optimists put the game out of reach in the bottom of the sixth, scoring twice on only one hit. Hegi walked Steve Gage, who promptly stole second. A single by Siegler, followed closely by three Columbus miscues, brought in the two tallies.

Columbus made a last-ditch effort in the seventh, but could only come up with one run, before being blanked by the Lincoln club through the final two frames.

Eleven errors were committed in the contest, eight by the visiting Columbus tean.

Both hurlers went the distance, Ochsner getting the win, striking out eight, and walking five.

Hegi, although suffering the loss, fanned 12 Optimists, while walking only four. Both allowed seven hits.

It was the second win of the season for the Lincoln club against three losses. The loss evened Columbus' season and CLL record at 4-4.

How About 85 Shooters?

Much was written about how Gary Player won the U S Open and even Tony DeMane got considerable ink because of his 93, the highest score for one round.

But how about the 85 shooters who struggled with water hazards and other obstacles?

Roy Pace of Longview, Tex., and Bob Panasiuk, a Canadian, had their troubles with water. Pace's tee shot on the 580-yard eighth hole landed in a lagoon—just short of a bridge—about 240 yards from the tee.

Electing to play his shot out of the water, Pace managed to reach the heavy weeds at the edge of the lagoon. His third shot struck the bridge and bounced back into the water.

Pace finally reached the fairway with his seventh shot, the green with his eighth and holed out with two putts.

But Panasiuk's story is even sadder. The 24-year-old Canadian hit his tee shot onto the No. 6 green, a 198-yard par-3 hole. But his putt sailed down the slope and into the water.

Panasiuk dropped on the opposite bank and was shooting four. He tapped the ball into the water again, and then shooting six, he hit it into a bunker.

He reached the putting surface again in seven and two putted for a nine.

At Least They Remember

Tommy Bolt, who has been called Terrible-Tempered Tommy and ThunderBolt among other things because of his temper outbursts in past years on the golf course, says he doesn't mind being remembered for these flareups.

"People are quick to forget that I won the U.S. Open in 1958," he pointed out during a visit to Omaha this week. "But they'll remember me as the guy who throws his clubs.

"I don't care how they remember me as long as they remember When people stop talking about you, then you're in trouble in this business. It's a little like Hollywood.

' Any publicity is okay whether it's good or bad Just as long as it keeps your name before the public."

No More Club Throwing

When word got around through the trees at the Omaha Country Club that Tommy Bolt was going to invade the course for a nine-hole exhibition, you could almost see the trees begin to quiver for fear that a well-aimed club would find its way into one of their trunks

The greens began to look for someplace to hide, lest their face be cut with a slash of a putter, and the fairways even tried to crawl a little further into the rough to get away from the ThunderBolt.

They needn't have worried During the nine-hole exhibition with Omaha Country Club pro Bob Popp, Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson and Omaha Miracle Hills pro Lew Sheary, Bolt didn't give slightest indication that the endangered any area of the course with a club.

"I don't throw clubs any more," he says. "But I'm not ashamed of the reputation that I have gotten."

Dennis, Brunzell Top List

Two members of the Sunday Journal and Star's All-City golf team will head the field of junior golfers bidding Thursday and Friday at Holmes Park for spots in the State Jaycees Tournament at Omaha's Chapel Hills July 12-14.

Bart Dennis and Scott Brunzell won al-city honors as teammates at Lincoln Southest and both are entered in the Lincoln Jaycees Tournament.

They, along with University High's Tim Bateman, winner of the Lincoln Junior Boys City Tournament a year ago, rate the favored roles in the 36-hole competition.

The top four finishers from a year ago are missing, having all passed the maximum age. They are Tim Nelson, who won with a 146, Galen Ullstrom, George Snider and Paul Moeller.

Moeller had to win a playoff from Bateman to earn the fourth berth in the state tournament a year ago after they had tied with 156s.

Dennis was sixth last year at 158.

State winners at Chapel Hills will qualify for the national Jaycees tournament to be held at Houston, Tex., Aug 8-13.

A clinic for the entries will be conducted by Holmes Park pro John Young at 8 a.m. with the first golfers teeing off at 8·30 a m

—STILL STANDS TO COLLECT $500,000—

Player Will Donate Purse To Charity

St Louis (AP)—Gary Player made $26,000, gave away $27,000 and stands to gain a half million.

Or a million.

Or maybe a shade more

"It should be worth about a half million dollars this year," the chipper little South African said Tuesday following his playoff victory over Australian Kel Nagle in the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"By next year, it may reach a million.

"At least it had better. I'm counting on it "

Then, in a playful mood, he reeled off a string of his favorite stories about how tight-fisted he is

"I've got deep pockets and short arms.

"Some golfers want to be the leading money winner. I'm the leading money saver

"I had to borrow a coin to mark my ball on the first hole I can't remember whether I gave it back "

Those stories came on top of his announcement Monday that he was donating $20,000 to the U.S. Golf Association, $5,000 to cancer research and giving another $2,000 to his caddy. His purse was $26,000.

Later, however, the black-clad little man with the deft, sure touch, said the fringe benefits would make him financially independent

It will cost more to get him on television. It will cost more for his endorsements It will cost more for his exhibition appearances

"It will enable me to spend more time with my family," Player said. "I love golf, but I love my children more. Now I can be with them and not always be rushing off to Australia, rushing off to Spain, rushing off to Mexico.

"I can pace myself more I can pick my tournaments as Ben Hogan used to do "

He said he plans to concentrate on the major ones and named the British and Canadian Opens, the Thunderbird, Carling, Whitemarsh, PGA and World Series of Golf.

Player's three-stroke victory made him the first foreigner to win the U S. championship in 45 years and put him in a select group with Hogan and Gene Sarazen as the only three to make a career sweep of golf's four major trophies—the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and PGA.

He had amazingly steady rounds of 70, 70 71, 71 over the frustrating 7 191 yards of the par 70 Bellerive Country Club course It accomplish several things

It restored him to full membership in golf's Big Three—a spot he was in danger of losing in the head-to-head battles between Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer

It scotched the myth of Nicklaus' invincibility and impending dominance of the game and cast grave doubts on Palmer's ability to break a year-long slump. Nicklaus finished 17 strokes back and Palmer failed to make the cut.

And it proved there's a place for precision hitters among golf's power men. Player is not a long hitter. But he's a terribly careful one

'In the United States when a boy is first learning to play golf, he learns to hit it a mile," Player said. in South Africa he learns to hit it straight

"In the United States, on these courses, it doesn't matter. The courses favor the long hitter."

Then a pixie smile crossed his face

. . . IN TIGHT RACE

AL LOPEZ

Chicago (AP) — In the last month the Chicago White Sox have been in a sluggish rut, but, nonetheless, Manager Al Lopez is encouraged.

On May 18, the Sox had won nine straight games and were winging 4½ games in front in the American League.

The Sox seem to have fallen short in every department in a slump in which they won 14 and lost 16 since their victory streak.

Except for the sparkling relief pitching of Eddie Fisher, the mound corps has been below the team's usual standards. And hitting has been inadequate.

"The biggest disappointments have been the hitting of Floyd Robinson and John Romano and the pitching of Juan Pizarro and Gary Peters," said Lopez. "If these four were delivering anywhere close to their potential, we would still be in front with a pretty good lead.

"Romano has been hampered by injuries and Pizarro has had a sore arm — so neither has contributed much so far. Robby and Peters just haven't got in stride."

Robinson, who has a lifetime batting average of .301, is struggling at .245. Romano has been in only 35 games and is batting .218. Pizarro has yet to go more than five official innings in six starts and is 1-1. Peters, a 20-game winner last year, is 5-5 and finished only once in 14 starts. His ERA has zoomed to 4.00.

"But I am encouraged," said Lopez. "Despite these sub-par performances, we still are only a game out. When these four get back on the the track we'll start rolling again."

Gil Hodges, skipper of the Senators, said he would stick with his pennant prediction made in spring training.

"I said then if any team dethrones the Yankees, it would be the White Sox," he said. "I haven't changed my mind.

"But now it looks like the race is really up for grabs and I don't look for some team to break it wide open. It seems a case of teams getting hot, and I think the White Sox are about due again."

LOU JOHNSON HELPS DODGERS TRIUMPH, 4-2

Los Angeles (AP)—Pinch hitter Lou Johnson, batting for the first time since he fractured his right thumb 10 days ago, drove in the tie-breaking run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning Tuesday night and the Los Angeles Dodgers went on to defeat the New York Mets 4-2.

Broyles Ponders Problems

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Broyles of Arkansas, head coach for the West in the fifth All-America football game Saturday night, had two big problems Tuesday.

Who will he start at quarterback? Who will stop the world's fastest human?

Like East Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, Broyles is loaded with top-flight quarterbacks. Tuesday, as he did Monday, Broyles alternated his signal callers—California's Craig Morton, Tulsa's Jerry Rhome and Oregon's Bob Berry

"I have no idea right now how I will use them in the game," Broyles said.

He wondered, too, how to play Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, the Olympic sprint champion, who led one pro scout to comment:

"He'll drive them crazy." Hayes is headed for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Actually, Hayes will be covered by speedster Clancy Williams of Washington State, who said he ran the 100-yard dash in :09.6 or :09.5 when he was a sophomore. Hayes has covered the 100 in :09 1

Williams, who said he was "going to look a little slow" covering Hayes, added: "It may be a little rough on Williams but the way I figure it, Hayes has got to slow down some time. He's got to catch the ball."

Last season, Williams stole the ball from pass-receivers three times. He carried one for a touchdown to beat Stanford.

The All-Ameica game, won twice by the East and twice by the West, will be played in War Memorial Stadium.

It will be telecast nationally by ABC starting at 8:30 p.m., EST.

Ralston Hits Richardson

DENNIS RALSTON

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston pulled the bandage off his sore thumb in the second set Tuesday, then went on to fashion a straight set victory over his doubles partner, Ham Richardson, in the first round of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

The score of the exciting, though erratically played match stretching out over two days, was 15-13, 9-7, 6-2. It started Monday but was interrupted by rain with Ralston leading 7-6 in the first set. The completion Tuesday required a good two hours as intermittent showers, cold and swirling winds made good play almost impossible.

The bandage bit appeared to be a gesture to show that Ralston's right thumb, injured in a spill Friday, no longer was bothering him. The top-ranked U.S. star from Bakersfield, Calif., had his thumb encased in an elastic bandage clear up to his wrist. After removing it, he made some of his best shots. He said later the bandage interfered with his grip.

Ralston said after Monday's interruption that he was more worried about the slippery court than about his thumb, though he was glad to get the extra day's rest. The court still was slippery Tuesday and Ralston slipped and skidded around, but, usually managed to come up with the big shot.

Richardson, a member of six U.S. Davis Cup teams, is ranked No. 7 in the U.S. He had beaten Ralston in two of their last three meetings but he looked like a tired 31-year-old at the end of Tuesday's match.

The second day at Wimbledon usually is ladies day, but after defending champion Maria Bueno and Britain's Christine Truman had scored straight set victories on the grandstand courts, the men took over for unfinished business. Of the 64 men's matches scheduled Monday, only 17 had been completed before rain stopped play.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., newly-crowned U.S. inter-collegiate champion; Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio; and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., all won first round matches handily. They are ranked 3, 5, 9 and 10 in the U.S.

Trout Fishing Good At Merritt Reservoir

You can always find a little good among the bad. The Game Commission cites the surge of wet weather that has made fishing rough in some waters and even washed out trout in several Pine Ridge streams.

An exception is Merritt Reservoir near Valentine. Here rain and runoff stirred up oxygen and insects, which may account for the lively trout fishing.

Catfishing is still good in many spots. In the Lewellen area of the North Platte River it is excellent.

SOUTHEAST

Blue River (Seward County)—catfish and bullheads being caught.

Wagon Train Lake—bullheads still being taken.

Burchard Lake—bass biting.

Golf's Money Lead Belongs To Nicklaus

Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus won only $550 in the National Open, a tournament he was expected to win, but he held on to his lead Tuesday among golf's money winners.

San Jose State Teammates Head Collegiate Field

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—Terry Small of San Jose State begins defense of his national collegiate NCAA golf title Wednesday and his toughest competition may come from a teammate.

Ron Cerrudo, who shot a one-under par 71 in his first practice round over the Holton Hills Country Club course, is regarded by San Jose Coach Jerry Vroom as the tournament darkhouse.

"Cerrudo may not be well known east of the Mississippi," Vroom said. "But he was medalist in the Trans-Mississippi and a quarter-finalist in last year's National Amateur at Cleveland. Ron played No. 1 for us part of the regular season."

Small will defend his title in 72 holes of medal play over the 6,944-yard layout, which plays a par 36-36-72.

Law Hurls, Hits Pirates To 6-0 Win

San Francisco (AP)—Vern Law pitched a four-hitter and blasted a three-run homer, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 6-0 victory over San Francisco Tuesday night for his seventh straight victory.

Law, who started the season with five consecutive losses, has not been beaten since May 15.

The Giants never got more than one runner on base at any one time against the 35-year-old right-hander and were unable to advance a man past second.

Philadelphia May Receive AFL Berth

Philadelphia (AP)—The American Football League said Tuesday it will award a franchise to Philadelphia if assured the team can play in the proposed $25 million stadium.

"We want a team here starting in 1966," said Lamar Hunt, chairman of the AFL's Expansion Committee and president of the Kansas City Chiefs.

The Texjas oilman made the announcement after he and AFL Commissioner Joe Foss met with city officials for two hours.

David A. (Sonny) Werblin, owner of the New York Jets, and Ralph Wilson Jr., president of the Buffalo Bills, were the other AFL committee members present. Wilson sat in for Houston's K. S. (Bud) Adams.

"The AFL has definitely decided they want to comeinto Philadelphia—and will come into Philadelphia if they can receive assurances that the team can play in the new stadium," Hunt said.

He said the AFL is willing to share the new stadium with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, and the AFL is convinced its team could pay a rental equal to that which the Eagles have agreed to pay.

However, Jerry Wolman, owner of the Eagles, is suing the city for exclusive rights to use of the stadium in South Philadelphia for professional football.

Roberts, Fremont Split Doubleheader

Fremont — Lincoln Roberts and Fremont split a Cornhusker Legion League doubleheader here Tuesday night, with Roberts taking the opener, 2-1, and Fremont the nightcap, 1-0.

Steve Mitchell's five-hit pitching enabled Roberts to nip the league leaders in the first game. After Fremont went ahead in the third inning, Roberts tied the score in the fifth when Dick Hawley singled, stole second and third and then came home on a passed ball.

Gary Smith's club then scored the winning run in the last of the seventh. Chuck Roberts walked, reached second on a fielder's choice and scored on Tom Kos' hit.

Fremont's Jeff Draemel and Roberts' Rich Knapp engaged in a pitching battle in the nightcap, with Draemel emerging the victor on an unearned run in the fourth.

Roberts now stands 3-5 in the league and 3-7 overall. The split drops Fremont's league-leading record to 6-2.

Ralston Hits Richardson

DENNIS RALSTON

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston pulled the bandage off his sore thumb in the second set Tuesday, then went on to fashion a straight set victory over his doubles partner, Ham Richardson, in the first round of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

The score of the exciting, though erratically played match stretching out over two days, was 15-13, 9-7, 6-2. It started Monday but was interrupted by rain with Ralston leading 7-6 in the first set. The completion Tuesday required a good two hours as intermittent showers, cold and swirling winds made good play almost impossible.

The bandage bit appeared to be a gesture to show that Ralston's right thumb, injured in a spill Friday, no longer was bothering him. The top-ranked U.S. star from Bakersfield, Calif., had his thumb encased in an elastic bandage clear up to his wrist. After removing it, he made some of his best shots. He said later the bandage interfered with his grip.

Ralston said after Monday's interruption that he was more worried about the slippery court than about his thumb, though he was glad to get the extra day's rest. The court still was slippery Tuesday and Ralston slipped and skidded around, but, usually managed to come up with the big shot.

Richardson, a member of six U.S. Davis Cup teams, is ranked No. 7 in the U.S. He had beaten Ralston in two of their last three meetings but he looked like a tired 31-year-old at the end of Tuesday's match.

The second day at Wimbledon usually is ladies day, but after defending champion Maria Bueno and Britain's Christine Truman had scored straight set victories on the grandstand courts, the men took over for unfinished business. Of the 64 men's matches scheduled Monday, only 17 had been completed before rain stopped play.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., newly-crowned U.S. inter-collegiate champion; Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio; and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., all won first round matches handily. They are ranked 3, 5, 9 and 10 in the U.S.

Trout Fishing Good At Merritt Reservoir

You can always find a little good among the bad. The Game Commission cites the surge of wet weather that has made fishing rough in some waters and even washed out trout in several Pine Ridge streams.

An exception is Merritt Reservoir near Valentine. Here rain and runoff stirred up oxygen and insects, which may account for the lively trout fishing.

Catfishing is still good in many spots. In the Lewellen area of the North Platte River it is excellent.

SOUTHEAST

San Jose State Teammates Head Collegiate Field

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—Terry Small of San Jose State begins defense of his national collegiate NCAA golf title Wednesday and his toughest competition may come from a teammate.

Ron Cerrudo, who shot a one-under par 71 in his first practice round over the Holton Hills Country Club course, is regarded by San Jose Coach Jerry Vroom as the tournament darkhouse.

"Cerrudo may not be well known east of the Mississippi," Vroom said. "But he was medalist in the Trans-Mississippi and a quarter-finalist in last year's National Amateur at Cleveland. Ron played No. 1 for us part of the regular season."

Small will defend his title in 72 holes of medal play over the 6,944-yard layout, which plays a par 36-36-72.

San Francisco (AP)—Vern Law pitched a four-hitter and blasted a three-run homer, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 6-0 victory over San Francisco Tuesday night for his seventh straight victory.

Philadelphia May Receive AFL Berth

Philadelphia (AP)—The American Football League said Tuesday it will award a franchise to Philadelphia if assured the team can play in the proposed $25 million stadium.

"We want a team here starting in 1966," said Lamar Hunt, chairman of the AFL's Expansion Committee and president of the Kansas City Chiefs.

The Texjas oilman made the announcement after he and AFL Commissioner Joe Foss met with city officials for two hours.

David A (Sonny) Werblin, owner of the New York Jets, and Ralph Wilson Jr., president of the Buffalo Bills, were the other AFL committee members present. Wilson sat in for Houston's K. S. (Bud) Adams.

"The AFL has definitely decided they want to comeinto Philadelphia—and will come into Philadelphia if they can receive assurances that the team can play in the new stadium," Hunt said.

He said the AFL is willing to share the new stadium with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, and the AFL is convinced its team could pay a rental equal to that which the Eagles have agreed to pay.

However, Jerry Wolman, owner of the Eagles, is suing the city for exclusive rights to use of the stadium in South Philadelphia for professional football.

Roberts, Fremont Split Doubleheader

Fremont — Lincoln Roberts and Fremont split a Cornhusker Legion League doubleheader here Tuesday night, with Roberts taking the opener, 2-1, and Fremont the nightcap, 1-0

Steve Mitchell's five-hit pitching enabled Roberts to nip the league leaders in the first game. After Fremont went ahead in the third inning, Roberts tied the score in the fifth when Dick Hawley singled, stole second and third and then came home on a passed ball.

Gary Smith's club then scored the winning run in the last of the seventh. Chuck Roberts walked, reached second on a fielder's choice and scored on Tom Kos' hit.

Fremont's Jeff Draemel and Roberts' Rich Knapp engaged in a pitching battle in the nightcap, with Draemel emerging the victor on an unearned run in the fourth.

Roberts now stands 3-5 in the league and 3-7 overall. The split drops Fremont's league-leading record to 6-2.

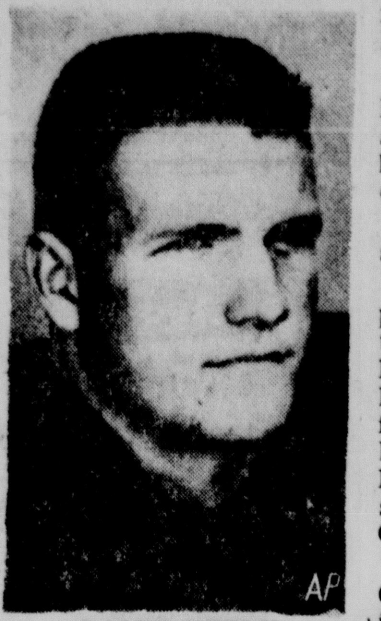
Oklahoma's Neely Headed For NFL After Judge Rules Out Oilers' Pact

. . . WILL PLAY FOR COWBOYS



RALPH NEELY

Oklahoma City (AP) — Ralph Neely was granted his wish Tuesday to play pro ball with Dallas of the National Football League when a federal judge ruled that Neely might have been morally but not legally bound by a contract with a rival league club.

Judge Stephen S. Chandler rejected a breach of contract suit brought by the Houston Oilers of the American Football League with whom Neely, star tackle with the University of Oklahoma, signed an undated contract last Dec. 1. The Oilers said they would seek a new trial.

Neely repudiated the Oiler contract Dec. 29, saying he was under the impression it wouldn't become valid until Jan. 2 following the Gator Bowl game between Oklahoma and Florida State.

Judge Chandler said he believed Oiler owner K. S. (Bud) Adams felt the contract "would have a greater moral effect on the defendant Neely than legal effect."

The 243-pound, 6-5 native of Farmington, N.M., and now a Dallas resident, was asked how he felt after completion of 1½ days of testimony.

"Better," said Neely with a big grin.

Neely and three other OU players were dropped from the squad for the Jan. 1 Gator Bowl game when it was learned they had signed professional contracts. En route home from Jacksonville, Fla., Neely stopped at Dallas and signed a contract with the Cowboys.

When he repudiated the Oiler contract, he returned a $25,000 bonus and gave up $16,000 per year for a four-year contract, and a guaranteed annual income of $5,000 from business enterprises.

Harper, James Spark Cincinnati's Sweep

Cincinnati (AP)—Tommy Harper slugged a homer in the third inning, then doubled home the tie-breaking run in the fifth as the Cincinnati Reds defeated St. Louis 4-2 and completed a sweep of a twi-night doubleheader Tuesday.

The Reds won the opener 5-4 when Charley James singled home the winning run with the bases loaded in the ninth inning.

The double victory, coupled with Milwaukee's loss to the Chicago Cubs, lifted the Reds into second place in the National League.

Los Angeles (AP)— Outfielder Al Ferrara, booked by police Sunday night on suspicion of drunken driving, was sent by the Los Angeles Dodgers to their Spokane farm club in the Pacific Coast League Tuesday.

Asked if the arrest was the reason, a spokesman for the baseball club replied:

"Partly that and partly his .179 batting average."

Richardson Helps Yankees Get Split

New York (AP)— Bobby Richardson's run-scoring single capped a two-run seventh inning rally and Tom Tresh homered in the eighth, carrying the New York Yankees to a 4-2 victory over Kansas City and a split of their doubleheader Tuesday night.

The Athletics won the opener 6-2, Wayne Causey and Ken Harrelson pacing a 12-hit ttack against four Yankee pitchers.

New York erased a 2-1 Kansas City lead in the nightcap after right-hander Fred Talbot had allowed only four hits through the first six innings. Hector Lopez led off the seventh with a walk and Wes Stock replaced Talbot. Stock hit Ray Barker with a pitch before Phil Linz sacrificed the runners to second and third.

Oklahoma's Neely Headed For NFL After Judge Rules Out Oilers' Pact

. . . WILL PLAY FOR COWBOYS

RALPH NEELY

Oklahoma City (AP) — Ralph Neely was granted his wish Tuesday to play pro ball with Dallas of the National Football League when a federal judge ruled that Neely might have been morally but not legally bound by a contract with a rival league club.

Judge Stephen S. Chandler rejected a breach of contract suit brought by the Houston Oilers of the American Football League with whom Neely, star tackle with the University of Oklahoma, signed an undated contract last Dec. 1. The Oilers said they would seek a new trial.

Neely repudiated the Oiler contract Dec. 29, saying he was under the impression it wouldn't become valid until Jan. 2 following the Gator Bowl game between Oklahoma and Florida State.

Judge Chandler said he believed Oiler owner K. S. (Bud) Adams felt the contract "would have a greater moral effect on the defendant Neely than legal effect."

The 243-pound, 6-5 native of Farmington, N.M., and now a Dallas resident, was asked how he felt after completion of 1½ days of testimony.

"Better," said Neely with a big grin.

Neely and three other OU players were dropped from the squad for the Jan. 1 Gator Bowl game when it was learned they had signed professional contracts. En route home from Jacksonville, Fla., Neely stopped at Dallas and signed a contract with the Cowboys.

When he repudiated the Oiler contract, he returned a $25,000 bonus and gave up $16,000 per year for a four-year contract, and a guaranteed annual income of $5,000 from business enterprises.

Harper, James Spark Cincinnati's Sweep

Cincinnati (AP)—Tommy Harper slugged a homer in the third inning, then doubled home the tie-breaking run in the fifth as the Cincinnati Reds defeated St. Louis 4-2 and completed a sweep of a twi-night doubleheader Tuesday.

The Reds won the opener 5-4 when Charley James singled home the winning run with the bases loaded in the ninth inning.

The double victory, coupled with Milwaukee's loss to the Chicago Cubs, lifted the Reds into second place in the National League.

Dodger Ferrara Sent To Spokane

Los Angeles (AP)— Outfielder Al Ferrara, booked by police Sunday night on suspicion of drunken driving, was sent by the Los Angeles Dodgers to their Spokane farm club in the Pacific Coast League Tuesday.

Asked if the arrest was the reason, a spokesman for the baseball club replied:

"Partly that and partly his .179 batting average."

Houston (AP)—Richie Allen punched out a two-run single and Tony Gonzalez legged out an inside-the-park homer as the Philadelphia Phillies struck for five runs in the seventh inning and defeated Houston 7-2 Tuesday night.

Richardson Helps Yankees Get Split

New York (AP)— Bobby Richardson's run-scoring single capped a two-run seventh inning rally and Tom Tresh homered in the eighth, carrying the New York Yankees to a 4-2 victory over Kansas City and a split of their doubleheader Tuesday night.

The Athletics won the opener 6-2, Wayne Causey and Ken Harrelson pacing a 12-hit ttack against four Yankee pitchers.

New York erased a 2-1 Kansas City lead in the nightcap after right-hander Fred Talbot had allowed only four hits through the first six innings. Hector Lopez led off the seventh with a walk and Wes Stock replaced Talbot. Stock hit Ray Barker with a pitch before Phil Linz sacrificed the runners to second and third.

—DRAFT STATUS 'MISUSED'—

VFW Would Draft Student Protesters

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

A resolution urging federal legislation to draft collegiate demonstrators opposing U.S. policy in Viet Nam was adopted Tuesday by the Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW).

The resolution noted that U.S. servicemen are "dying abroad where they are engaging the Communist enemy in mortal combat while these so-called students demonstrate instead of pursuing their education."

The resolution said demonstrators were involved in a "gross misuse of their draft status" and were "un-American and un-patriotic."

Successor

Other Nebraska department officers elected include Evert Shelbourn of Lincoln, quartermaster; Joseph J. A. Sedlacek of Clarkson, judge advocate; the Rev. G. F. Duhrkop, department chaplain, and Harold Wallin of Lincoln, reelected to the finance committee.

Conventioners also selected Hastings as the site of their 1966 convention.

The VFW went on record:

—urging legislation to expand benefits to veterans of the cold war, including pensions, education, hospitalization ,rehabilitation, and others.

—urging that the U.S. vigorously insist on full penalties against the Soviet Union or any other United Nations member which does not discharge financial obligations to the U.N.

—strongly opposing any attempt to transfer any present or assign any future veterans programs to any federal agencies other than the Veterans Administration.

Golf Tourney

—approving a district golf tournament to be held once each year.

The VFW also elected new district commanders:

C. W. Anthony of Chadron, district one; James Shaw of Scottsbluff, district two; Orlen Volquardsen of Norfolk, district three; Scotty Engelman of North Platte, district four; Allen Varney of Culbertson, district five; James Pulston of Nebraska City, district six; Andrew Ludwig of Wisner, district seven; Lloyd Wyant of Aurora, district nine; Rolland Parrish of Omaha, district 10; Ray Revel of O'Neill, district 11; Leon Klanacky of Ord, district 12; Howard Olson of Nelson, district 13; Glen Hiles of Kearney, district 14; Dean Tepley of Clarkson, district 15; and Ralph E. Pool of Hebron, district 16.

May 21 Auto Crash Brings $35,000 Suit

Edna L. Wink filed a $35,000 damage suit in Lancaster District Court Tuesday against Robert C. Symanek in connection with a May 21 two-car collision.

Poverty Study Feasibility In Panhandle Area Eyed

State and regional Labor Department officials, meeting here Tuesday, agreed that inquiries should be made to determine the feasibility of a statistical research study of poverty conditions in the 11-county Panhandle area.

Melvin Breeden, of the State Labor Department, said the inquiries will be made by state division of employment officials.

Breeden said the inquiries will be made into population employment, unemployment, rates of unemployment, education levels, dropouts and possible delinquency in the area.

Recently, State Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel said that "extreme poverty pockets" exist in some areas of the Panhandle.

Breeden said the inquiries would allow Eitel to make a decision as to whether a full-fledged statistical research study should be undertaken.

Central Revenue Administration Gets First OK

The Legislature Tuesday gave 37-0 first round floor approval to a bill designed to centralize all revenue administration under the state tax commissioner.

The oft-amended measure was originally drawn to provide for creation of a new state revenue department, with the tax commissioner as executive head. However, the government committee decided to place the tax collection machinery under the tax commissioner without creating a new department.

LB172 as originally drawn was a product of an interim study headed by Hastings Sen. Richard Marvel.

The Legislature also gave general file approval to a Budget Committee bill, LB-913, which authorizes the state to purchase for resale equipment for the blind.

—DRAFT STATUS 'MISUSED'—

VFW Would Draft Student Protesters

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

A resolution urging federal legislation to draft collegiate demonstrators opposing U.S. policy in Viet Nam was adopted Tuesday by the Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW).

The resolution noted that U.S. servicemen are "dying abroad where they are engaging the Communist enemy in mortal combat while these so-called students demonstrate instead of pursuing their education."

The resolution said demonstrators were involved in a "gross misuse of their draft status" and were "un-American and un-patriotic."

Successor

Other Nebraska department officers elected include Evert Shelbourn of Lincoln, quartermaster; Joseph J. A. Sedlacek of Clarkson, judge advocate; the Rev. G. F. Duhrkop, department chaplain, and Harold Wallin of Lincoln, reelected to the finance committee.

Conventioners also selected Hastings as the site of their 1966 convention.

The VFW went on record:

—urging legislation to expand benefits to veterans of the cold war, including pensions, education, hospitalization ,rehabilitation, and others.

—urging that the U.S. vigorously insist on full penalties against the Soviet Union or any other United Nations member which does not discharge financial obligations to the U.N.

—strongly opposing any attempt to transfer any present or assign any future veterans programs to any federal agencies other than the Veterans Administration.

Golf Tourney

—approving a district golf tournament to be held once each year.

The VFW also elected new district commanders:

C. W. Anthony of Chadron, district one; James Shaw of Scottsbluff, district two; Orlen Volquardsen of Norfolk, district three; Scotty Engelman of North Platte, district four; Allen Varney of Culbertson, district five; James Pulston of Nebraska City, district six; Andrew Ludwig of Wisner, district seven; Lloyd Wyant of Aurora, district nine; Rolland Parrish of Omaha, district 10; Ray Revel of O'Neill, district 11; Leon Klanacky of Ord, district 12; Howard Olson of Nelson, district 13; Glen Hiles of Kearney, district 14; Dean Tepley of Clarkson, district 15; and Ralph E. Pool of Hebron, district 16.

The dogs are Mrs. Conklin's pets. She said the marriage was "something of an impulse."

Poverty Study Feasibility In Panhandle Area Eyed

State and regional Labor Department officials, meeting here Tuesday, agreed that inquiries should be made to determine the feasibility of a statistical research study of poverty conditions in the 11-county Panhandle area.

Melvin Breeden, of the State Labor Department, said the inquiries will be made by state division of employment officials.

Breeden said the inquiries will be made into population employment, unemployment, rates of unemployment, education levels, dropouts and possible delinquency in the area.

Recently, State Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel said that "extreme poverty pockets" exist in some areas of the Panhandle.

Breeden said the inquiries would allow Eitel to make a decision as to whether a full-fledged statistical research study should be undertaken.

Central Revenue Administration Gets First OK

The Legislature Tuesday gave 37-0 first round floor approval to a bill designed to centralize all revenue administration under the state tax commissioner.

The oft-amended measure was originally drawn to provide for creation of a new state revenue department, with the tax commissioner as executive head. However, the government committee decided to place the tax collection machinery under the tax commissioner without creating a new department.

LB172 as originally drawn was a product of an interim study headed by Hastings Sen. Richard Marvel.

The Legislature also gave general file approval to a Budget Committee bill, LB-913, which authorizes the state to purchase for resale equipment for the blind.

Palace To Royal Opera; Take It Easy With Orgy

London (AP) — Memorandum from Buckingham Palace to the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, London: Please go easy with the orgy.

The memo came from Lord Cobbold, the royal official who censors stage productions. It went to Peter Hall, director of the Royal Shakespeare Theater now taking his first hand at opera.

The orgy is the climax of the late Arnold Schoenberg's opera "Moses and Aaron."

Near-Nude Grappling

The stage directions prescribe rape, murder, suicide, with near-naked men and women grappling together, plus a series of sacrifices amid buckets of blood.

Schoenberg wanted real animals slaughtered on the stage and four naked virgins offered to the golden calf.

That wouldn't do among the nation of animal lovers. And total nudity wouldn't do for the girls of the Covent Garden Chorus. Hall reportedly has hired a squad of strippers from London night clubs to act the virgins.

'Absolutely Mum'

Asked about this, a Covent Garden spokesman said: "Absolutely no comment. We are not saying anything about the orgy."

Other people were saying plenty. One singer, who declined use of his name, said: "The whole thing is disgusting. Men and women grovel on the floor, with the men running their hands over the women's bodies."

At the office of the lord chamberlain, the royal censor, a spokesman said:

"Directions have been given for certain limitations on the orgy. It obviously requires a certain amount of careful handling."

Second Act's Climax

The opera tells of the Israelites wandering in the wilderness. The orgy comes as the climax of the second act, when Moses returns from the mountain and communing with God to find his people indulging in wild excesses as a tribute to their pagan gods.

Schoenberg, who always said the opera was unstageable, intended to write a third act but died in Los Angeles in 1951 with the work unfinished.

Hall says the first two acts are complete in themselves and make one of the few great tragedies created in our time. In previous productions the orgy has been represented stylistically, but Hall is determined to seek the greatest possible realism.

"We shall do the orgy," he said, "as tactfully as possible. "I don't want to direct the first dirty opera. But the scene must make its point."

DIGGING CAN BE TEDIOUS

Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's 21-year-old daughter, concedes that digging for Indian artifacts can get pretty tedious at times. She has been wielding a pick and shovel and hauling dirt just like other students in the University of Arizona's archaeological field school at Grasshopper, Ariz. She took time out to hold a news conference Tuesday .

Luci Wheeling Around In Speedy Sports Car

Washington (AP)—Luci Baines Johnson is wheeling around Washington and the nearby countryside in a new American-made sports car.

The rakish convertible, a green Corvette Sting Ray, was given to Luci last Friday by President and Mrs. Johnson for her graduation from the National Cathedral School for Girls and her 18th birthday, which comes on July 2.

Luci, the younger of the two Johnson daughters, has been driving herself to and from her summer job as an assistant in the offices of Dr. Robert A. Kraskin, an optometrist. She also drove to the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., during the weekend so she could salute the President on Father's Day.

Agent Companion

Sister Lynda Bird, who is out West for the summer doing archaeological work, prefers to leave the driving to someone else—normally a Secret Service agent.

Like A Tiger

The United Nations Association and THIS (The Hospitality Information Service), sponsored the outing for the 600 children.

RUBY JUDGE

Judge Louis Holland of Montague, Tex., has been appointed to take over further trial court proceedings in the Jack Ruby case. The north Texas jurist succeeds Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas, who asked to be removed from the case of the ex-strip-tease club operator who was convicted of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, President John F. Kennedy's assasin.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD BEST CAR-BUYING GUIDE

The Ohio Democrat warned the public Tuesday that some automobile dealers may try to cancel out consumer tax savings on new cars by raising prices on the so-called accessories such as power brakes, air conditioning, bucket seats and radios.

For the public benefit he inserted into the Congressional Record a 27-page list showing retail prices of such accessories, including an excise tax of eight per cent of dealer cost, on most cars sold by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler before President Johnson signed into law the $4.7 billion excise tax cut.

He advised car buyers to carry the list with them into the automobile dealer's showroom.

This was Vanik's third installment. On two occasions earlier this month, he inserted into the Congressional Record lists showing the prices paid by dealers for new cars without accessories.

Columbus Pilot Injured In Crash

Norfolk (UPI)—Juel Ray Warner, 42, of Columbus, received a wrenched back in a forced landing of a small plane 12½ miles northeast of here late Tuesday morning.

Warner told state Safety Patrolman James O'Dell th plane apparently ran low on fuel and lost power, forcing him to seek a landing spot in the hilly area. He brought the craft down on a hillside, just missing some trees, high power lines and a wide gulch.

The plane was owned by H. J. Frederickson of the Columbus airport. Warner is a pilot for the Behlen Manufacturing Co. of Columbus.

—HOUSE ACTS—

Smoking Warning Required

Washington (AP)— A bill that would require cigarette manufacturers to include on every pack a warning that smoking may be a health hazard was passed by the House Tuesday by voice vote.

The House refused, however to permit the Federal Trade Commission to require any such warning in cigarette advertising. Its bill also would ban state and local authorities from requiring any warnings.

The bill was called up unexpectedly with only a few members present. Among those absent was Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., the chief critic of the legislation.

Strong Dissent

However, a colleague, Rep. Philip Burton, D-Calif., read a strong written dissent by Moss in which he said the restriction against the FTC and local and state authorities weakened safeguards aimed at protecting public health.

The bill makes a "sacred cow" of the cigarette industry, said the Moss statement, and added:

The bill goes back to the Senate, which has passed a similar measure. The Senate fixed a three-year limit on the ban against the FTC regulating cigarette advertising. There is no time limit in the house bill.

Challenged Findings

Tobacco state congressmen took the lead in urging passage of the bill. They challenged medical findings that there is any link between cigarette smoking and cancer.

The bill provides that starting six months after enactment of the legislation each package of cigarettes sold must bear the words, printed in a color contrasting with the background "Caution Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

An attempt by Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., to have the warning include the nicotine and tar content of the cigarettes was shouted down. Fino said that without such information, ""This bill isn't worth the paper it's written on."

Oldest Member

Rep. Barratt O'Hara, at 83 the oldest member of the House, took the floor against cigarette smoking with the declaration: "Stopping is the greatest kick in the world."

O'Hara ambled down the aisle to the speaker's desk and declared — to applause: "I have not smoked a cigarette since the surgeon general spoke. I am not going to commit suicide."

He then added — to laughter: "When I was a young man anyone who smoked a cigarette was considered a queer fellow."

FDA Director Outlines Pep Pill Dangers

New York (AP)—They are called pep pills or "bennies" or "goof balls" and 8 billion or more of them are produced each year.

Half are sold illegally at high profit. Excessive use is blamed for causing accidents, tensions and anxiety after the first "lift," and they also cause addiction, Dr. Joseph F. Sadusk Jr., medical director of the Food and Drug Administration, warned Tuesday.

The pep pills, or amphetamines, are some of the drugs — not narcotics — that are causing serious addiction, illness, and sometimes death, he and other speakers told scientific sessions of the American Medical Association.

He told of one jobber who obtained 11½ million amphetamine pills from five firms within a fairly brief time. That man now is in jail, he said.

$100,000 Lawsuit Filed In Dispute Over Property

Glebe alleges that the defendant, Wilma J. Sims, leased a property from him at 746 Rose for a six-month period for total rent of $10, and in return the defendant was to make all necessary repairs t the premises including necessary replacements.

Glebe contends Mrs. Sims did not make any repairs in the six-month period and that the property is in worse condition than when she leased it; in settlement the defendant agreed to let Glebe have all the household goods on the property, according to the petition.

However, the petition states that on June 15 the defendant filed a replevin action asking that all of the furniture be returned to her, and Glebe alleges she forcibly broke into the property and took possession of the furniture.

Palace To Royal Opera; Take It Easy With Orgy

London (AP) — Memorandum from Buckingham Palace to the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, London: Please go easy with the orgy.

The memo came from Lord Cobbold, the royal official who censors stage productions. It went to Peter Hall, director of the Royal Shakespeare Theater now taking his first hand at opera.

Near-Nude Grappling

The stage directions prescribe rape, murder, suicide, with near-naked men and women grappling together, plus a series of sacrifices amid buckets of blood.

Schoenberg wanted real animals slaughtered on the stage and four naked virgins offered to the golden calf.

That wouldn't do among the nation of animal lovers. And total nudity wouldn't do for the girls of the Covent Garden Chorus. Hall reportedly has hired a squad of strippers from London night clubs to act the virgins.

'Absolutely Mum'

Asked about this, a Covent Garden spokesman said: "Absolutely no comment. We are not saying anything about the orgy."

Other people were saying plenty. One singer, who declined use of his name, said: "The whole thing is disgusting. Men and women grovel on the floor, with the men running their hands over the women's bodies."

At the office of the lord chamberlain, the royal censor, a spokesman said:

"Directions have been given for certain limitations on the orgy. It obviously requires a certain amount of careful handling."

Second Act's Climax

The opera tells of the Israelites wandering in the wilderness. The orgy comes as the climax of the second act, when Moses returns from the mountain and communing with God to find his people indulging in wild excesses as a tribute to their pagan gods.

Schoenberg, who always said the opera was unstageable, intended to write a third act but died in Los Angeles in 1951 with the work unfinished.

Hall says the first two acts are complete in themselves and make one of the few great tragedies created in our time. In previous productions the orgy has been represented stylistically, but Hall is determined to seek the greatest possible realism.

"We shall do the orgy," he said, "as tactfully as possible. "I don't want to direct the first dirty opera. But the scene must make its point."

DIGGING CAN BE TEDIOUS

Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's 21-year-old daughter, concedes that digging for Indian artifacts can get pretty tedious at times. She has been wielding a pick and shovel and hauling dirt just like other students in the University of Arizona's archaeological field school at Grasshopper, Ariz. She took time out to hold a news conference Tuesday .

Luci Wheeling Around In Speedy Sports Car

Washington (AP)—Luci Baines Johnson is wheeling around Washington and the nearby countryside in a new American-made sports car.

The rakish convertible, a green Corvette Sting Ray, was given to Luci last Friday by President and Mrs. Johnson for her graduation from the National Cathedral School for Girls and her 18th birthday, which comes on July 2.

Luci, the younger of the two Johnson daughters, has been driving herself to and from her summer job as an assistant in the offices of Dr. Robert A. Kraskin, an optometrist. She also drove to the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., during the weekend so she could salute the President on Father's Day.

Agent Companion

Sister Lynda Bird, who is out West for the summer doing archaeological work, prefers to leave the driving to someone else—normally a Secret Service agent.

Speaking of Luci's reaction to her sports car, a friend said Tuesday. "Happiness to a teen-ager is a green Sting Ray. She is enjoying it thoroughly."

Like A Tiger

Luci, dressed for the occasion in red, white and blue, rode the amusement park rides, signed autographs and ate hot dogs.

A spokesman at the amusement park said "she worked like a tiger" to help the youngsters have a good time.

The United Nations Association and THIS (The Hospitality Information Service), sponsored the outing for the 600 children.

RUBY JUDGE

Judge Louis Holland of Montague, Tex., has been appointed to take over further trial court proceedings in the Jack Ruby case. The north Texas jurist succeeds Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas, who asked to be removed from the case of the ex-strip-tease club operator who was convicted of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, President John F. Kennedy's assasin.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD BEST CAR-BUYING GUIDE

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Charles A. Vanik is out to make the Congressional Record a far more popular document than the car buyer's guide.

The Ohio Democrat warned the public Tuesday that some automobile dealers may try to cancel out consumer tax savings on new cars by raising prices on the so-called accessories such as power brakes, air conditioning, bucket seats and radios.

For the public benefit he inserted into the Congressional Record a 27-page list showing retail prices of such accessories, including an excise tax of eight per cent of dealer cost, on most cars sold by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler before President Johnson signed into law the $4.7 billion excise tax cut.

He advised car buyers to carry the list with them into the automobile dealer's showroom.

This was Vanik's third installment. On two occasions earlier this month, he inserted into the Congressional Record lists showing the prices paid by dealers for new cars without accessories.

Columbus Pilot Injured In Crash

Norfolk (UPI)—Juel Ray Warner, 42, of Columbus, received a wrenched back in a forced landing of a small plane 12½ miles northeast of here late Tuesday morning.

The plane was extensively damaged about the prop, fuselage and undercarriage.

Warner told state Safety Patrolman James O'Dell th plane apparently ran low on fuel and lost power, forcing him to seek a landing spot in the hilly area. He brought the craft down on a hillside, just missing some trees, high power lines and a wide gulch.

The plane was owned by H. J. Frederickson of the Columbus airport. Warner is a pilot for the Behlen Manufacturing Co. of Columbus.

—HOUSE ACTS—

Smoking Warning Required

Washington (AP)— A bill that would require cigarette manufacturers to include on every pack a warning that smoking may be a health hazard was passed by the House Tuesday by voice vote.

The House refused, however to permit the Federal Trade Commission to require any such warning in cigarette advertising. Its bill also would ban state and local authorities from requiring any warnings.

The bill was called up unexpectedly with only a few members present. Among those absent was Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., the chief critic of the legislation.

Strong Dissent

However, a colleague, Rep. Philip Burton, D-Calif., read a strong written dissent by Moss in which he said the restriction against the FTC and local and state authorities weakened safeguards aimed at protecting public health.

The bill makes a "sacred cow" of the cigarette industry, said the Moss statement, and added:

"We must first concern ourselves with public health and welfare, not legislate to the whims of a special interest."

The bill goes back to the Senate, which has passed a similar measure. The Senate fixed a three-year limit on the ban against the FTC regulating cigarette advertising. There is no time limit in the house bill.

Challenged Findings

Tobacco state congressmen took the lead in urging passage of the bill. They challenged medical findings that there is any link between cigarette smoking and cancer.

The bill provides that starting six months after enactment of the legislation each package of cigarettes sold must bear the words, printed in a color contrasting with the background "Caution Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

An attempt by Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., to have the warning include the nicotine and tar content of the cigarettes was shouted down. Fino said that without such information, "This bill isn't worth the paper it's written on."

Oldest Member

Rep. Barratt O'Hara, at 83 the oldest member of the House, took the floor against cigarette smoking with the declaration: "Stopping is the greatest kick in the world."

O'Hara ambled down the aisle to the speaker's desk and declared — to applause: "I have not smoked a cigarette since the surgeon general spoke. I am not going to commit suicide."

He then added — to laughter: "When I was a young man anyone who smoked a cigarette was considered a queer fellow."

FDA Director Outlines Pep Pill Dangers

New York (AP)—They are called pep pills or "bennies" or "goof balls" and 8 billion or more of them are produced each year.

There are enough to give 35 hefty doses annually to every man, woman and child in the United States.

Half are sold illegally at high profit. Excessive use is blamed for causing accidents, tensions and anxiety after the first "lift," and they also cause addiction, Dr. Joseph F. Sadusk Jr., medical director of the Food and Drug Administration, warned Tuesday.

The pep pills, or amphetamines, are some of the drugs — not narcotics — that are causing serious addiction, illness, and sometimes death, he and other speakers told scientific sessions of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Sadusk outlined ways that pep pills and other drugs can be channeled into illegal sales.

He told of one jobber who obtained 11½ million amphetamine pills from five firms within a fairly brief time. That man now is in jail, he said.

$100,000 Lawsuit Filed In Dispute Over Property

Otis Glebe filed a $100,000 suit in Lancaster District Court Tuesday in connection with an alleged breach of agreement.

Glebe alleges that the defendant, Wilma J. Sims, leased a property from him at 746 Rose for a six-month period for total rent of $10, and in return the defendant was to make all necessary repairs t the premises including necessary replacements.

Glebe contends Mrs. Sims did not make any repairs in the six-month period and that the property is in worse condition than when she leased it; in settlement the defendant agreed to let Glebe have all the household goods on the property, according to the petition.

However, the petition states that on June 15 the defendant filed a replevin action asking that all of the furniture be returned to her, and Glebe alleges she forcibly broke into the property and took possession of the furniture.

Stock Market Recovery Is Incomplete

The market was firm from the opening, and quickly began to establish a clear-cut gain. Prices improved until the final half-hour when the Dow Jones industrial average showed a rise of 4.17. Then prices of a number of key stocks were trimmed and this was immeditely reflected in the averages.

The Dow industrials kept a net gain of 1.31 at 875.43. Du Pont had a late sinking spell which left it with a loss of 2½. This and the faltering of some other key stocks were enough to blunt the advance.

Of 1,328 issues traded, 569 advanced and 480 declined. New highs for the year totaled 6 and new lows 59.

The ratio of advances to declines was one factor which some analysts wwere watching carefully. If regardless of how quiet the trading is, the advances become more numerous in relations to declines it will signal the return of confidence and may lure institutional investors back into the market, one of these experts commented.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks advanced and 4 declined while three were unchanged.

Grain Market Is Generally Weak

Chicago (AP)—Prices drifted without any significant pressure into general weakness in the grain futures market Tuesday.

Most contracts finished at or near their lows of the day on rather light trading. Speculative trade was described as rather cautious although in late transactions selling of new crop corn seemed to have met only slight resistance. Losses there ranged to nearly 2 cents a bushel.

New crop soybeans also finished with setbacks of more than a cent but they recovered slightly in the final minute or so.

At the close, soybeans were ⅜ cent a bushel higher to 1¼ lower, July $2.94-93¾; new standard wheat unchanged to ⅜ lower, July 1.38¼; corn ⅜-1¾ lower, July $1.32⅝-½; oats ¼-⅞ lower, July 67¾-⅝ cents; rye ¼-⅞ lower, July $1.14⅜.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Great Society Shouldn't Be Based On Socialist Blueprint

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Rukeyser

In facing the question, I recall that three decades ago Norman Thomas, six times Presidential candidate of the Socialist Party, wrote an article for Liberty Magazine which ran under the caption "They Stole My Platform!"

Socialism still has an unpopular connotation. Accordingly, contemporary politicians prefer to describe the trend as "a mixed economy" or a drift toward a welfare state.

A corporate chief executive, D. W. Brosnan, president, Southern Railway System, in a recent speech at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, expressed the problem in blunter words.

He remarked: "There is a choice. We must decide whether the goals we seek are best attained by relieving the individual of primary responsibility for caring for himself and his family, placing this responsibility in the hands of a big and all-powerful government. Or whether it is better to emphasize individual responsibility and minimize the role of government.

Socialism vs. Freedom

"Are we, in other words, to move in the direction of socialism, where individuals trade away most of their freedoms for cradle-to-the-grave security? Or, are we to adhere to principles where risks for the individual may be increased, but where the rewards for success are unlimited? The United States has achieved its present greatness on the latter course. We call it free enterprise. It is your hope for the future just as it has been the reliance of those who in the short span of less than 200 years in our country have made greater progress toward the future of which all men dream than have any other people in the entire history of the world."

The foregoing remarks should be appraised in the context of the recent price correction in the stock market. A competitive system—free enterprise — is not a one-way road to success without a price in effort, imagination and risk taking.

For a time, during the extended bull markets in stocks, unsophisticated persons thought that they could escape from reality by acquiring "growth" stocks. While prime selected stocks in an expanding nation do have long-term propensities for growth, the price tree does not grow uninterruptedly up to the sky.

Even in expanding America, the annals of business show that occasionally the national economy takes a step backwards before taking two steps forward. The prudent investor adjusts to this reality by seeking a balanced, not a lopsided, financial diet. Such a diet includes putting a portion of the total fund into fixed dollar commitments, such as high grade bonds, insurance contracts, and savings deposits. These constitute reserves which can be drawn upon without penalty during interludes of stock market weakness.

Price on Flexibility

It is folly for propagandists of free enterprise to ignore the price which must be paid for such flexibility. A competitive system does not make winners out of every participant. Some, when measured, are found wanting. But freedom does give hope and opportunity to those who are willing to discipline themselves to cultivate their productive skills and talents. The price of such progress is inevitable risk taking, and analytical persons know that they can't evade hazards, but they do undertake to calculate and select the risks carefully.

It is a misrepresentation to paint free enterprise as a foolproof system under which, in the late Huey Long's pompous phrase, "Every man is a king." Under competition, the differences in men are measured, and not every one reaches the top of the ladder and becomes chairman of the board.

There has been a tendency in the last three decades to provide cushions under the competitive system to lessen the harsh impact on those who are found wanting. While relief is humane, it is important to keep such benefits at a subsistence level so that the incentives for succeeding are not diluted.

In the final choice between freedom vs. regimentation, it should be spelled out that the social consequences of individual responsibility and self discipline have historically been extremely beneficial. The tested merit system gives dynamism to the national economy, and is predicated on the effort for continuous improvement.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquires from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Navy To Blow Up Obsolete Ammunition

Washington (AP)—The Navy will blow up 7,000 tons of obsolete ammunition about 1,000 feet down in the Atlantic on July 15, causing whit it called "the biggest underwater explosion yet staged, except for atomic tests."

The operation will have two purposes: It will dispose of outdated and defective ammunition and at the same time provide a source for measuring the time it takes for seismic signals to travel over great distances.

The Navy said that the big blast will be staged about 75 miles off Virginia's coast.

The Coastal Mariner, a small obsolete cargo vessel, will be loaded with the explosives. It will be scuttled and when it sinks to 1,000 feet small bombs will explode and detonate 1,000 pounds of TNT, which, in turn, will trigger the 7,000-ton charge.

Observers on a towing tug will take seismic measurements from about two miles away.

Sober Ordeal

Glasgow, Scotland (AP) — James Gallacher, 38, says he would rather have had a prison sentence than suffer through his ordeal. Repeatedly arrested for drunkenness, Gallacher was ordered to report to the police station after the bars close each night to prove his sobriety. He's been doing that for five months.

Stock Market Recovery Is Incomplete

Volume was 3.34 million shares, second only to Monday's 3.28 million as the smallest this year.

The market was firm from the opening, and quickly began to establish a clear-cut gain. Prices improved until the final half-hour when the Dow Jones industrial average showed a rise of 4.17. Then prices of a number of key stocks were trimmed and this was immediately reflected in the averages.

The Dow industrials kept a net gain of 1.31 at 875.43. Du Pont had a late sinking spell which left it with a loss of 2½. This and the faltering of some other key stocks were enough to blunt the advance.

Of 1,328 issues traded, 569 advanced and 430 declined. New highs for the year totaled 6 and new lows 59.

The ratio of advances to declines was one factor which some analysts wwere watching carefully. If regardless of how quiet the trading is, the advances become more numerous in relations to declines it will signal the return of confidence and may lure institutional investors back into the market, one of these experts commented.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks advanced and 4 declined while three were unchanged.

Ford Motor common became the most active stock, closing unchanged at 52⅞ on 84,100 shares.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 980,000 shares compraed with 1.11 million Monday.

Grain Market Is Generally Weak

Chicago (AP)—Prices drifted without any significant pressure into general weakness in the grain futures market Tuesday.

Most contracts finished at or near their lows of the day on rather light trading. Speculative trade was described as rather cautious although in late transactions selling of new crop corn seemed to have met only slight resistance. Losses there ranged to nearly 2 cents a bushel.

New crop soybeans also finished with setbacks of more than a cent but they recovered slightly in the final minute or so.

At the close, soybeans were ⅜ cent a bushel higher to 1¼ lower, July $2.94-93¾; new standard wheat unchanged to ⅜ lower, July 1.38¼; corn ⅜-1¾ lower, July $1.32⅝-½; oats ¼-⅞ lower, July 67¾-⅝ cents; rye ¼-⅞ lower, July $1.14⅝.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Great Society Shouldn't Be Based On Socialist Blueprint

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A major issue is whether the promised Great Society is to be constructed on a Socialist blueprint.

In facing the question, I recall that three decades ago Norman Thomas, six times Presidential candidate of the Socialist Party, wrote an article for Liberty Magazine which ran under the caption "They Stole My Platform!"

Rukeyser

Socialism still has an unpopular connotation. Accordingly, contemporary politicians prefer to describe the trend as "a mixed economy" or a drift toward a welfare state.

A corporate chief executive, D. W. Brosnan, president, Southern Railway System, in a recent speech at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, expressed the problem in blunter words.

He remarked: "There is a choice. We must decide whether the goals we seek are best attained by relieving the individual of primary responsibility for caring for himself and his family, placing this responsibility in the hands of a big and all-powerful government. Or whether it is better to emphasize individual responsibility and minimize the role of government.

Socialism vs. Freedom

"Are we, in other words, to move in the direction of socialism, where individuals trade away most of their freedoms for cradle-to-the-grave security? Or, are we to adhere to principles where risks for the individual may be increased, but where the rewards for success are unlimited? The United States has achieved its present greatness on the latter course. We call it free enterprise. It is your hope for the future just as it has been the reliance of those who in the short span of less than 200 years in our country have made greater progress toward the future of which all men dream than have any other people in the entire history of the world."

The foregoing remarks should be appraised in the context of the recent price correction in the stock market. A competitive system—free enterprise — is not a one-way road to success without a price in effort, imagination and risk taking.

For a time, during the extended bull markets in stocks, unsophisticated persons thought that they could escape from reality by acquiring "growth" stocks. While prime selected stocks in an expanding nation do have long-term propensities for growth, the price tree does not grow uninterruptedly up to the sky.

Even in expanding America, the annals of business show that occasionally the national economy takes a step backwards before taking two steps forward. The prudent investor adjusts to this reality by seeking a balanced, not a lopsided, financial diet. Such a diet includes putting a portion of the total fund into fixed dollar commitments, such as high grade bonds, insurance contracts, and savings deposits. These constitute reserves which can be drawn upon without penalty during interludes of stock market weakness.

Price on Flexibility

It is folly for propagandists of free enterprise to ignore the price which must be paid for such flexibility. A competitive system does not make winners out of every participant. Some, when measured, are found wanting. But freedom does give hope and opportunity to those who are willing to discipline themselves to cultivate their productive skills and talents. The price of such progress is inevitable risk taking, and analytical persons know that they can't evade hazards, but they do undertake to calculate and select the risks carefully.

It is a misrepresentation to paint free enterprise as a foolproof system under which, in the late Huey Long's pompous phrase, "Every man is a king." Under competition, the differences in men are measured, and not every one reaches the top of the ladder and becomes chairman of the board.

There has been a tendency in the last three decades to provide cushions under the competitive system to lessen the harsh impact on those who are found wanting. While relief is humane, it is important to keep such benefits at a subsistence level so that the incentives for succeeding are not diluted.

In the final choice between freedom vs. regimentation, it should be spelled out that the social consequences of individual responsibility and self discipline have historically been extremely beneficial. The tested merit system gives dynamism to the national economy, and is predicated on the effort for continuous improvement.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquires from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Navy To Blow Up Obsolete Ammunition

Washington (AP)—The Navy will blow up 7,000 tons of obsolete ammunition about 1,000 feet down in the Atlantic on July 15, causing whit it called "the biggest underwater explosion yet staged, except for atomic tests."

The operation will have two purposes: It will dispose of outdated and defective ammunition and at the same time provide a source for measuring the time it takes for seismic signals to travel over great distances.

The Navy said that the big blast will be staged about 75 miles off Virginia's coast.

The Coastal Mariner, a small obsolete cargo vessel, will be loaded with the explosives. It will be scuttled and when it sinks to 1,000 feet small bombs will explode and detonate 1,000 pounds of TNT, which, in turn, will trigger the 7,000-ton charge.

Observers on a towing tug will take seismic measurements from about two miles away.

Sober Ordeal

Glasgow, Scotland (AP) — James Gallacher, 38, says he would rather have had a prison sentence than suffer through his ordeal. Repeatedly arrested for drunkenness, Gallacher was ordered to report to the police station after the bars close each night to prove his sobriety. He's been doing that for five months.

Book Display Set

Kearney (UPI) — More than 20 book company representatives are expected to exhibit textbooks at Kearney State College on June 29 and 30. Mebers of the Nebraska Bookman's Association will set up their display in the Memorial Student Union ballroom on the two days.

Labor Target 14B Obscured In 1947 Taft-Hartley Debates

Washington (UPI) — Leaders of the labor movement once were unwilling to settle for anything less than outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. Now their top legislative goal in the most pro-labor Congress in 27 years is the mere repeal of one section of the act.

Their target is Section 14B which says that nothing in the Taft-Hartley law — which permits union shop contracts —overrides state right-to-work laws outlawing such contracts.

The labor-backed Johnson administration bill now before Congress would do more than merely repeal 14B. It contains a provision which would expressly declare state right-to-work laws invalid. Nineteen states now have such laws.

14B Ignored

A look backward at the debate on Taft-Hartley, enacted in 1947 over President Harry S. Truman's veto, shows that the controversial 14 was given scant attention.

It was written into the bill by the House Labor Committee and was barely discussed by the House itself before gaining routine approval.

There was no parallel provision in the version of the bill passed by the Senate. The Senate Labor Committee report brushed over the issue by quoting the same committee's 1935 report on the Wagner Act, then called the Magna Carta of the American labor movement.

In the 1935 report, the Senate committee said the Wagner Act did not interfere with state laws regulating closed shop and other union security agreements. The Taft Hartley law contained many amendments to the Wagner Act.

Injunction Issue

While little attention was being given to 14B, congressional debate in 1947 centered on such issues as the injunction against strikes causing national emergencies. Other major issues were the outlawing of "unfair labor practices" by unions as well as employers and reorganization of the National Labor Relations Board.

The House-Senate conferenc committee which adjusted differences between House and Senate versions of the bill accepted the House provision on state right-to-work laws. Few concessions had been made to the House in the conference committee.

When the conference committee version reached the Senate floor, it was challenged by liberal Democrats. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio replied that state right-to-work laws already were legal under the Wagner Act, passed 12 years before.

Law Ever Since

That has been the law ever since that time," he said. "It was the law of the Senate bill and, in putting in this express provision from the House bill, we in no way change the bill as passed by the Senate of the United States."

President Truman complained in his veto message that the provision "abandons the principle of uniform application of national policy under federal law."

The bill's stated policy of preserving some degree of union security," he said, "would be abdicated in all states where more restrictive policies exist . . . This is not only an invitation to the states to distort national policy as they see fit but is a complete forsaking of a long-standing constitutional principle."

Johnson For Bill

Among those voting to pass the bill over Truman's veto was Lyndon B. Johnson, who was then a Texas member of the House preparing to run for the Senate.

The first direct Senate vote on 14B came in 1949 on a bill which began as a Truman administration measure to repeal the Taft-Hartley act. The bill eventually died in the House after it was rewritten on the Senate Floor to look like Taft-Hartley.

But before the bill left the Senate, an amendment was offered to kill Section 14B. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 53 to 41 with Johnson, by then a freshman senator, voting to keep 14B in effect.

Three Train Operating Unions In Merger Talk

The trio of unions involved are the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen (OREB), the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (BLFE), and the Switchmen's Union of North America (SUNA).

In their statement, George H. Harris, H. E. Gilbert and Neil P. Speirs, presidents of the ORCB, BLFE and SUNA, respectively, said:

"It is our sincere hope that the discussions started today will mark the beginning of a new era for railroad operating employes, a beginning that will go on to achieve the ideal desired by these employes, preserving class and craft lines, for all men in the operating crafts.

"Our sole purpose in initiating this procedure is to see whether a new organization could offer a high level of representation for men in the operating crafts while achieving important economies," the statement said.

The ORCB has 20,000 members, the BLFE 64,000 and SUNA 12,000. The ORCB will celebrate its centennial in 1968. The BLFE is 92 years old and SUNA 76 years old.

Lynda Bird Uncovers Skelton

Grasshopper, Ariz. (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of the President, disclosed Tuesday she has uncovered a complete skeleton 700 years old in Arizona.

Miss Johnson told reporters that she worked tediously at helping uncover ancient Indian artifacts since joining the University of Arizona's summer archaeology students.

"The work in some stages was very tedious and we had to be careful not to scratch or damage the bones" of the skeleton, she said.

The skeleton is the first found in the area this year. The sex was undetermined.

Dr. William A. Longacre, field director of the comp located in Apache Indian country of eastern Arizona, said President Johnson's 21-year-old daughter has been work-trowel, dentist's tools and brushes.

Her two-week vacation-study visit ends Thursday whhen Lynda Bird flies on to Wyoming and, after that, Minnesota.

Miss Johnson also disclosed that the Apaches gave her a special name as an honorary member of the White Mountain Tribe, an honor bestowed during a rare ceremony last week.

"It's either Pretty Yellow Canary or Pretty Yellow Wild Canary—I'm not sure," Lynda Bird told reporters. She said she prefers the former, adding:

"I'm not so wild about that wild part."

Good Landing

Shannon, Ireland (UPI)—An Irish Airlines jetliner with 149 persons aboard which "left some rubber" on the runway while taking off in New York, made a perfect landing here.

French Ban Air Traffic Over Pacific Islands

Paris (AP)—France Tuesday issued a decree forbidding airplanes to fly over Mururoa, Fangatofa and Hao, French Polynesian islands where France intends to test its hydrogen bomb. The ban is effective Tuesday.

French authorities have said recently that work on the hydrogen bomb project is progressing according to schedule. Although the schedule has never been published it has been assumed that the first test is still at least several months off. The overflight ban may indicate the test is closer.

Germans Escape Off Red Liner

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—The Interior ministry announced that five men and one woman dove off the East German liner "Fritz Heckert" into the chilly waters of the Baltic Sea and were picked up and taken ashore by three West German motorboats.

Meanwhile West German border police reported that six East Germans, between the ages of 17 and 46 crossed without incident into the West.

Hospital-Bound Food Trucks Guarded In Teamster Strike

Philadelphia (AP) — Police were ordered Tuesday to escort all trucks carrying food to hospitals or out of the city as a violence-marked wildcat strike of 12,000 Teamsters continued into the second day.

The walkout, defying a return-to-work court injunction and direct orders of Union President James R. Hoffa to move the trucks, plagued metropolitan Philadelphia. Tons of fruits and vegetables rotted in food warehouses and railroad cars.

"We're facing millions of dollars in losses," said Morris Fair, president of the Philadelphia Fresh Food Terminal.

Police Guard

Mayor James Tate ordered the police to guard trucks leaving the food distribution center and the Pennsylvania produce terminal. He said several hundred officers will be needed to protect the movement of 250 carloads of produce.

Police began their escort duties Tuesday night, accompanying trucks from the sprawling food center. Several persons were arrested near the center but operations there were not interrupted. Those arrested were charged with contempt of court and disorderly conduct.

Common Pleas Judge Leo Weinrott, who issued a temporary injunction Monday, issued subpoenas for 17 officers and business agents of Teamsters Local 107. They'll get a hearing Wednesday on contempt of court charges.

Weinrott said, "The rule of law is going to be maintained" in Philadelphia and added, "There will be no anarchy here.

Weinrott also directed the sheriff to "use all necessary resources" to break up bands of pickets interfering with trucks rolling into Philadelphia.

Expresses Concern

"This is their job," the judge replied. "If they can't cope with it, it can be taken up with the governor in terms of state police and the National Guard."

More than 300 incidents have kept police busy day and night. Violence included assaults on drivers and damage to trucks, and deliberate traffic jams.

Walsh Tells Necessity Of Sea Study

Over 600 attended the University of Nebraska's first World Affairs Previews, summer session, featuring Lt. Commander Don Walsh, pilot of the U.S. Navy's bathyscape "Trieste."

Commander Walsh, veteran of many deep sea dives, especially the important and record-breaking 7-mile descent into the Challanger Deep in the Marianna Trench, told his audience the necessity of developing the science of oceanography.

Walsh, winner of the Legion of Merit, presented by President Dwight Eisenhower, presented a one hour pictorial presentation of "The Challenge of the Seven Seas."

He pointed out the need for understanding the ocean world in terms of:

—protein food resources for starving millions.

Labor Target 14B Obscured In 1947 Taft-Hartley Debates

Washington (UPI) — Leaders of the labor movement once were unwilling to settle for anything less than outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. Now their top legislative goal in the most prolabor Congress in 27 years is the mere repeal of one section of the act.

Their target is Section 14B which says that nothing in the Taft-Hartley law — which permits union shop contracts —overrides state right-to-work laws outlawing such contracts.

The labor-backed Johnson administration bill now before Congress would do more than merely repeal 14B. It contains a provision which would expressly declare state right-to-work laws invalid. Nineteen states now have such laws.

14B Ignored

A look backward at the debate on Taft-Hartley, enacted in 1947 over President Harry S. Truman's veto, shows that the controversial 14 was given scant attention.

It was written into the bill by the House Labor Committee and was barely discussed by the House itself before gaining routine approval.

There was no parallel provision in the version of the bill passed by the Senate. The Senate Labor Committee report brushed over the issue by quoting the same committee's 1935 report on the Wagner Act, then called the Magna Carta of the American labor movement.

In the 1935 report, the Senate committee said the Wagner Act did not interfere with state laws regulating closed shop and other union security agreements. The Taft Hartley law contained many amendments to the Wagner Act.

Injunction Issue

While little attention was being given to 14B, congressional debate in 1947 centered on such issues as the injunction against strikes causing national emergencies. Other major issues were the outlawing of "unfair labor practices" by unions as well as employers and reorganization of the National Labor Relations Board.

The House-Senate conferenc committee which adjusted differences between House and Senate versions of the bill accepted the House provision on state right-to-work laws. Few concessions had been made to the House in the conference committee.

When the conference committee version reached the Senate floor, it was challenged by liberal Democrats. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio replied that state right-to-work laws already were legal under the Wagner Act, passed 12 years before.

Law Ever Since

That has been the law ever since that time," he said. "It was the law of the Senate bill and, in putting in this express provision from the House bill, we in no way change the bill as passed by the Senate of the United States."

President Truman complained in his veto message that the provision "abandons the principle of uniform application of national policy under federal law."

The bill's stated policy of preserving some degree of union security," he said, "would be abdicated in all states where more restrictive policies exist . . . This is not only an invitation to the states to distort national policy as they see fit but is a complete forsaking of a long-standing constitutional principle."

Johnson For Bill

Among those voting to pass the bill over Truman's veto was Lyndon B. Johnson, who was then a Texas member of the House preparing to run for the Senate.

The first direct Senate vote on 14B came in 1949 on a bill which began as a Truman administration measure to repeal the Taft-Hartley act. The bill eventually died in the House after it was rewritten on the Senate Floor to look like Taft-Hartley..

But before the bill left the Senate, an amendment was offered to kill Section 14B. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 53 to 41 with Johnson, by then a freshman senator, voting to keep 14B in effect.

Three Train Operating Unions In Merger Talk

Chicago (UPI) — Three railroad operating unions Tuesday began merger talks, they announced in a joint statement.

The trio of unions involved are the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen (OREB), the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (BLFE), and the Switchmen's Union of North America (SUNA).

In their statement, George H. Harris, H. E. Gilbert and Neil P. Speirs, presidents of the ORCB, BLFE and SUNA, respectively, said:

"It is our sincere hope that the discussions started today will mark the beginning of a new era for railroad operating employes, a beginning that will go on to achieve the ideal desired by these employes, preserving class and craft lines, for all men in the operating crafts.

"Our sole purpose in initiating this procedure is to see whether a new organization could offer a high level of representation for men in the operating crafts while achieving important economies," the statement said.

The ORCB has 20,000 members, the BLFE 64,000 and SUNA 12,000. The ORCB will celebrate its centennial in 1968. The BLFE is 92 years old and SUNA 76 years old.

Lynda Bird Uncovers Skelton

Grasshopper, Ariz. (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of the President, disclosed Tuesday she has uncovered a complete skeleton 700 years old in Arizona.

Miss Johnson told reporters that she worked tediously at helping uncover ancient Indian artifacts since joining the University of Arizona's summer archaeology students.

"The work in some stages was very tedious and we had to be careful not to scratch or damage the bones" of the skeleton, she said.

The skeleton is the first found in the area this year. The sex was undetermined.

Dr. William A. Longacre, field director of the comp located in Apache Indian country of eastern Arizona, said President Johnson's 21-year-old daughter has been work-trowel, dentist's tools and brushes.

Her two-week vacation-study visit ends Thursday whhen Lynda Bird flies on to Wyoming and, after that, Minnesota.

Miss Johnson also disclosed that the Apaches gave her a special name as an honorary member of the White Mountain Tribe, an honor bestowed during a rare ceremony last week.

"It's either Pretty Yellow Canary or Pretty Yellow Wild Canary—I'm not sure," Lynda Bird told reporters. She said she prefers the former, adding:

"I'm not so wild about that wild part."

Good Landing

Shannon, Ireland (UPI)—An Irish Airlines jetliner with 149 persons aboard which "left some rubber" on the runway while taking off in New York, made a perfect landing here.

French Ban Air Traffic Over Pacific Islands

Paris (AP)—France Tuesday issued a decree forbidding airplanes to fly over Mururoa, Fangatofa and Hao, French Polynesian islands where France intends to test its hydrogen bomb. The ban is effective Tuesday.

French authorities have said recently that work on the hydrogen bomb project is progressing according to schedule. Although the schedule has never been published it has been assumed that the first test is still at least several months off. The overflight ban may indicate the test is closer.

Germans Escape Off Red Liner

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—The Interior ministry announced that five men and one woman dove off the East German liner "Fritz Heckert" into the chilly waters of the Baltic Sea and were picked up and taken ashore by three West German motorboats.

Meanwhile West German border police reported that six East Germans, between the ages of 17 and 46 crossed without incident into the West.

Hospital-Bound Food Trucks Guarded In Teamster Strike

Philadelphia (AP) — Police were ordered Tuesday to escort all trucks carrying food to hospitals or out of the city as a violence-marked wildcat strike of 12,000 Teamsters continued into the second day.

The walkout, defying a return-to-work court injunction and direct orders of Union President James R. Hoffa to move the trucks, plagued metropolitan Philadelphia. Tons of fruits and vegetables rotted in food warehouses and railroad cars.

"We're facing millions of dollars in losses," said Morris Fair, president of the Philadelphia Fresh Food Terminal.

Police Guard

Mayor James Tate ordered the police to guard trucks leaving the food distribution center and the Pennsylvania produce terminal. He said several hundred officers will be needed to protect the movement of 250 carloads of produce.

Police began their escort duties Tuesday night, accompanying trucks from the sprawling food center. Several persons were arrested near the center but operations there were not interrupted. Those arrested were charged with contempt of court and disorderly conduct.

Earlier Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary canceled all days off for patrolmen and police were put on a 12-hour-a-day emergency work schedule.

Common Pleas Judge Leo Weinrott, who issued a temporary injunction Monday, issued subpoenas for 17 officers and business agents of Teamsters Local 107. They'll get a hearing Wednesday on contempt of court charges.

The judge acted on petitions by three trucking associations representing some 1,000 firms holding contracts with Local 107.

Weinrott said, "The rule of law is going to be maintained" in Philadelphia and added, "There will be no anarchy here.

Weinrott also directed the sheriff to "use all necessary resources" to break up bands of pickets interfering with trucks rolling into Philadelphia.

Expresses Concern

Attorney M. Kalman Gitemer, representing the food truckers, expressed concern whether the police could handle the strikers.

"This is their job," the judge replied. "If they can't cope with it, it can be taken up with the governor in terms of state police and the National Guard."

More than 300 incidents have kept police busy day and night. Violence included assaults on drivers and damage to trucks, and deliberate traffic jams.

Walsh Tells Necessity Of Sea Study

Over 600 attended the University of Nebraska's first World Affairs Previews, summer session, featuring Lt. Commander Don Walsh, pilot of the U.S. Navy's bathyscape "Trieste."

Commander Walsh, veteran of many deep sea dives, especially the important and record-breaking 7-mile descent into the Challanger Deep in the Marianna Trench, told his audience the necessity of developing the science of oceanography.

Walsh, winner of the Legion of Merit, presented by President Dwight Eisenhower, presented a one hour pictorial presentation of "The Challenge of the Seven Seas."

He pointed out the need for understanding the ocean world in terms of:

—protein food resources for starving millions.

—world waterways being the vehicle for 98% of world trade.

Sens. Carstens, Paxton Cite Reasons For Deciding Votes

Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice said he voted for LB797 mainly because he is sure it will be submitted to a vote of the people next fall.

Sen. Chester Paxton of Thedford said he supported the legislation because he represents a rural district which would benefit from an income tax.

Carstens and Paxton had remained stoutly uncommitted on the bill throughout its consideration in the Legislature. Both sides claimed at different times that they had their support.

Final Judges

Carstens, an attorney, said the income tax "comes up every session and every legislator has to battle with it every two years. It is time the people expressed themselves on what they want done. They're the final judges."

Paxton, a rancher, said: "In my campaign for the Legislature I stated many times that I would not vote to increase the property tax. That if more money must be raised for state government, we must get it from some other source.

"Since we have obligated ourselves for additional expenditures of around 50%, I must vote for another source of revenue. The sales tax doesn't appear acceptable so the only thing left for me was to vote for LB797."

Less Than Enthusiastic

Personally, Paxton said he was "less than enthusiastic about LB797 . . . but property is carrying too heavy a tax burden at present."

Carstens said the possibility of state financial aid to local public school districts also determined his vote.

"I am confident a sincere effort will be made to pass LB341, which provides that some of the revenue from an income tax go back to school districts," he said.

The bill would repeal the Duis amendment, which prohibits the state from levying a property tax once an income or sales tax is enacted. Voters would have to approve the change.

Carstens said the "real tax burden" in Nebraska is at the local level. State aid to schools, he added, would help the situation.

Eitel Asks State Jobs For Youths

State Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel announced Tuesday that as chairman of the Governor's Youth Opportunity Committee he is asking all state department heads to join forces this summer in an investment in the nation's youth.

In a letter to state administrators, Eitel asked them to consider taking on one or more extra trainees this summer.

The commissioner cautioned the department heads that the campaign is in no way intended to displace any workers presently employed.

Eitel said the campaign has received outstanding acceptance by private employers with over 1,500 job opportunities made available for youth in Nebraska during the first week, but he said a June 1 estimate of youths seeking summer jobs in Nebraska is 21,500.

"For some of these young people finding summer employment will determine whether or not they will be able to return to school," he said.
